Resistance Bryn Jones, 2012-04-30 The great pandemic has struck One man discovers he is resistant to all illness or injury He fears he s doomed to watch his family die But then he discovers another who hasn t caught the virus and he claims to have a cure

A Dying Planet Short Stories , 2020-07-07 Resources running low the population exploding the planet is in danger are we masters of our own destruction or have we been invaded by aliens bent on mass extinction Is this a pattern across the entire universe or just our small sector of cosmic life This new title in our successful Gothic Fantasy Short Stories series explores the theme of a dying planet written by a fabulous mix of classic ancient and brand new writing with contemporary authors from all over the world For the first time we ve made a conscious effort to reach beyond our usual submissions seeking broader voices This book offers a glorious mix of American British Canadian Italian Indian Spanish and Chinese writers with contributions from Barton Aikman V K Blackwell Steve Carr Brandon Crilly AnaMaria Curtis Kate Dollarhyde Megan Dorei Stephanie Ellis Anita Ensal E E King Michael Kortess Raymond Little Ken Liu Thana Niveau John B Rosenman Sydney Rossman Reich Elizabeth Rubio Zach Shephard Shikhandin Alex Shvartsman Kristal Stittle Rebecca E Treasure Francesco Verso and Marian Womack These sit alongside classic stories by authors such as Clark Ashton Smith Stanley G Weinbaum H G Wells and more as well as stretching back much further to the Norse Eddas and Sagas and an Ancient Egyptian Myth on the death of humankind

The Inner Life of the Dying Person Allan Kellehear, 2014-06-03 This unique book recounts the experience of facing one s death solely from the dying person s point of view rather than from the perspective of caregivers survivors or rescuers Such unmediated access challenges assumptions about the emotional and spiritual dimensions of dying showing readers that along with suffering loss anger sadness and fear we can also feel courage love hope reminiscence transcendence transformation and even happiness as we die A work that is at once psychological sociological and philosophical this book brings together testimonies of those dying from terminal illness old age sudden injury or trauma acts of war and the consequences of natural disasters and terrorism It also includes statements from individuals who are on death row in death camps or planning suicide Each form of dying addressed highlights an important set of emotions and narratives that often eclipses stereotypical renderings of dying and reflects the numerous contexts in which this journey can occur outside of hospitals nursing homes and hospices Chapters focus on common emotional themes linked to dying expanding and challenging them through first person accounts and analyses of relevant academic and clinical literature in psycho oncology palliative care gerontology military history anthropology sociology cultural and religious studies poetry and fiction The result is an all encompassing investigation into an experience that will eventually include us all and is more surprising and profound than anyone can imagine

Dying Unto Life Arthur C. McGill, 2013-01-25 McGill has the power to make ideas concepts differing perspectives vivid to in flesh them Then comes the switch or reversal or inversion empowered by the very confrontation McGill has arranged McGill leaves only the demonic as the object of our worship Just when we supposed that he was about to come to the defense of this world governing background God he dismisses such a God leaving us with the demonic leaving us room to affirm our own doubts and perplexities leaving us with a harsher formulation than we might have ventured leaving us attentive to what he is going to do next and to where he is going to lead us Because by now we are following him From the Introduction Futures of Life Death on Earth Philippe Lynes,2018-11-19 Life on earth is currently approaching what has been called the sixth mass extinction also known as the Holocene or anthropocene extinction Unlike the previous five this extinction is due to the destructive practices of a single species our own Up to 50% of plant and animal species face extinction by the year 2100 as well as 90% of the world s languages Biocultural diversity is a recent appellation for thinking together the earth s biological cultural and linguistic diversity the related causes of their extinctions and the related steps that need to be taken to ensure their sustainability This book turns to the work of Jacques Derrida to propose a notion of general ecology as a way to respond to this loss to think the ethics ontology and epistemology at stake in biocultural sustainability and the life and death we differentially share on earth with its others It articulates an appreciation of the ecological and biocultural stakes of deconstruction and provokes new ways of thinking about a more just sharing of the earth The Christian Art of Dying Allen Verhey,2011-11-28 A renowned ethicist who himself faced death during a recent life threatening illness Allen Verhey in The Christian Art of Dying sets out to recapture dying from the medical world Seeking to counter the medicalization of death that is so prevalent today Verhey revisits the fifteenth century Ars Moriendi an illustrated spiritual self help manual on the art of dying Finding much wisdom in that little book but rejecting its Stoic and Platonic worldview Verhey uncovers in the biblical accounts of Jesus death a truly helpful paradigm for dying well and faithfully Book 8. «The art of dying. Part 3» Oris Oris,1998-01-01 The author has tried to give the most detailed answers to specific questions through his many years of experience of independent out of body explorations of the Ethereal World how to die correctly How to learn to accept your death in time How the transformation of subtle bodies takes place during the postmortem transition This book describing in the most detailed way the changing state of a person s Consciousness during the process called dying and his Soul s presence in various vibrations of the energies of the Astral is also a kind of manual of religious therapy and eschatological psychosurgery carried out through the most detailed texts of Instructions read by relatives for the dying ones or an already dead person in order to strengthen and awaken his Consciousness before the Transition to the Other World Among other things this book can safely be classified as one of the most detailed travel guides to the many realms and spheres of the Ethereal World which we commonly refer to as the afterlife The Philosophy of Parochialism Radomir Konstantinovic,2021-10-07 Available for the first time in English an essay with important insights on the sources of totalitarianism intolerance and racism Dying for Freedom Jacob Dlamini,2024-07-09 What happens when death becomes the ultimate marker of one s commitment to one s freedom What happens when the opposite of freedom is not unfreedom but death not slavery but mortality How are we to think of the right to life when a political demand for dignity and honor might be more important than life itself Dying for Freedom explores these questions by drawing on archival evidence from South Africa to show how death and conflicting notions of sacrifice dominated the struggle for political equality in that country This political investment in death as a marker of commitment to the anti apartheid struggle encouraged a masculinist style of politics in which the fight for freedom was seen and understood by many activists as a struggle literally for manhood This investment generated a notion of political sacrifice so absolute that anything less than death was rendered suspect More importantly it resulted in a hierarchy of death whereby some deaths were more important than others and where some deaths could be mourned and others not This highly original account of the necropolitics of the liberation struggle will be of interest to students and scholars throughout the humanities and social sciences and to anyone interested in South Africa

The Unruly Dead Lia Kent, 2024 What might it mean to take the dead seriously as political actors asks Lia Kent in this exciting new contribution to critical human rights scholarship In Timor Leste a new nation state that experienced centuries of European colonialism before a violent occupation by Indonesia from 1975 to 1999 the dead are active participants in social and political life who continue to operate within familial structures of obligation and commitment On individual local and national levels Timor Leste is invested in various forms of memory work including memorialization exhumation reburial and commemoration of the occupation s victims Such practices enliven the dead allowing them to forge new relationships with the living and unsettling the state building logics that seek to contain and control them With generous careful ethnography and incisive analysis Kent challenges comfortable linear narratives of transitional justice and argues that this memory work is reshaping the East Timorese social and political order a process in which the dead are active and sometimes disruptive participants Community ties and even the landscape itself are imbued with their presence and demands and the horrific scale of mass death in recent times up to a third of the population perished during the Indonesian occupation means Timor Leste s dead have real significant power in the country s efforts to remember recover and reestablish itself
