Race After the Internet Lisa Nakamura, Peter Chow-White, 2013-07-03 In Race After the Internet Lisa Nakamura and Peter Chow White bring together a collection of interdisciplinary forward looking essays exploring the complex role that digital media technologies play in shaping our ideas about race Contributors interrogate changing ideas of race within the context of an increasingly digitally mediatized cultural and informational landscape Using social scientific rhetorical textual and ethnographic approaches these essays show how new and old styles of race as code interaction and image are played out within digital networks of power and privilege Race After the Internet includes essays on the shifting terrain of racial identity and its connections to social media technologies like Facebook and MySpace popular online games like World of Warcraft YouTube and viral video WiFi infrastructure the One Laptop Per Child OLPC program genetic ancestry testing and DNA databases in health and law enforcement Contributors also investigate the ways in which racial profiling and a culture of racialized surveillance arise from the confluence of digital data and rapid developments in biotechnology This collection aims to broaden the definition of the digital divide in order to convey a more nuanced understanding of access usage meaning participation and production of digital media technology in light of racial inequality Contributors danah boyd Peter Chow White Wendy Chun Sasha Costanza Chock Troy Duster Anna Everett Rayvon Fouch Alexander Galloway Oscar Gandy Eszter Hargittai Jeong Won Hwang Curtis Marez Tara McPherson Alondra Nelson Christian Sandvig Ernest Wilson The Discourse of Reading Groups David Peplow, Joan Swann, Paola Trimarco, Sara Whiteley, 2015-11-19 Of interest in their own terms as a significant cultural practice reading groups also provide a window on the everyday interpretation of literary texts While reading is often considered a solitary process reading groups constitute a form of social reading where interpretations are produced and displayed in discourse The Discourse of Reading Groups is a study of such joint conceptual activity and how this is necessarily embedded in interpersonal activity and the production of reader identities Uniquely in this context it draws on and seeks to integrate ideas from both cognitive and social linguistics The book will be of interest to scholars in literacy studies as well as cultural and literary studies the history of reading applied linguistics and sociolinguistics digital technologies and educational research

Reading the Vegetarian Vampire Sophie Dungan, 2022-11-30 This Pivot traces the rise of the so called vegetarian vampire in popular culture and contemporary vampire fiction while also exploring how the shift in the diet of some vampires from human to animal or synthetic blood responds to a growing ecological awareness that is rapidly reshaping our understanding of relations with others species The book introduces the trope of the vegetarian vampire as well as important critical contexts for its discussion the Anthropocene food studies and the modern practice politics and ideologies of vegetarianism Drawing on references to recent historical contexts and developments in the genre more broadly the book investigates the vegetarian vampire s relationship to other more violent and monstrous forms of the vampire in popular twenty first century horror cinema and television Texts discussed include Interview with the Vampire

Buffy the Vampire Slayer Twilight The Vampire Diaries and True Blood Reading the Vegetarian Vampire examines a new aspect of contemporary interest in considering vampire fiction Science Fiction, Ethics and the Human Condition

Christian Baron, Peter Nicolai Halvorsen, Christine Cornea, 2017-07-10 This book explores what science fiction can tell us about the human condition in a technological world with the ethical dilemmas and consequences that this entails This book is the result of the joint efforts of scholars and scientists from various disciplines This interdisciplinary approach sets an example for those who like us have been busy assessing the ways in which fictional attempts to fathom the possibilities of science and technology speak to central concerns about what it means to be human in a contemporary world of technology and which ethical dilemmas it brings along One of the aims of this book is to demonstrate what can be achieved in approaching science fiction as a kind of imaginary laboratory for experimentation where visions of human or even post human life under various scientific technological or natural conditions that differ from our own situation can be thought through and commented upon Although a scholarly work this book is also designed to be accessible to a general audience that has an interest in science fiction as well as to a broader academic audience interested in ethical questions Mind

Style and Cognitive Grammar Louise Nuttall, 2018-09-06 Mind Style and Cognitive Grammar advances our understanding of mind style the experience of other minds or worldviews through language in literature This book is the first to set out a detailed unified framework for the analysis of mind style using the account of language and cognition set out in cognitive grammar Drawing on insights from cognitive linguistics Louise Nuttall aims to explain how character and narrator minds are created linguistically with a focus on the strange minds encountered in the genre of speculative fiction Previous analyses of mind style are reconsidered using cognitive grammar alongside original analyses of four novels by Margaret Atwood Kazuo Ishiguro Richard Matheson and J G Ballard Responses to the texts in online forums and literary critical studies ground the analyses in the experiences of readers and support an investigation of this effect as an embodied experience cued by the language of a text Mind Style and Cognitive Grammar advances both stylistics and cognitive linguistics whilst offering new insights for research in speculative fiction Possible Worlds Theory and Readers' Emotional Responses to Literature

Megan Mansworth, 2025-09-18 This book develops a cognitive stylistic exploration of readers emotional experiences of literature Adopting Possible Worlds Theory as a framework the volume constructs a stylistic analysis of some of the ways in which novels elicit readers emotions A typology of past present and future textual actual and possible worlds is formulated to frame analysis of three novels A Fine Balance by Rohinton Mistry Revolutionary Road by Richard Yates and The Trick Is to Keep Breathing by Janice Galloway The author integrates close stylistic analysis with the use of empirical data drawn from reader interviews and online reader reviews The analysis of these diverse 20th century novels works to show the utility of the typology for analysis formulated for this book as well as to demonstrate the value of incorporating empirical reader data in analysis of the ways in which novels may affect readers emotions Dharma of the Dead Christopher M.

Moreman,2018-07-10 With the increased popularity of zombies in recent years scholars have considered why the undead have so captured the public imagination This book argues that the zombie can be viewed as an object of meditation on death a memento mori that makes the fact of mortality more approachable from what has been described as America s death denying culture The existential crisis in zombie apocalyptic fiction brings to the fore the problem of humanity s search for meaning in an increasingly global and secular world Zombies are analyzed in the context of Buddhist thought in contrast with social and religious critiques from other works Slender Man Is Coming Trevor J. Blank,Lynne S. McNeill,2018-09-21 The essays in this volume explore the menacing figure of Slender Man the blank faced long limbed bogeyman born of a 2009 Photoshop contest who has appeared in countless horror stories circulated on and offline among children and young people Slender Man is arguably the best known example in circulation of creepypasta a genre derived from cospypasta which in turn derived from the phrase copy paste As narrative texts are copied across online forums they undergo modification annotation and reinterpretation by new posters in a folkloric process of repetition and variation Though by definition legends deal largely with belief and possibility the crowdsourced mythos behind creepypasta and Slender Man suggests a distinct awareness of fabrication Slender Man is therefore a new kind of creation one intentionally created as a fiction but with the look and feel of legend Slender Man Is Coming offers an unprecedented folkloristic take on Slender Man analyzing him within the framework of contemporary legend studies creepypastas folk belief and children s culture This first folkloric examination of the phenomenon of Slender Man is a must read for anyone interested in folklore horror urban legends new media or digital cultures Contributors Timothy H Evans Andrea Kitta Mikel J Koven Paul Manning Andrew Peck Jeffrey A Tolbert Elizabeth Tucker Pedagogical Stylistics in the 21st Century Sonia Zyngier,Greg Watson,2022-02-21 This edited book provides cutting edge contributions from an international array of prominent experts who discuss the relevance of pedagogical stylistics in relation to diverse contexts and areas including empirical approaches corpus stylistics creative writing literary linguistic criticism students as researchers critical discourse academic register text world pedagogy cognitive stylistics classroom discourse language of literary texts L1 L2 education EFL learners and multimodal stylistics Intended as a follow up to Watson and Zyngier 2007 this volume situates the reader by offering a broad assessment of how the field has developed during the past 15 years and where it stands now By examining both contemporary research and future challenges it should be regarded as essential reading for all teachers researchers scholars and students interested in understanding language and how to apply stylistics in educational settings This book will be of interest to students and scholars working in stylistics cognitive linguistics language teaching applied linguistics literary studies and materials development American Think Level 3 Student's Book Herbert Puchta,Jeff Stranks,Peter Lewis-Jones,2016-03-17 Challenge and inspire your teenage learners to think beyond language American Think is a vibrant course designed to engage teenage learners and make them think As well as building students language skills it offers a holistic approach to learning developing their
