Karim, Edward R. Jr. Laws, 2012-12-06 Many recent developments in neuro oncology relevant to clinical practice have contributed to improved patient care The most important impact of these developments on treatment may have been a change in the attitudes of the neuro oncologists involved in making decisions regarding patients with gliomas From an era of uncertainty which led to therapeutic nihilism we have entered one of active interventions based on objective parameters for the treatment of gliomas which may be either slow growing or rapid killers The histopathological characteristics of gliomatous lesions are intriguing and it is only recently that a clearer picture has begun to emerge A group of dedicated neuropathologists has been attempting to reach a consensus on pathological classification and grading providing an important landmark in the field of neuro oncology This book does not mean to provide exhaustive details on the histopathology of gliomas but rather highlights the main problems in an authoritative chapter This chapter attempts to guide the reader to a better understanding of all aspects of the neuropathology of glioma Neuroradiology has recently seen several breakthroughs Images unimaginable a decade ago are now providing us with an almost three dimensional impression But the concomitant illusions and artifacts must also be kept in mind and pragmatic ideas are carefully put forward in this book about the developing body of knowledge concerning the newer imaging techniques Neuro-Oncology of CNS Tumors Jörg-Christian Tonn, Manfred Westphal, J. Management in Neuro-Oncology Jerzy Hildebrand, 2012-12-06 The European School of Oncology came into existence to respond to a need for information education and training in the field of the diagnosis and treatment of cancer There are two main reasons why such an initiative was considered necessary Firstly the teaching of oncology requires a rigorously multidisciplinary approach which is difficult for the Universities to put into practice since their system is mainly disciplinary orientated Secondly the rate of technological development that impinges on the diagnosis and treatment of cancer has been so rapid that it is not an easy task for medical faculties to adapt their curricula flexibly With its residential courses for organ pathologies and the seminars on new techniques laser monoclonal antibodies imaging techniques etc or on the principal therapeutic controversies conservative or mutilating surgery primary or adjuvant chemotherapy radiotherapy alone or integrated it is the ambition of the European School of Oncology to fill a cultural and scientific gap and thereby create a bridge between the University and Industry and between these two and daily medical practice One of the more recent initiatives of ESO has been the institution of permanent study groups also called task forces where a limited number of leading experts are invited to meet once a year with the aim of defining the state of the art and possibly reaching a consensus on future developments in specific fields of oncology
