Our Work Our Words Taking The Guns From Our Sons Hands:

Letters from the Boys Carrie A Meyer, 2018-03-07 Words from the Wisconsin boys manning the trenches On the 100th anniversary of the arrival of the flood of American troops in Europe that would shift the tide of World War I in favor of the Allies Letters from the Boys brings to life this terrible war as experienced by Wisconsinites writing home Technology had transformed the battlefield in alarming ways Automatic rifles mowed down the young men who went over the top to attack enemy trenches airplanes and improved artillery brought death unseen from miles away terrifying clouds of poison gas choked and burned the European countryside the internal combustion engine brought tanks to the battlefield for the first time and revolutionized the way troops deployed In the thick of it were young men from Wisconsin who found themselves caught up in geopolitical events half a world away Professor Carrie A Meyer combed through three newspapers in Green County Wisconsin to collect and synthesize the letters from the boys into a narrative that is both unique and representative telling the stories of several Green County boys and what they saw from preparing for war to life among French families near the front to the terror of the battlefield Meyer gracefully removes the veil of obscurity and anonymity hanging over soldiers who participated in a war fought so long ago by great numbers of men reminding us that armies are made of individuals who strove to do their part and then return to their families

Martin Woods, 2016-08-01 In 1914 the newspaper map or newsmag began to supply readers with the geographical backdrop to the Great War an important tool in explaining the progress of the war to the public at home Day by day for every campaign and battle readers across the nation were deluged with maps both in the pages of newspapers and pasted up in town and city streets allowing them to follow Australian and Allied exploits Drawn from scant news cables out of date cartography and the writer's imagination a semi fictional war story emerged of ANZAC successes and sometimes disasters Our boys were in Egypt Palestine Gallipoli Belgium Germany and France in towns and villages most Australians had never heard of Soon these places were being discussed with growing expertise over maps in homes pubs churches and clubs Those following the war at home were never allowed too close as censorship rules dictated when maps could be published Yet Where Are Our Boys is not simply about propaganda Maps in newspapers tracked the war s many campaigns and the exploits of our boys but most importantly allowed those at home to feel close to their brothers husbands fathers uncles neighbours and cousins Maps naturally became central to commemorating events people and places The war produced more maps than any time before in history giving us along the way some of the most beautiful and sometimes misleading maps ever published Where Are Our Boys tells the story of how the war was fought and won from the opening salvos in 1914 to Gallipoli and victory on the Western Front In the end though these maps were needed most to help understand the conflict and to comprehend the great human costs
