Research Methods in Law Dawn Watkins, Mandy Burton, 2025-07-31 Explaining in clear terms some of the main methodological approaches to legal research Research Methods in Law is written by specialists in their fields researching in a variety of jurisdictions Covering a range of topics including feminist approaches economic analysis of the law and socio legal studies each contributor addresses the topic of lay decision makers in the legal system from their particular methodological perspective This focus on one main topic allows the reader to draw comparisons between methods with relative ease This third edition has been fully updated and includes bullet point summaries at the start of each chapter There are also two new chapters covering biographical approaches and creative approaches The broad range of contributors makes Research Methods in Law well suited to an international audience and it is ideal reading for PhD students in law undergraduate dissertation students in law LL M Research students and early year researchers Research Methodologies in EU and International Law Tamara Hervey, Robert Cryer, Bal Sokhi-Bulley, Ali Bohm, 2011-04-11 Law research students often begin their PhDs without having an awareness of methodology or the opportunity to think about the practice of research and its theoretical implications Law Schools are however increasingly alive to the need to provide training in research methods to their students They are also alive to the need to develop the research capacities of their early career scholars not least for the Research Excellence Framework exercise This book offers a structured approach to doing so focusing on issues of methodology ie the theoretical elements of research within the context of EU and international law The book can be used alone or could form the basis of a seminar based course or a departmental or even regional discussion group At the core of the book are the materials produced for a series of workshops funded by the Arts Humanities Research Council s Collaborative Doctoral Training Fund on Legal Research Methodologies in EU and international law These materials consist of a document with readings on main and less mainstream methodological approaches what we call modern and critical approaches and the law and approaches to research in EU and international law and a series of questions and exercises which encourage reflection on those readings both in their own terms and in terms of different research agendas There are also supporting materials giving guidance on practical matters such as how to give a paper or be a discussant at an academic conference The basic aim of the book is to help scholars in EU and international law reflect on their research where does it fit within the discipline what kinds of research questions they think interesting how do they pursue them what theoretical perspective best supports their way of thinking their project and so on The book is aimed both at PhD students and early career scholars in EU and international law and also at more established scholars who are interested in reflecting on the development of their discipline as well as supervising research projects New Frontiers in Empirical Labour Law Research

Amy Ludlow, Alysia Blackham, 2015-10-29 This edited collection draws together papers delivered at a symposium on New Frontiers in Empirical Labour Law Research held at the University of Cambridge in April 2014 It contains contributions from established and emerging experts across a range of disciplines including employment relations industrial psychology sociology economics and political science to consider four broad themes the case for empiricism in labour law the potential for mixed methods methodological possibilities and insights from other disciplines and practical challenges and words of caution for those conducting empirical research This collection seeks to cultivate confidence and competence in empirical methods among both established and young labour law scholars through an intergenerational and interdisciplinary lessons learned dialogue It contributes to the broader debate regarding empirical research methods in labour law and casts light on how empirical research can be conducted in highly contested fields to enhance labour law policy making This collection aims to inspire labour lawyers to embark upon new forms of empirical research both to enrich their existing research projects and to ask new research questions It offers the first stage of a collaborative and interdisciplinary dialogue on empirical labour law research to emphasise the importance of collaboration and intergenerational mentoring in building empirical capacity

Advanced Research Methods in the Built Environment Andrew Knight, Les Ruddock, 2009-03-16 This book provides a bridge between the introductory research methods books and the discipline specific higher level texts Its unique feature is the coverage of the detailed process of research rather than the findings of research projects Chapter authors have been carefully selected by their expertise discipline and location to give an eclectic range of perspectives Particular care has been taken to balance positivist with interpretivist approaches throughout The authors focus is on the practical consequences of research philosophies strategies and techniques by using their own research and by evaluating the work of others Advanced Research Methods in the Built Environment addresses common topics raised by postgraduate level researchers rather than dealing with all aspects of the research process Issues covered range from the practicalities of producing a journal article to the role of theory in research The material brought together here provides a valuable resource for the training and development of doctoral and young researchers and will contribute to a new sense of shared methodological understanding across built environment research

Theories and Methodologies in Postgraduate Feminist Research Rosemarie Buikema, Gabriele Griffin, Nina Lykke, 2012-03-29 This volume centers on theories and methodologies for postgraduate feminist researchers engaged in interdisciplinary research in a context of increasing globalization giving special attention to cutting edge approaches at the borders between humanities and social sciences and specific discipline transgressing fields such as feminist technoscience studies

Research Methods for Contract Law and Scholarship Yuliya Chernykh, Joshua Karton, 2025-09-10 This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY NC ND 4.0 License It is free to read download and share on Elgaronline.com This timely and comprehensive book reveals the multifaceted nature of modern contract law and practice Providing a broad overview of research methods in contemporary contract law it identifies the various modes of inquiry and argumentative techniques in this dynamic field providing theoretical depth and practical tools for legal scholarship Yuliya Chernykh and Joshua Karton bring together a range of specialists in contract law research to address emerging topics within legal scholarship that work well with a combination of methodological approaches

Interdisciplinary Research Methods in EU Law Rossana Deplano, Giulia Gentile, Luigi Lonardo, Tobias Nowak, 2024-06-05 This comprehensive Handbook provides a critical and analytical guide to the application of interdisciplinary research methods in EU law and explores the advancement of the EU legal landscape from an interdisciplinary research perspective Venturing beyond doctrinal legal scholarship it reflects on the cognitive synergies between EU law and other disciplines and advances the debate on contemporary trends in EU law research This title contains one or more Open Access chapters

The Limits of Criminal Law Carl Constantin Lauterwein, 2016-03-03 This book compares the civil and common law approach to analyze the question What sorts of conduct may the state legitimately make criminal Through a comparative focus on an Australian and German context this book utilizes interviews with Australian criminal law experts and contrasts them with the German model based on Rechtsgutstheorie By comparing the largely descriptive criminology based Australian approach with the more sophisticated German legal theory model the author finds the Australian approach to be suffering from a normative flaw illustrated by the distinction of different approaches to the offences of incest bestiality and possession of illicit drugs Carl Constantin Lauterwein discovers that while there is strength in the common law approach of describing the possible reasons for criminalizing certain conduct the approach could be significantly improved by scrutinizing the legitimacy of those reasons
