Reproductive Physiology Of Marsupials Monographs On Marsupial Biology:

Reproductive Physiology of Marsupials C. Hugh Tyndale-Biscoe, Marilyn Renfree, 1987-01-30 The results of this compilation of new research on the reproductive physiology of marsupials reveal much about their patterns of reproduction and evolution in comparison to monotremes and eutherians

Reproductive Physiology of Marsupials Hugh Tyndale-Biscoe, Marilyn Renfree, 1987-01-30 Marsupials differ from most other mammals in their method of reproduction in that they have chosen in an evolutionary sense to develop lactation rather than placentation for the nurture of their young The neonate is therefore born with a mixture of advanced and embryonic characters and yet is readily accessible within the pouch providing a unique system for the study of the ontogeny of various physiological and endocrinological parameters Marsupials are therefore ideal animals for research into mammalian reproductive physiology The results of this exciting new research are summarized in this book by two of the foremost workers in the field Individual chapters analyse the genetic and hormonal control of sexual differentiation male and female reproductive structures and their functions the role of the corpus luteum in the oestrous cycle and pregnancy the hormonal control of embryonic diapause and the role of the marsupial placenta in the development of the embryo This book is more than just a straightforward review of marsupial reproduction for its detailed analyses and broad comparative coverage will attract mammalogists and reproductive physiologists with a wide range of research interests

Digestive Physiology and Nutrition of Marsupials Ian D. Hume, 1982-07-08

Marshall's Physiology of Reproduction G.E. Lamming, 2013-04-17 The most comprehensive review available today Marshall's Physiology of Reproduction is the classic reference source for teachers and researchers of animal reproduction Internationally recognised leaders in their respective fields provide an analytical synopsis of the area review current research and outline their philosophical approach to the subject Volume 3 of the fourth edition reviews the processes of pregnancy and lactation in mammals incorporating marsupials non primate eutherians and primates including man Book one covers pregnancy from ovulation to pre parturition book two reviews fetal physiology parturition and lactation The extensive coverage of the physiology of human reproduction and lactation makes this volume a particularly important reference source for researchers in human fertility control while the review of large animal reproduction is relevant to veterinary and para veterinary workers

Non-coding RNA and the Reproductive System Dagmar Wilhelm, Pascal Bernard, 2015-12-11 This book provides an overview of the role and function of regulatory RNAs that lack protein coding potential in key reproductive tissues This includes the role of small interfering RNAs siRNAs microRNAs miRNAs PIWI interacting RNAs piRNAs small nucleolar RNAs snoRNAs and long non coding RNAs lncRNAs Through clear detailed and comprehensive debate international leading experts discuss the role these novel regulators in normal development of sexual dimorphisms including the differentiation of ovaries and testes the genital tract including prostate epididymis and uterus as well as mammary glands In addition particular attention is paid on their role in pathophysiological processes within the reproductive tract The power of next generation sequencing has proved to be an invaluable tool to discover new non coding RNAs While the identification of non coding RNA is relatively easy analysing their function represents still a challenge today In this book authors present historical and conceptual background information highlight the ways in which non coding RNAs function is analysed and present their vision of the future research in their key research area The Biology of Mammalian Spermatogonia Jon M. Oatley, Michael D. Griswold, 2017-11-20 This book provides a resource of current understandings about various aspects of the biology of spermatogonia in mammals Considering that covering the entire gamut of all things spermatogonia is a difficult task specific topics were selected to provide foundational information that will be useful for seasoned researchers in the field of germ cell biology as well as investigators entering the area Looking to the future the editors predict that the foundational information provided in this book combined with the advent of new tools and budding interests in use of non rodent mammalian models will produce another major advance in knowledge regarding the biology of spermatogonia over the next decade In particular we anticipate that the core molecular machinery driving different spermatogonial states in most if not all mammals will be described fully the extrinsic signals emanating from somatic support cell populations to influence spermatogonial functions will become fully known and the capacity to derive long term cultures of SSCs and transplant the population to regenerate spermatogenesis and fertility will become a reality for higher order mammals Australian Mammal Society , 1990-06

Predators with Pouches Menna Jones, Mike Archer, Chris Dickman, 2003-04-30 Predators with Pouches provides a unique synthesis of current knowledge of the world s carnivorous marsupials from Patagonia to New Guinea and North America to Tasmania Written by 63 experts in each field the book covers a comprehensive range of disciplines including evolution and systematics reproductive biology physiology ecology behaviour and conservation Predators with Pouches reveals the relationships between the American didelphids and the Australian dasyurids and explores the role of the marsupial fauna in the mammal community It introduces the geologically oldest marsupials from the Americas and examines the fall from former diversity of the larger marsupial carnivores and their convergent evolution with placental forms The book covers all aspects of carnivorous marsupials including interesting features of life history their unique reproduction the physiological basis for early senescence in semelparous dasyurids sex ratio variation and juvenile dispersal It looks at gradients in nutrition from omnivory to insectivory to carnivory as well as distributional ecology social structure and conservation dilemmas
