Prostitutionsgesetz News:

Prostitution in the Community Sarah Kingston, 2013-10-15 Prostitution often causes significant anxiety for communities. These communities have been known to campaign against its presence in their neighbourhoods seeking the removal of street sex workers and their male clients. Although research and literature has begun to explore prostitution from the standpoint of the community, there is no comprehensive text which brings together some of the current literature in this area. This book aspires to cast light on some of this work by exploring the nature, extent and visibility of prostitution in residential communities and business areas, considering the legal and social context in which it is situated and the community responses of those who live and work in areas of sex work. This book aims to examine current literature on the impacts of prostitution in residential areas and considers how different policy approaches employed by the police and local authorities have mediated and shaped the nature of sex work in different communities. It explores what communities think about prostitution and those involved, as well as studies the techniques and strategies communities have utilized to take action against prostitution in their neighbourhoods. This book will also demonstrate the diversity of public attitudes, action and reaction to prostitution in the community. This book is a useful contribution for academics and researchers in the fields of Criminology and Sociology who wish to understand current policy initiatives surrounding the issue of prostitution in local, national and international community settings.

China, Sex and Prostitution Elaine Jeffreys, 2004-02-24 China Sex and Prostitution is a topical and important critique of recent scholarship in China studies concerning sexuality, prostitution and policing. Jeffrey's arguments are constructed in the form of detailed analysis of a wide range of primary texts including documents, press reports, police report and policy and legal pronouncements and secondary literature in both English and Chinese. The work engages with some key debates in the fields of cultural and gender studies and will be welcomed by scholars in these areas as well as by China specialists, sociologists and anthropologists.

Global Perspectives on Prostitution and Sex Trafficking Rochelle L. Dalla, Lynda M. Baker, John DeFrain, Celia Williamson, 2011-04-08 This book is part of a two volume set that examines prostitution and sex trafficking on a global scale, with each chapter devoted to a particular country in one of seven geo-cultural areas of the world. The 18 chapters in this volume, Volume I, are devoted to examination of the commercial sex industry (CSI) in countries within Africa, Asia, Middle East and Oceania, while the 16 chapters that comprise Volume II focus exclusively on Europe, Latin America and North America. Volume II also includes a global section which includes chapters that are globally relevant rather than those devoted to a particular country or geographic location. The content of each volume as well as each chapter reflects great diversity in focus, writing style and personal position regarding the commercial sex industry. Diversity extends to the contributors who are comprised of international scholars, service providers and policy advocates representing a variety of fields and disciplines with distinct and varied frames of reference and theoretical underpinnings with regard to the commercial sex industry. In addition to addressing aspects of the CSI across the globe as impacted by geography and culture authors have also provided a spectrum of implications of their work implications ranging from continued scholarship and research to legislative maneuvers and policy change to suggestions for collaboration across NGOS fieldworkers clinicians and service providers Together the 34 expertly crafted chapters provide a wealth of knowledge from which to more deeply appreciate and contemplate the global commercial sex industry By uniting contributors from around the world this book aims to build a relatively common knowledge base on global prostitution and sex trafficking

Prostitution, Polygamy, and Power Jeffrey D. Nichols, 2002 The controversy waned when the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter day Saints began to move away from polygamy in the 1890s but resurfaced with the rise of the anti Mormon American Party that sponsored the Stockade prostitution district Nichols traces the interplay of prostitution and reform through World War I when Mormon and gentile moral codes converged at the expense of prostitutes He also considers how polygamy and religious conflict distinguished Salt Lake City from other cities struggling to abolish prostitution in the Progressive Era Jacket

Prostitution Research in Context Marlene Spanger, May-Len Skilbrei, 2017-03-16 The starting point for this book is the question of how we research sex for sale and the implications of the choices we make in terms of epistemology and ethics Which dilemmas and ethical aspects need to be taken into account when producing qualitative data within a highly politicised and moral infected realm These two questions are exactly what Spanger and Skilbrei aim to unpack in this unusual interdisciplinary methodology book Prostitution Research in Context The book offers contributions from a number of scholars who based on their reflections on their own research practice and the existing knowledge field discuss ongoing methodological issues and challenges representative of international research on sex for sale Some chapters deal explicitly with methodological dilemmas in research others thematise the encounter between prostitution research and general texts on epistemology Other chapters again actively engage with the ethical dilemmas that research on the topic of sex for sale can entail The authors represent different disciplines but share an interest in engaging in reflexive research practices informed by feminism and feminist epistemologies An authoritative contribution to the field this innovative volume will appeal to international scholars and students from across the social sciences and humanities in areas such as sociology anthropology criminology media studies feminist studies human geography and history
