Resilient Universities Confronting Changes In A Challenging World:

Resilient Universities Jan Erik Karlsen, Rosalind M. O. Pritchard, 2013 Resilience is ostensibly acknowledged as a cross disciplinary issue yet resilience analysis has seldom been applied to the understanding of universities and the academic world The contributions to this volume aim to fill this gap through the presentation of both theoretical and empirical studies The book s title reflects the desire to extend the debate in new directions and to assemble a fresh set of models and tools for thinking about resilient universities Bringing together a range of experts in the field this collection marks a novel departure within the social sciences and is intended to act as a first step towards establishing a holistic approach to future university governance and adaptation Today s European universities are confronted by profound changes This book constitutes an accessibly written polemical and bold exploration of how current crises facing higher education institutions could be more effectively addressed by institutional resilience and new forms of adaptive future oriented governance

American Higher Education in a Global Context Cristina González, 2022-02-14 American Higher Education in a Global Context Historical Perspectives describes the current state of universities on each continent providing a comprehensive analysis of the numerous factors that have affected higher education systems around the world This book studies higher education from its emergence in antiquity to the establishment of the American research university model and its adoption around the globe through the current Covid 19 pandemic and concomitant economic and political crisis The author pays special attention to the shortcomings of the neoliberal trend of the last four decades which increased social stratification at institutions of higher learning Calling for an expansion of access to tertiary education and in particular to research universities this book examines the competition between China and the United States in the field of higher education stressing the importance of academic freedom without which there can be no true academic excellence

Towards Resilient Organizations and Societies Rómulo Pinheiro, Maria Laura Frigotto, Mitchell Young, 2021-11-16 This open access book brings together scholars in the fields of management public policy regional studies and organization theory around the concept of resilience The aim is to provide a more holistic understanding of the complex phenomenon of resilience from a multi sectorial cross national and multidisciplinary perspective The book facilitates a conversation across diverse disciplinary specializations and empirical domains The authors contribute both to theory testing and theory development and provide key empirical insights useful for societies organizations and individuals experiencing disruptive pressures not least in the context of a post COVID 19 world Diverse chapters are held together by a clear organization of the volume across levels of analysis resilience in organizations and societies and by an original perspective on resilience derived from an extended review by the editors of the existing literature and knowledge gaps according to which each of the individual chapter contributions is positioned and connected to

Re-imagining Educational Futures in Developing Countries Emmanuel Mogaji, Varsha Jain, Felix Maringe, Robert Ebo Hinson, 2022-02-14 This book explores the challenges and precarity of higher education post pandemic explicitly focusing on higher education in emerging countries Looking beyond the pandemic the editors and contributors provide a holistic view of the residual legacies of global health crises like COVID 19 in developing countries The book calls for the need to reimagine reevaluate and reposition the higher education system exploring the challenges experienced by students staff administrators and other stakeholders Bringing forth insights from researchers practitioners and senior leadership the book shares theoretical and practical insights on dealing with the aftermath of a pandemic and what can be learned for the future It will be of interest and value to researchers practitioners and leaders who wish to understand a develop new approaches for their teaching and management post pandemic

Ensuring Quality in Professional Education Volume II Karen

Trimmer,Tara Newman,Fernando F. Padró,2019-01-11 This book examines quality teaching in professional education in the fields of engineering and international knowledge structures The second of a two volume series the editors and contributors structure the book around case studies which highlight the elements constituting good practice within professional education While there is no one specific route to prepare well qualified professionals this volume explores the decisions the academics responsible for delivering this education make to ensure quality curricula Ultimately the key to effective preparations rests with the value employers place on the focus emphasis and balance between the academic and practical in relation to their own expectations for skills that graduates must have The second volume in this collection will appeal to students and scholars of professional pedagogy and engineering pedagogy more specifically

Collaboration, Communities and Competition Samuel Dent,Laura Lane,Tony Strike,2017-08-25 Higher Education providers face enormous challenges in an increasingly competitive and globalised environment It is perhaps obvious to those engaged in teaching and research that academia is both a competitive and a collaborative endeavour Many national systems now assume in their legal or governance frameworks competitive rather than co operative behaviour and increasingly regulate based on that assumption Institutional leaders and educators wrestle with the issues around the commoditisation of learning and the pressure to treat students as customers In tandem students themselves are experiencing cuts in public financing and a transfer of the cost burden to them as the perceived private beneficiaries of a product This book asks whether there is an alternative approach to this now transnational competitive logic Can collaboration and partnership re emerge as an antidote to the consumerist and competitive approaches taken by governments toward regulating their higher education systems The question of competition collaboration and community is addressed here at three levels of analysis The macro level or the international system level observes competition and collaboration between countries and between institutions The meso level includes competition and collaboration between academics and students and at inter and intra disciplinary levels across organisational boundaries Finally competition and collaboration at the micro level considers the interface between individual academics and between academics and students as learners

Sustainable Development and Quality Assurance in Higher Education Z.

Fadeeva,L. Galkute,C. Mader,G. Scott,Simon Mohun,2014-10-29 To help address the challenges of sustainable development higher education institutions must transform themselves bringing together best practice in quality management for tertiary education with best practice in education for sustainable development This book provides tested strategies and pathways for undertaking this successfully

Ensuring Quality in Professional Education Volume I Karen Trimmer,Tara Newman,Fernando F. Padró,2019-01-11 This book analyses examples of quality teaching in professional education in the human client fields The first of two volumes the editors and contributors use case studies to illustrate the elements deemed good practice within professional education There are many different routes towards preparing well qualified professionals through higher education as diverse as the professions themselves these routes are largely determined by decisions academics make regarding content curriculum alignment integration of research with practice and pedagogical techniques Including case studies from midwifery medical nursing and psychology degree programmes the authors and editors unravel what good teaching in professional practice looks like in the human client fields and how it can be achieved This rigorous and comprehensive collection will be of interest and value to students and scholars of professional pedagogy as well as practitioners Diversity and Excellence in Higher Education Rosalind M. O. Pritchard,Matthias Klumpp,Ulrich Teichler,2015-11-03 Diversity and excellence in Higher Education seem to be conflicting concepts Nevertheless they are dynamic and closely intertwined indeed they may even require each other The book brings together insights from ten different countries to analyse these multi faceted phenomena and discuss how they may be reconciled within higher education To set the overall context it critically addresses markets and managerialism whilst foregrounding the dangers of certain behavior that European countries are currently though often unwisely copying from the U S In a mass Higher Education system the social basis of the student body diversifies a fact that creates new challenges for planners and managers The authors study of diversity concentrates particularly upon issues of equity and justice for students addressing their life cycle transitions from school to higher education degree completion postgraduate education and employability It also considers challenges posed by diversification at the institutional level encompassing changes in management leadership governance and performance assessment It addresses attempts to achieve excellence by selectivity thereby contributing to the stratification of university systems and it explores attempts to achieve excellence by merging smaller institutions to form larger entities The book s overall conclusion is that diversity and excellence are not necessarily enemies but relatives who cannot escape the bond between them

The Power of Rankings in Economics and Research Organizations Stephan Pühringer,Jens Maesse,Thierry Rossier,2025-06-06 Discourses around research excellence and quality are predominant within the economic sciences with various forms of ranking playing a central role They make excellence in research and teaching visible but they also create hierarchical orders between researchers institutions publication outlets and countries The authors of this volume analyse the role of rankings in shaping and transforming economics from different theoretical methodological and disciplinary perspectives The various contributions explore the specific situation in different countries as well as global developments within economics and beyond In addition the book contributes to an overall debate about the role and function of rankings in academia The analysis focuses on four aspects rankings and social hierarchies rankings and paradigmatic hegemonies rankings and regulations policies as well as rankings and critique alternatives The book addresses scholars in economic sociology economics higher education and science studies The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license
