

Practicing Primitive

The background of the cover is a detailed illustration of various primitive tools and artifacts. A large, wide-bladed knife with a wooden handle is the central focus. To its left is a spear with a long, dark shaft and a light-colored, pointed tip. Above the knife is a bow with a wooden frame and a string. A necklace of red beads is draped across the lower part of the knife. Other items include a small, light-colored arrowhead, a piece of flint, and a small, round object that looks like a stone or a piece of pottery. The entire scene is set against a background of dark, rounded stones and some green foliage.
