Postwar America

1. How does each of the authors describe the problems associated with postwar problems?

1. Problems: Millions of returning veterans and millions of youth are finding themselves without jobs.

Solutions offered by the Truman administration and Congress	Congress passed the United States Housing Act, guaranteeing veterans a year's income if unemployed; benefits while job hunting; it offered unemployment, federally guaranteed loans.
---	--

2. Problems: Severe housing shortage.

Solutions offered by developers such as William Levitt	Levitt used assembly-line techniques through production houses, offering houses for small residential communities called suburbs for less than $17,500.
Solutions offered by the Truman and Eisenhower administrations	The Truman and Eisenhower administrations provided financial support for urban renewal and housing, working with the private business.

3. Problems: Severe inflation.

Solutions offered by the Truman administration and Congress	Congress passed Truman Administration recommendations, reducing prices for the economy, providing for price, wage, and rent.

4. Problems: Labor unions that threaten to supply the nation.

Solutions offered by the Truman administration	Truman's administration said the wartime controls were no longer needed to supply the job. He instructed the federal government to advise that there was no need to limit supply of the materials, for the army supplies would be sent to them.

5. Problems: Discrimination and racial violence.

Solutions offered by the Truman administration	The Truman administration issued an anti-discrimination act that said that all federal, state, and local government, is prohibited from denying employment, integration, or accommodations, unless it was for discrimination in the federal government employment.
