Modern China Bruce A. Elleman, S. C. M. Paine, 2010 This text uses a comparative approach to bridge the cultural divide separating Chinese history from Western readers trying to understand it It compares the embedded assumptions patterns of analysis and primary values that distinguish these two great civilizations Modern China Bruce A. Elleman, S. C. M. Paine, 2019-02-18 Now in a fully updated edition this accessible text provides a balanced history of modern China in a global context Through years of living and research in China Taiwan Japan and Russia the authors are deeply qualified to understand China's internal dynamics as well as its foreign relations over centuries Arguing that modern Chinese history cannot be understood without a deep appreciation of the outside factors that have influenced the country the authors focus on China's near neighbors especially Japan and Russia They also emphasize the tragic role of almost endless warfare throughout Chinese history Providing a unique comparative approach the authors bridge the cultural divide separating Chinese history from Western readers trying to understand it Specifically geared to the teaching requirements of the semester system the book is divided into four parts and a total of twenty eight chapters corresponding either to two chapters per week in a fourteen week semester or one chapter per week in a two semester course The Gunpowder Age Tonio Andrade, 2017-08-29 A first look at gunpowder's revolutionary impact on China's role in global history The Chinese invented gunpowder and began exploring its military uses as early as the 900s four centuries before the technology passed to the West But by the early 1800s China had fallen so far behind the West in gunpowder warfare that it was easily defeated by Britain in the Opium War of 1839-42 What happened In The Gunpowder Age Tonio Andrade offers a compelling new answer opening a fresh perspective on a key question of world history why did the countries of western Europe surge to global importance starting in the 1500s while China slipped behind Historians have long argued that gunpowder weapons helped Europeans establish global hegemony Yet the inhabitants of what is today China not only invented guns and bombs but also as Andrade shows continued to innovate in gunpowder technology through the early 1700s much longer than previously thought Why then did China become so vulnerable Andrade argues that one significant reason is that it was out of practice fighting wars having enjoyed nearly a century of relative peace since 1760 Indeed he demonstrates that China like Europe was a powerful military innovator particularly during times of great warfare such as the violent century starting after the Opium War when the Chinese once again quickly modernized their forces Today China is simply returning to its old position as one of the world's great military powers By showing that China's military dynamism was deeper longer lasting and more quickly recovered than previously understood The Gunpowder Age challenges long standing explanations of the so called Great Divergence between the West and Asia China's Diplomacy over the Northeast Question Ideologies, Thoughts and Values, 1858 - 1919 Xichao Yu, 2024 This book explores the formation of modern Chinese diplomacy by examining how classical Chinese philosophy influenced diplomatic responses to foreign encroachments in Northeast China or Manchuria during the historical period from the signing of the Treaty of Aigun in 1858 to China's participation in the Paris Peace Conference in 1919. Drawing primarily on Qing dynasty and Beiyang government diplomatic archives and classical Chinese historiography, it highlights the role of Confucian based principles in shaping the diplomatic thinking of the Qing dynasty and Beiyang governments. Through a top down state centric analysis, the research suggests that these traditional Chinese cultural values provided a distinct intellectual and theoretical framework for modern Chinese leaders guiding diplomatic decisions amid foreign incursions and modernisation pressures. It underscores the lasting impact of China's traditional cultural knowledge on its diplomatic evolution, particularly in resolving the so called Northeast Question. The Japanese Empire S. C. M. Paine, 2017-03-06

The Japanese experience of war from the late nineteenth to the mid twentieth century presents a stunning example of the meteoric rise and shattering fall of a great power. As Japan modernized and became the one non European great power, its leaders concluded that an empire on the Asian mainland required the containment of Russia. Japan won the First Sino Japanese War 1894-5 and the Russo Japanese War 1904-5 but became overextended in the Second Sino Japanese War 1931-45, which escalated with profound consequences into World War II. A combination of incomplete institution building, an increasingly lethal international environment, a skewed balance between civil and military authority, and a misunderstanding of geopolitics explains these divergent outcomes. This analytical survey examines themes including the development of Japanese institutions, diversity of opinion within the government, domestic politics, Japanese foreign policy, and China's anti Japanese responses. It is an essential guide for those interested in history, politics, and international relations.

US-China Naval Co-operation Against the Soviet Union Bruce A. Elleman, 2025-07-25. This book discusses the key role of the transfer of naval technology from the U.S. to China in building up the Chinese Navy during the Cold War. Revealing how this process began in the late 1970s under the Carter Administration when Deng Xiaoping was newly in power, and how it accelerated under both the Reagan and Bush administrations, moving from the transfer of simple technology to entire naval systems, the book highlights how the policy was successful in helping make China a serious threat to the Soviet Union and how it thereby contributed to the collapse of the Soviet Union and the end of the Cold War. The book also demonstrates how this same policy also enabled China, now with the world's largest navy, to become much more assertive in East Asia, more widely resulting in the U.S. reversing its technology transfer policy following the Tiananmen Square massacre and in China turning to Russia and other former Soviet countries, including Ukraine, for the supply of Soviet era equipment. Utilising disclosed and formerly secret documents, this book will be a valuable resource to both students and scholars of international relations, security studies, and naval studies, particularly in relation to Chinese U.S./USSR relations during the Cold War.

International Rivalry and Secret Diplomacy in East Asia, 1896-1950 Bruce Elleman, 2019-08-30. East Asia was a major focus of struggle between the United States and the Soviet Union during the Cold War of 1945 to 1991, with multiple hot and cold conflicts in China, Korea, and Vietnam. The struggle for predominance in East Asia, however, largely predated the Cold War as this book shows with many examples of the United States and Russia the Soviet Union working to exercise and increase control in the region The book focuses on secret treaties 26 of them signed from the mid 1890s through 1950 when secret agreements between China and the USSR including several concerning the Chinese Eastern Railway gave Russia greater control over Manchuria and Outer Mongolia One of the most important was negotiated in 1945 when Stalin signed the Sino Soviet Friendship Treaty with Chiang Kai shek and the Chinese Nationalists that included a secret protocol granting the Soviet Navy sea control over the Manchurian littorals This secret protocol excluded the US Navy from landing Nationalist troops at the major Manchurian ports thereby guaranteeing the Chinese Communist victory in Northeast China from Manchuria the Chinese Communists quickly spread south to take all of Mainland China To a large degree therefore this formerly undiscussed secret diplomacy set the underlying conditions for the Cold War in East Asia

High Seas Buffer

Bruce A. Elleman,2012 Following its defeat on the mainland in 1949 the Nationalist government retreated to Taiwan Although the Nationalist navy was comparatively large to many it seemed almost certain that the People s Republic of China PRC would attack and take Taiwan perhaps as early as summer 1950 The Korean War began on 25 June 1950 however and the possibility of a PRC invasion of Taiwan was countered when on 27 June President Harry S Truman ordered the Seventh Fleet to neutralize the Taiwan Strait Mao Zedong at first postponed and eventually canceled altogether his planned invasion of Taiwan The U S Navy s Taiwan Patrol Force operation lasted from summer 1950 until at least 1979 arguably even sporadically after that date Lasting twenty nine years the Taiwan Patrol Force was one of the longest naval operations in modern history It was also one of the most successful since as the most obvious symbol of American power it ensured that friction over the Taiwan Strait did not escalate into a full blown war In fact the Taiwan Patrol Force did its job so well that virtually nothing has been written about it U S Navy ships acted both as a buffer between the two antagonists and as a trip wire in case of aggression The force fulfilled the latter function twice in the 1950s during the first 1954 55 and second 1958 Taiwan Strait crises and a third time in the next decade 1962 at which point additional U S Navy vessels were called in to assist Even after the Taiwan Patrol Force was terminated in 1979 it continued in spirit as shown by a fourth Taiwan Strait crisis During the PRC missile tests of 1995 96 two U S aircraft carriers were deployed to the area and in 2001 during the ten days of negotiations over the EP 3 incident of 1 April a carrier was almost sent As recently as 2009 when maritime tensions between an American survey ship and Chinese vessels threatened to escalate into a larger conflict a U S Navy destroyer was sent to the scene Thus the patrolling functions that began in 1950 have continued largely unchanged to this day as U S Navy vessels act to influence China s military economic and political relations with its maritime neighbors
