

NLN Pharmacology Study Guide

There is no official study guide for the NLN Pharmacology Exam. This guide is not meant to be all-inclusive of the information you will need to know to successfully pass the NLN Pharmacology exam. You should utilize other resources as necessary to prepare for the exam. Please note that after taking the exam, NLN provides access to review resources on-line.

The test is composed of 100 scored questions plus some trial questions (about 25). You will not know which are which. All are multiple choice questions, including calculations.

Content is divided in three areas on the exam: calculations, principles of medication administration and medication effects. They are pretty evenly divided. The questions are very similar to the NCLEX questions. You should also use traditional NCLEX test-taking tips to prepare for this exam also.

Calculations

Please remember this is about 1/3 of the pharmacology exam. It may be beneficial for you to practice calculations and/or review a nursing math book to help prep. You may not have used all the calculation methods recently. Questions may include one or more type of calculation.

Tips:

1. READ CAREFULLY. Always be sure you know what the end result should be (mg, pills, ml, etc.). This can help you select the correct formula and eliminate unnecessary information.
2. Double (and triple) check actual math. Did you clear the calculator correctly?
3. Does the answer make sense?
4. There are both adult and pediatric calculations.
5. Watch 'per dose', 'per day'.
6. How you calculate the answer does not matter (desired over have, ratio : proportion, etc.); accuracy does.
