Microfinance And Poverty Reduction In Nigeria A Critical Assessment:

Microfinance and Sustainable Development in Africa Alhassan, Yahaya, Nwagbara, Uzoechi, 2021-12-10 The use of microfinance for poverty reduction and economic development in the developing world is growing. However, this concept needs to be expanded to ensure its successful application for achieving longer term economic growth and sustainability in developing countries, particularly in parts of the world such as Africa. As such, further research into the relationship between microfinance and sustainable development in developing regions is required to fully understand the opportunities for effective use of microfinance for poverty reduction and economic development. Microfinance and Sustainable Development in Africa examines the complex relationship between receipt of microfinance, poverty reduction, economic growth, and microbusiness development, focusing on the provision of small credit facilities as a driver of sustainable development in Africa. Its coverage of topics such as microbusiness, social finance, and sustainable development makes this book an ideal reference source for academicians, researchers, government officials, policymakers, organizations, managers, instructors, and students.

Microfinance and Poverty Reduction in Nigeria Cecilia Nwigwe, 2013 The book attempts to provide a critical assessment of microfinance as a strategy for poverty reduction in Nigeria. It argues that while microfinance has developed some innovative management and business strategies, its impact on poverty reduction remains in doubt. Microfinance, however, certainly plays an important role in providing a safety net and consumption smoothing. However, for any significant dent on poverty, the focus of public policy should be on growth-oriented and equity-enhancing programs such as broad-based productive employment creation. There is also a need to design financially sustainable models that increase outreach and scale up operations for the poor. More so, financial inclusion agenda should be considered and adopted in a concerted manner.

Microfinance and Poverty Reduction in Nigeria Uyi Benjamin Edegbe, 2013-06-07 Master's Thesis from the year 2013 in the subject Sociology Miscellaneous, University of Freiburg Global Studies Program, Institute für Soziologie, language English, abstract. The poverty question is a global phenomenon. It is perhaps one of the greatest challenges facing Mankind today, especially in most parts of the developing world. This, perhaps, explains why the eradication of poverty was listed as the first of the eight issues of the millennium development goals. The problem of poverty is more disturbing, given the fact that there is abundant and enormous wealth in the world to adequately meet the needs of every one. Poverty may be defined as a condition of lack and inability to meet adequately the basic needs of life, such as shelter, food, education, and health care. Similarly, according to a United Nations statement, poverty is a denial of choices and opportunities, a violation of human dignity. It means lack of basic capacity to participate effectively in society. It means not having enough to feed and clothe a family, not having a school or clinic to go to, not having the land on which to grow one's food or a job to earn one's living, not having access to credit. It means insecurity, powerlessness, and exclusion of individuals, households, and communities. It means susceptibility to violence, and it often implies living on marginal or fragile environments without access to clean water or sanitation UN 2008 quoted in Ucha 2010 2 In other words the problems of poverty is more worrisome in Sub Saharan Africa with 47.5% of the people living on less than 1.25 and 70% living on less than 2 per day in Sub Sahara Africa World Bank 2008 The figure may have become worse considering the drought that hit parts of horn of East Africa in 2011 and the problem of maladministration or poor governance bedeviling the region In Nigeria the high level of corruption poor leadership has contributed to exacerbate the problem of poverty Ucha 2010 puts it thus Unemployment corruption non diversification of the economy income inequality laziness and a poor educational system can be considered to be some of the key factors contributing to poverty in Nigeria p 46 Given the fact that Nigeria is a country with rich human and natural resources it is disturbing that majority of her citizens are still very poor The government has over the years formulated a lot of programs and policies geared towards poverty reduction however it remains a controversy whether those programs and policies have actually achieved their desired objectives
