Rewriting Techniques and Applications Nachum Dershowitz,1989

Rewriting has always played an important role in symbolic manipulation and automated deduction systems. The theory of rewriting is an outgrowth of Combinatory Logic and the Lambda Calculus. Applications cover broad areas in automated reasoning, programming language design, semantics and implementations, and symbolic and algebraic manipulation. The proceedings of the third International Conference on Rewriting Techniques and Applications contain 34 regular papers covering many diverse aspects of rewriting, including equational logic, decidability questions, term rewriting, congruence, class rewriting, string rewriting, conditional rewriting, graph rewriting, functional and logic programming languages, lazy and parallel implementations, termination issues, compilation techniques, completion procedures, unification and matching algorithms, deductive and inductive theorem proving, Gröbner bases, and program synthesis. It also contains 12 descriptions of implemented equational reasoning systems. Anyone interested in the latest advances in this fast growing area should read this volume.

Rewriting Techniques Hassan Aït-Kaci, Maurice Nivat, 2014-05-10. Resolution of Equations in Algebraic Structures. Volume 2. Rewriting Techniques is a collection of papers dealing with the construction of canonical rewrite systems, constraint handling in logic programming, and completion algorithms for conditional rewriting systems. Papers discuss the Knuth-Bendix completion method, which constructs a complete system for a given set of equations, including extensions of the method dealing with termination, unifying completion, and associative-commutative completion. One paper examines the various practical techniques that can be used to extend Prolog as a constraint solver, particularly on techniques that solve boolean equations imposing inequality, disequality, and finitary domain constraints on variables. Another paper presents a sufficient condition for confluence of conditional rewriting and a practical unification algorithm modulo conditional rewriting through the notion of conditional narrowing. One paper analyzes the possibility of using completion for inductive proofs in the initial algebra of an equational variety without explicit induction. Another paper discusses solving systems of word equations in the free monoid and the free group, where a solution is defined as a word homomorphism. Programmers, mathematicians, students, and instructors involved in computer science and computer logic will find this collection valuable.

Rewriting Techniques and Applications Tobias Nipkow, 2006-06-08. This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 9th International Conference on Rewriting Techniques and Applications (RTA 98) held in Tsukuba, Japan, in March/April 1998. The 22 revised full papers presented were carefully selected from a total of 61 submissions by the program committee, with the assistance of 113 additional referees. The book covers all current aspects of rewriting, including rewriting systems, term rewriting, string rewriting, theorem proving, resolution, normalization, unification, equational logics, lambda calculus, constraint solving, and functional programming.

Rewriting Techniques and Applications Claude Kirchner, 2015-03-19. This volume contains the proceedings of RTA 93, the fifth International Conference on Rewriting Techniques and Applications, held in Montreal, Canada, in June 1993.
