The Politics of Unreason Lars Rensmann,2017-07-25 Although the Frankfurt School represents one of the most influential intellectual traditions of the twentieth century its multifaceted work on modern antisemitism has so far largely been neglected The Politics of Unreason fills this gap providing the first systematic study of the Frankfurt School s philosophical psychological political and social research and theorizing on the problem of antisemitism Examining the full range of these critical theorists contributions from major studies and prominent essays to seemingly marginal pieces and aphorisms Lars Rensmann reconstructs how the Frankfurt School faced with the catastrophe of the genocide against the European Jews explains forms and causes of anti Jewish politics of hate The book also pays special attention to research on coded and secondary antisemitism after the Holocaust and how resentments are politically mobilized under conditions of democracy By revisiting and rereading the Frankfurt School s original work this book challenges several misperceptions about critical theory s research making the case that it provides an important source to better understand the social origins and politics of antisemitism racism and hate speech in the modern world modern age Totalitarian Space and the Destruction of Aura Saladdin Ahmed, 2019-02-14 Diagnoses our contemporary spatial experience as fundamentally totalitarian through a multilayered critical theory of space We live today within a system in which state and corporate power aim to render space flat transparent and uniform for only then can it be truly controlled The gaze of power and the commodity form are capable of infiltrating even the darkest of corners and often we invite them into our most private spaces We do so as a matter of convenience but also to placate ourselves and cope with the alienation inherent in our everyday lives The resulting dominant space can best be termed totalitarian It is space stripped of uniqueness deprived of the spatial aura necessary for authentic experience In Totalitarian Space and the Destruction of Aura Saladdin Ahmed sets out to help us grasp what has been lost before no trace remains He draws attention to that which we might prefer not to see but despite the bleakness of this indictment of reality the book also offers a message of hope Namely it is only once we comprehend the magnitude of the threat to our spatial experience and our own complicity in sustaining this system that we can begin to resist the totalizing forces at work This is a clear and important contribution to the existing literature and contemporary political thought in general It expounds upon Benjamin's analysis of the aura in his famous essay Art in the Age of Mechanical Reproduction and importantly illustrates how this concept is incredibly pertinent to our society today Mary Caputi author of Feminism and Power The Need for Critical Theory Arab Spring and Its Legacies Mujib Alam, Sujata Ashwarya, 2024-06-07 The essays in this edited volume seek to understand the regional and international ramifications of the wave of protest demonstrations that swept across West Asia and North Africa in the early 2010s both on the ground and online Dissatisfaction with political repression and corruption economic difficulties and inequities and a desire for freedom and democracy all played a role in the Arab Spring uprisings It deposed long standing dictatorships ushering in a period of insecurity and instability that would have long term consequences for the region's political economy and international relations Although the protests have ended the legacy of that turbulent era will live on most notably in the acceleration of regional change and transformation Print edition not for sale in South Asia India Sri Lanka Nepal Bangladesh Pakistan and Bhutan Divided Subjects, Invisible Borders Ben Gook, 2015-09-21 What do Germany's memorials films artworks memory debates and national commemorations tell us about the lives of Germans today How did the Wall in the Head come to replace the Wall that fell in 1989 The old identities of East and West which all but dissolved in joyous embraces as the Berlin Wall fell emerged once more after formal reunification a year later in 1990 2015 marks the twenty fifth anniversary of that German reunification Yet Germany remains divided a mutual distrust lingers and national history remains contentious The material social cultural and psychic effects of reunification on the lives of eastern and western Germans since 1989 all demand again asking fundamental questions about history social change and ideology Divided Subjects Invisible Borders puts affective life at the centre of these questions both in the role affect played in mobilizing East Germans to overthrow their regime and as a sign of disappointment after formal reunification Using contemporary Germany as a lens the book explores broader debates about borders memory and subjectivity China in the Era of Social Media

Junhao Hong, 2020-06-22 China in the Era of Social Media discusses how social media is changing the world in an unprecedented way through speed scope and depth In the last decade or so social media in China has witnessed the most explosive growth in the world Being the most populous nation in the world it has the most social media users in the world as well This book examines the current situation and unique characteristics of Chinese social media the significance of social media in the country's social transformation and particularly its influences on political change in the nation The main goal of this book is to explore how social media has been affecting and thus changing China's political system the ruling communist ideology and the state run media as well as its public discourse and public opinions Scholars of Asian studies political science and communications will find this book particularly interesting The Community Food Forest Handbook Catherine

Bukowski, John Munsell, 2018 Collaboration and leadership strategies for long term success Fueled by the popularity of permaculture and agroecology community food forests are capturing the imaginations of people in neighborhoods towns and cities across the United States Along with community gardens and farmers markets community food forests are an avenue toward creating access to nutritious food and promoting environmental sustainability where we live Interest in installing them in public spaces is on the rise People are the most vital component of community food forests but while we know more than ever about how to design food forests the ways in which to best organize and lead groups of people involved with these projects has received relatively little attention In The Community Food Forest Handbook Catherine Bukowski and John Munsell dive into the civic aspects of community food forests drawing on observations group meetings and interviews at over 20 projects across the country and their own experience creating and managing a food forest They combine the stories and strategies gathered during their research with concepts of community development and project management to outline steps for creating lasting public food forests that positively impact communities Rather than rehash food forest design which classic books such as Forest Gardening and Edible Forest Gardens address in great detail The Community Food Forest Handbook uses systems thinking and draws on social change theory to focus on how to work with diverse groups of people when conceiving of designing and implementing a community food forest To find practical ground the authors use management phases to highlight the ebb and flow of community capitals from a project's inception to its completion They also explore examples of positive feedbacks that are often unexpected but offer avenues for enhancing the success of a community food forest The Community Food Forest Handbook provides readers with helpful ideas for building and sustaining momentum working with diverse public and private stakeholders integrating assorted civic interests and visions within one project creating safe and attractive sites navigating community policies positively affecting public perception and managing site evolution and adaptation Its concepts and examples showcase the complexities of community food forests highlighting the human resilience of those who learn and experience what is possible when they collaborate on a shared vision for their community
