Leadership through Mentoring Phyllis A. Gimbel, Peter Gow, 2021-07-10 Leadership Through Mentoring The Key to Improving the Principals Confidence and Skill lays out the case for the development of robust mentorship programs to support new school leaders With principal turnover at an all time high it is urgent that schools and districts find ways to help newly appointed leaders grow into effective supervisors managers and strategic thinkers who can also find personal and professional satisfaction in their careers Using examples from several established and successful state programs Leadership Through Mentoring shows how new school leaders effectiveness vision and engagement can be grown through intentionally designed and executed programs that offer supportive guidance and wise counsel from experienced leaders Thoughtfully created and appropriately resourced such programs can pave the way to longer and more successful principal tenures which research shows lead directly to significant improvements in schools cultures educational efficacy and teacher and student performance This is a book for leaders and governing bodies in all kinds of schools

The Challenges for New Principals in the 21st Century Bruce G. Barnett, Autumn K. Tooms, Alan R. Shoho, 2010-09-01 This book series International Research on School Leadership focuses on how present day issues affect the theory and practice of school leadership For this inaugural book we focused on the challenges facing new principals and headteachers Because the professional lives of school leaders have increasingly impinged on their personal well being and resources have continued to shrink it is important to understand how new principals or headteachers share and divide their energy ideas and time within the school day It is also important to discover ways to provide professional development and support for new principals and headteachers as they strive to lead their schools in the 21st century For these reasons this book is dedicated to exploring the rarely examined experiences of those who enter the role as new principals or headteachers By giving voice to new principals and headteachers we are able to determine what aspects of leadership preparation ring true and what aspects prove to be of little or no utility Unlike leadership texts that have focused on conceptual considerations and personal narratives from the field this book focuses on a collection of empirical efforts centered on the challenges and issues that new principals and headteachers experience during their initial and crucial years of induction We solicited and accepted manuscripts that explore the multi faceted dimensions of being a new principal or headteacher in the 21st century Our goal was to create an edited book that examines the commonalities and differences that new principals and headteachers experience from an international perspective This edited book is comprised of six chapters each of which contributes a unique perspective on the responsibilities that new principals and headteachers are experiencing at the dawn of the 21st century Understanding the Principalship Charles L. Slater, Sarah W. Nelson, 2013-05-09 This volume originates from the International Study of Principal Preparation ISPP a collaborative project representing nearly a decade of research on principal preparation in countries throughout the world The authors examine the dynamic changes that are affecting the way principals work and transforming the world of educational leaders Learning for Leadership Eleanor Drago-Severson, Jessica Blum-DeStefano, Anila Asghar, 2013-08-01 Prepare education leaders to support adult professional growth with this comprehensive guide Help foster an understanding of adult development that enables education leaders to support professional learning or build capacity across schools and districts with this one of a kind resource Based on adult developmental theory and filled with practical actionable advice as well as takeaways you ll learn to Design and implement action plans based on a learning oriented model of school leadership and capacity building Teaming Providing Leadership Roles Collegial Inquiry and Mentoring Build robust and effective professional learning initiatives that increases student achievement Help leaders bridge theory and practice with first hand case study analyses Women Interrupting, Disrupting, and Revolutionizing Educational Policy and Practice Whitney Sherman Newcomb, Katherine Cumings Mansfield, 2014-06-01 The idea for this book was born from discussions at several recent academic events including the Women Leading Education WLE International Conference in Volos Greece 2012 and the University Council for Educational Administration UCEA Conference in Pittsburgh Pennsylvania 2011 as well as from informal dialogue amongst ourselves and various colleagues both new and veteran to the field of educational leadership and in particular dedicated to the study of women in leadership At both the WLE Conference and the UCEA Conference we heard frustration from veteran women in the field that the study of women in leadership is stagnant and has not moved forward in several years with scholars new to the field continuing to write and publish work about barriers to aspiring and practicing women leaders the same types of reports that began the formal inquiry into women's lives as leaders back in the 1980s without being able to push forward with new information or ideas for change. In essence the concerns and questions that were posed from some veteran women were Why are we continuing to report the same things that we reported 30 years ago? Why are we still talking about barriers to women in leadership and Why haven't we moved past gender binaries in regard to leadership ideas and practice? Considering these questions some women new to the field countered with their own set of responses and questions that included Is it not significant to report that some women are still experiencing the same types of barriers in leadership that were highlighted 30 years ago? Is it accurate to report that all women's voices have now been heard represented and How can we report something different if it hasn't happened? The discussions that have ensued between veteran women and those new to the field inspired us to develop a book that situates women in leadership exactly where we are today and reports the status of girls who are positioned to continue the good fight that began many years ago and that both highlights the changes that have occurred and reports any stagnancy that continues to threaten women's positionality in educational leadership literature practice and policy. It forefronts the voices of women educational scholars who have and are interrupting disrupting and revolutionizing educational policy and practice. Our book reports women's leadership activities and knowledge in both the K-12 and university settings and concludes with chapters ripe with ideas for pushing for change through policy advocacy and activism. The final chapter presents themes that emerged from the individual chapters and sets forth an agenda to move forward with the study of women in leadership.
