Perry, 2000-09-01 William J Perry and Ashton B Carter two of the world's foremost defense authorities draw on their experience as leaders of the U S Defense Department to propose a new American security strategy for the twenty first century After a century in which aggression had to be defeated in two world wars and then deterred through a prolonged cold war the authors argue for a strategy centered on prevention Now that the cold war is over it is necessary to rethink the risks to U S security The A list threats to U S survival is empty today The B list the two major regional contingencies in the Persian Gulf and on the Korean peninsula that dominate Pentagon planning and budgeting pose imminent threats to U S interests but not to survival And the C list such headline grabbing places as Kosovo Bosnia Somalia Rwanda and Haiti includes important contingencies that indirectly affect U S security but do not directly threaten U S interests Thus the United States is enjoying a period of unprecedented peace and influence but foreign policy and defense leaders cannot afford to be complacent The authors preventive defense strategy concentrates on the dangers that if mismanaged have the potential to grow into true A list threats to U S survival in the next century These include Weimar Russia failure to establish a self respecting place for the new Russia in the post cold war world allowing it to descend into chaos isolation and aggression as Germany did after World War I Loose Nukes failure to reduce and secure the deadly legacy of the cold war nuclear chemical and biological weapons in Russia and the rest of the former Soviet Union A Rising China Turned Hostile failure to shape China's rise to Asian superpower status so that it emerges as a partner rather than an adversary Proliferation spread of weapons of mass destruction and Catastrophic Terrorism increase in the scope and intensity of transnational terrorism They also argue for
