Forcing Nature Kai Friedhoff, Julia Josfeld, Verena Klose, Paul Langeslag, Bente Offereins, Irina Rau, Julia Stumpf, 2019. In the dominant world view of the Western Middle Ages, nature evoked divine power as manifested in creation. Nature was an all-pervasive force synonymous with God and his visible handiwork, but also a cosmic principle associated with fate and predestination in the Neoplatonic tradition. This volume of student essays tackles nature in a range of physical and metaphysical guises, always centred on its representation in medieval English literature. It contains studies of the visible natural world in elegiac, homiletic, and apocalyptic literature, but it also addresses other faces of nature: from the naked human form to the medieval reception of ancient ideas about free will, and closes with a comparative analysis of the nature of wisdom in Old English and The Lord of the Rings. Friendship in the Middle Ages and Early Modern Age Albrecht Classen, Marilyn Sandidge, 2011-03-29. Although it seems that erotic love generally was the prevailing topic in the medieval world, and the Early Modern Age parallel to this, the Ciceronian ideal of friendship also dominated the public discourse, as this collection of essays demonstrates Following an extensive introduction the individual contributions explore the functions and the character of friendship from Late Antiquity Augustine to the 17th century They show the spectrum of variety in which this topic appeared not only in literature but also in politics and even in painting
