Oklahoma is anybody's guess. My experience as an observer of the development of the patient's rights movement was that there was a coalescence of numerous forces such as the new human rights movement, the active mental health bar, and the development of neuroleptics. I therefore suspect that there are a multitude of factors contributing to the new interest in forensic psychiatry and the elevation of the standards of forensic experts. Regardless of the causes, those who are practicing forensic psychiatry today are expected to conduct more thorough evaluations and to report findings more completely. No longer will simple conclusory statements be acceptable. The forensic psychiatrist is expected to present data in a clear, understandable, detailed, reliable, and competent fashion, whether testifying or in a report.
