

The background of the entire cover is an abstract, light-colored map. It features a network of thin, grey lines that form a complex, interconnected web of polygons, resembling a topographical map or a digital network. Scattered across this network are several small, red square markers and clusters of tiny black dots, suggesting specific locations or data points on a landscape.

Landscape Architecture and Digital Technologies Jillian Walliss, Heike Rahmann, 2016-02-12

Landscape Architecture and Digital Technologies explores how digital technologies are reshaping design and making in landscape architecture. While the potentials of digital technologies are well documented within landscape planning and visualisation, their application within design practice is far less understood. This book highlights the role of the digital model in encouraging a new design logic that moves from the privileging of the visual to a focus on processes of formation bridging the interface of the conceptual and material, the virtual and the physical. Drawing on interviews and projects from a range of international designers including Snøhetta, Arup, Gustafson Porter + ASPECT Studios, Grant Associates, Catherine Mosbach, Philippe Rahm, PARKKIM, LAAC and PEG office of landscape architecture, among others, the authors explore the influence of parametric modelling, scripting, real time data simulation, prototyping, fabrication and Building Information Modelling on the design and construction of contemporary landscapes. This engagement with practice is expanded through critical reflection from academics involved in landscape architecture programs around the world that are reshaping their research and pedagogy to reflect an expanded digital realm. Crossing critical theory, technology and contemporary design, the book constructs a picture of an emerging twenty-first century practice of landscape architecture premised on complexity and performance. It also highlights the disciplinary demands and challenges in engaging with a rapidly evolving digital context within practice and education. The book is of immense value to professionals and researchers and is a key publication for digital landscape courses at all levels.

Architecture's Model Environments Lisa Moffitt, 2023-02-20

Seen through the distilling lens of the architectural model, Architecture's Model Environments is a novel and far-reaching exploration of the many dialogues buildings have with their environmental surroundings. Expanding on histories of building technology, the book sheds new light on how physical models, conventionally understood as engineering experimentation devices, enable architectural design speculation. The book begins with a catalogue of ten original model prototypes of wind tunnels, water tables and filling boxes and is the first of its kind to establish an architectural approach to fabricating such environmental models. Subsequent chapters feature three precedent models that have been largely overlooked within the wider oeuvres of their authors: French polymath Étienne Jules Marey's 1900 2 wind tunnels; Hungarian American architect Victor and Aladar Olgyay's 1955 63 thermoheliadon; and Scottish chemist and building ventilation expert David Boswell Reid's 1844 test tube convection experiments. Moving between historic moments and the present day, between case studies and original prototypes, the book reveals the potent ability for models as both physical artefacts and mental ideals to reflect prevailing cultural views about the world and to even reshape those views. Fundamentally, Architecture's Model Environments illustrates how environmental models reveal design insights across scales from the seam that leaks to the body that feels to the building that mediates to the world that immerses.

INNOVATION IN DESIGN: Methods and Technology for

Progressive Practice and Research Neşe YILMAZ BAKIR, H. Hale KOZLU, The Evolution of Computation in Architecture Michael Fox, Bradley Bell, 2024-10-31 This book is the first comprehensive overview of the pioneering works events and people that contributed to the paradigm shift defined by computation in architecture Only recently has computation fostered profound new ways of designing fabricating constructing and thinking about architecture While the profession sits at the end of the beginning of this historically transformative shift it is now possible to look back upon the rapidly maturing landscape of projects influencers and tools that have finally begun to catch up with the visionary thinking of the past Readers are guided through the fascinating and fast paced historical timeline of the development of computation in architecture Beginning with an account of the pioneering futuristic thinkers the authors then guide the reader through the birth of computation the appropriation of tools and the impact of experimentation on the profession leading into the legitimacy of research and how paradigms have been expanded The examples and influences are presented in a way that they can be understood and built upon This book is a must read for students of computation in architecture as well as researchers and practicing architects thinking about how the tools we use and the ways we design our buildings and environments with them can truly impact our lives

Urban and Transit Planning (Vol 1): Strategies, Innovations and Climate Management Francesco Alberti, Simon Elias Bibri, Cristina Piselli, Paola Gallo, Abraham R. Matamanda, Hamid Rabiei, Rosa Romano, Ayse Ozcan Buckley, 2025-03-04 This book explores aspects of creating cities and structures with a focus on sustainability It provides an analysis of contemporary methodologies technologies and principles essential for designing urban environments and buildings that significantly reduce environmental impact Moreover it emphasizes the importance of energy efficiency resource conservation and the integration of green spaces to enhance the quality of life for urban dwellers Covering a broad spectrum of topics from sustainable urban mobility to green architecture and smart city initiatives this book serves as an invaluable resource for professionals researchers and students Furthermore it aims to inspire and guide those dedicated to developing a sustainable future through innovative and responsible urban planning and architectural design practices

Patterns of Interaction Pia Fricker, Toni Kotnik, 2023-02-06 This book is a reflection on contemporary computational design thinking at the intersection of architecture urban design and landscape architecture in a time marked by complex challenges like climate change urbanization and population growth Based on a critical rethinking of the notion of ground and the relation between the manmade and the natural environment an understanding of architecture as regenerative practice is proposed It aims at a built environment as landscape at an architecture of prosthetic nature The design approach is illustrated by a number of design experiments conducted within a studio setting and complemented by a series of conversations with leading experts on sustainable design and landscape architecture
