Representation Cultural Representations And Signifying Practices Culture Media And Identities Series:

Representation Stuart Hall, 1997-04-08 This broad ranging text offers a comprehensive outline of how visual images language and discourse work as systems of representation Individual chapters explore representation as a signifying practice in a rich diversity of social contexts and institutional sites the use of photography in the construction of national identity and culture other cultures in ethnographic museums fantasies of the racialized Other in popular media film and image the construction of masculine identities in discourses of consumer culture and advertising and the gendering of narratives in television soap operas

Without Guarantees Stuart Hall, 2000-08-17 Stuart Hall's retirement from the Open University in 1997 provided a unique opportunity to reflect on an academic career which has had the most profound impact on scholarship and teaching in many parts of the world From his early work on the media through his influential re working of Gramsci for the analysis of Britain in the late 1970s through his considered debates on Thatcherism and more recently on race and new ethnicities Hall has been an inspirational figure for generations of academics He has helped to make universities places where ideas and social commitment can exist alongside each other This collection invites a wide range of academics who have been influenced by Stuart Hall's writing to contribute not a memoir or a eulogy but an engaged piece of social cultural or historical analysis which continues and develops the field of thinking opened up by Hall The topics covered include identity and hybridity history and post colonialism pedagogy and cultural politics space and place globalization and economy modernity and difference

African Radio and Minority Languages Limukani Mathe, 2025-04-03 Within Africa radio provides an important platform for accommodating diverse linguistic groups and enabling speakers to express themselves in their own local languages This book investigates how radio broadcasting across the continent provides a platform for cultural participation and the representation of minority language speakers in a contested public sphere In African media a fierce contest wages for representation and participation in which majority languages often emerge at the exclusion of minority ethnolinguistic groups This book considers the important role that radio can play in broadcasting in minority languages Drawing on in depth original analysis ethnographic observation and interviews with minority language radio hosts and guests from across South Africa Zimbabwe Nigeria Malawi Namibia Mozambique Lesotho and Kenya this book considers to what extent African radio is accommodative of minority languages and what the challenges and prospects are for this Ultimately the book argues that radio's three tier system of broadcasting through analogue and digital radio leaves the medium of radio particularly well placed to provide equal access for ethnolinguistic groups in Africa This ambitious and broad ranging study will be an essential read for scholars and students of media studies and sociolinguistics in Africa

International Handbook of Migration, Minorities and Education Zvi Bekerman, Thomas Geisen, 2011-10-06 Migrants and minorities are always at risk of being caught in essentialized cultural definitions and being denied the right to express their cultural preferences because they are perceived as threats to social cohesion Migrants and minorities respond to these difficulties in multiple ways as active agents in the pedagogical political social and scientific processes that position them in this or that cultural sphere On the one hand they reject ascribed cultural attributes while striving towards integration in a variety of social spheres e g school and workplace in order to achieve social mobility On the other hand they articulate demands for cultural self determination This discursive duality is met with suspicion by the majority culture For societies with high levels of migration or with substantial minority cultures questions related to the meaning of cultural heterogeneity and the social and cultural limits of learning and communication e g migration education or critical multiculturalism are very important It is precisely here where the chances for new beginnings and new trials become of great importance for educational theorizing which urgently needs to find answers to current questions about individual freedom community cultural affiliations and social and democratic cohesion Answers to these questions must account for both political and learning perspectives at the macro mezzo and micro contextual levels The contributions of this edited volume enhance the knowledge in the field of migrant minority education with a special emphasis on the meaning of culture and social learning for educational processes

Political Communication and Leadership Elena Block, 2015-08-11 The long lasting hegemonic rule of President Hugo Ch vez not only involved significant rearrangements in the control of political power in Venezuela but also shifts in the way its citizens constructed connected and interacted with politics In this book Elena Block explores the political communication style developed by Ch vez to transmit his ideologies and engage with his publics A style that unfolded incrementally between 1998 the year of his first presidential campaign and March 13th 2013 when his death was announced after a long struggle with cancer What sort of political communication did Hugo Ch vez develop to establish hegemony in Venezuela What made him so popular Block argues that Ch vez s political communication style can be better understood through the concept of mimetisation a systematic sequence of communicational events and practices whereby the Venezuelan President managed to build a bond with his constituents Applying a mixed qualitative method of collection and analysis of relevant data this phenomenon is examined via the President s emotional use of common cultural symbols dramatized and informalised language savvy use of communication and media and boost of inclusive compensatory and participatory practices in which his constituents not only felt mimetically mirrored but also endowed with an identity Shedding new light on contemporary theories of populism from the perspective of political communication and identity construction the notion of mimetisation can be adjusted and applied to study the links of populist phenomena the mediatisation of politics and government cultural appeal and identity politics in other cultures and situations in contemporary times

Advanced Topics in Global Information Management, Volume 5 Hunter, M. Gordon, Tan, Felix B., 2006-04-30 Advanced Topics in Global Information Management is a series of books that examine global information management GIM and its research and implications GIM research continues to progress with some scholars pushing the boundaries of thinking and others challenging the status quo Advanced Topics in Global Information Management Volume 5 is a part of this series Advanced Topics in Global Information Management

Volume 5 discusses how many businesses exist in a global environment Whether they are large or small companies they may have suppliers or customers that reside in different geographical locations The ability to function in this global environment has been facilitated by the use of information technology Through research projects this book addresses the ability of both large and small business and government from the national level to local level to function in altered environments by using information technology In all of these situations both businesses and governments must be able to function and respond to various stakeholders by adopting the appropriate and necessary cultural perspective

Identity and Difference Kathryn Woodward,1997-05-05 The book is easy to use and its layout demonstrates some skill in constructing volumes that work as study guides and reference tools The merit of this book goes well beyond its suitability for course applications Contemporary ideas on identity provide new meanings for an old concept Multilingual and Multicultural In recent years identity and difference have been the focus of key debates in cultural studies This broad ranging book examines the challenge of these debates and outlines their applications to central questions of gender sexuality embodiment health race and nation The text renders accessible some of the most exciting and controversial issues in recent cultural studies It comb

International Handbook of Interpretation in Educational Research Paul Smeyers,David Bridges,Nicholas C. Burbules,Morwenna Griffiths,2015-01-06 This handbook focuses on the often neglected dimension of interpretation in educational research It argues that all educational research is in some sense interpretive and that understanding this issue belies some usual dualisms of thought and practice such as the sharp dichotomy between qualitative and quantitative research Interpretation extends from the very framing of the research task through the sources which constitute the data the process of their recording representation and analysis to the way in which the research is finally or provisionally presented The thesis of the handbook is that interpretation cuts across the fields both philosophically organizationally and methodologically By covering a comprehensive range of research approaches and methodologies the handbook gives early career researchers what they need to know in order to decide what particular methods can offer for various educational research contexts fields An extensive overview includes concrete examples of different kinds of research not limited for example to teaching and learning examples as present in the Anglo Saxon tradition but including as well what in the German Continental tradition is labelled pädagogisch examples from child rearing and other contexts of non formal education with full description and explanation of why these were chosen in particular circumstances and reflection on the wisdom or otherwise of the choice combined in each case with consideration of the role of interpretation in the process The handbook includes examples of a large number of methods traditionally classified as qualitative interpretive and quantitative used across the area of the study of education Examples are drawn from across the globe thus exemplifying the different opportunities and constraints that educational research has to confront in different societies

Gender and Sexual Dissidence on Catalan and Spanish Television Series Silvia Grassi,2016-09-23 Taking as a starting point an interpretation of the television medium as an Ideological State

Apparatus this book examines how gender roles and non heteronormative sexualities are constructed in Spanish and Catalan television series In the first part which focuses on the construction of gender roles in Catalan soap operas it applies the analytical paradigms founded by Anglo Saxon feminist scholars for the content of soap operas to a corpus of material which has rarely been analysed through this perspective In the second part which focuses on the construction of non heteronormative sexualities in Spanish and Catalan television series the book challenges the rhetoric of normalisation and the essentialist paradigms which have so far dominated the examination of the construction of sexuality in television series As such this book addresses the role performed by television in the construction of meanings which surround gender issues and non heteronormative sexualities This is a timely exercise because gender studies and studies of sexual dissidence are fairly recent fields in Spanish and Catalan academia and television has been largely disregarded especially as far as the analysis of characters and storylines is concerned As a result this book represents a major contribution to these fields in the Spanish and Catalan contexts

The Television Studies Reader Robert Clyde Allen, Annette Hill, 2004 The Television Studies Reader brings together key writings in the expanding field of television studies providing an overview of the discipline and addressing issues of industry genre audiences production and ownership and representation The Reader charts the ways in which television and television studies are being redefined by new and alternative ways of producing broadcasting and watching TV such as cable satellite and digital broadcasting home video internet broadcasting and interactive TV as well as exploring the recent boom in genres such as reality TV and docusoaps It brings together articles from leading international scholars to provide perspectives on television programmes and practices from around the world acknowledging both television's status as a global medium and the many and varied local contexts of its production and reception Articles are grouped in seven themed sections each with an introduction by the editors Institutions of Television Spaces of Television Modes of Television Making Television Social Representation on Television Watching Television Transforming Television
