Kember, 2019-03-12 Whose Book is it Anyway is a provocative collection of essays that opens out the copyright debate to questions of open access ethics and creativity It includes views such as artist s perspectives writer s perspectives feminist and international perspectives that are too often marginalized or elided altogether The diverse range of contributors take various approaches from the scholarly and the essayistic to the graphic to explore the future of publishing based on their experiences as publishers artists writers and academics Considering issues such as intellectual property copyright and comics digital publishing and remixing and what it means not to say one is an author these vibrant essays urge us to view central aspects of writing and publishing in a new light Whose Book is it Anyway is a timely and varied collection of essays It asks us to reconceive our understanding of publishing copyright and open access and it is essential reading for anyone invested in the future of publishing Open Access and the Library Anja Oberländer, Torsten Reimer, 2019-04-04

Libraries are places of learning and knowledge creation Over the last two decades digital technology and the changes that came with it have accelerated this transformation to a point where evolution starts to become a revolution The wider Open Science movement and Open Access in particular is one of these changes and is already having a profound impact Under the subscription model the role of libraries was to buy or license content on behalf of their users and then act as gatekeepers to regulate access on behalf of rights holders In a world where all research is open the role of the library is shifting from licensing and disseminating to facilitating and supporting the publishing process itself This requires a fundamental shift in terms of structures tasks and skills It also changes the idea of a library's collection Under the subscription model contemporary collections largely equal content bought from publishers Under an open model the collection is more likely to be the content created by the users of the library researchers staff students etc content that is now curated by the library Instead of selecting external content libraries have to understand the content created by their own users and help them to make it publicly available be it through a local repository payment of article processing charges or through advice and guidance Arguably this is an overly simplified model that leaves aside special collections and other areas Even so it highlights the changes that research libraries are undergoing changes that are likely to accelerate as a result of initiatives such as Plan S This Special Issue investigates some of the changes in today's library services that relate to open access The
