Researching Race And Ethnicity Methods Knowledge And Power:

Researching 'Race' and Ethnicity Yasmin Gunaratnam, 2003-08-18 Drawing upon ethnographic research the author uses detailed case study examples to show how race and ethnicity is produced negotiated and resisted in qualitative research encounters Researching Race and Racism Martin Bulmer, John Solomos, 2004 This new work brings together contributions from some of the leading researchers in the field using the benefit of their experience to explore the practical and ethical issues involved in researching in this often controversial field The Routledge Companion to Military Research Methods Alison J. Williams, Neil Jenkins, Rachel Woodward, Matthew F. Rech, 2016-04-28 This new handbook is about the practices of conducting research on military issues As an edited collection it brings together an extensive group of authors from a range of disciplinary perspectives whose chapters engage with the conceptual practical and political questions raised when doing military research The book considers a wide range of questions around research about on and with military organisations personnel and activities from diverse starting points across the social sciences arts and humanities Each chapter in this volume Describes the nature of the military research topic under scrutiny and explains what research practices were undertaken and why Discusses the author s research activities addressing the nature of their engagement with their subjects and explaining how the method or approach under scrutiny was distinctive because of the military context or subject of the research Reflects on the author s research experiences and the specific often unique negotiations with the politics and practices of military institutions and military personnel before during and after their research fieldwork The book provides a focussed overview of methodological approaches to critical studies of military personnel and institutions and processes and practices of militarisation and militarism In particular it engages with the growth in qualitative approaches to military research particularly research carried out on military topics outside military research institutions The handbook provides the reader with a comprehensive guide to how critical military research is being undertaken by social scientists and humanities scholars today and sets out suggestions for future approaches to military research This book will be of much interest to students of military studies war and conflict studies and research methods in general Researching Race in Education Adrienne D. Dixon, 2014-06-01 In traditional educational research race is treated as merely a variable In 1995 Gloria Ladson Billings and William F Tate IV argued that race is under theorized in education and called for educational researchers to pay closer attention to the relationship between race and educational inequity Ladson Billings and Tate 1995 In particular they argued drawing on legal scholar Derrick Bell s notion of Racial Realism Bell 1995 that racialized inequities are not accidental or aberrant rather racialized educational inequities are the result of particular and specific policies and practices that are designed to maintain particular forms of dominance and marginalization More specifically Bell and later Ladson Billings and Tate argue that racial inequity persists despite liberal policies and legislation that were ostensibly designed to eradicate it The Racial Realist perspective takes into the consideration the longevity and history of racism racial inequity and White supremacy in the U S and serves as a mirror to reflect back the limitations of proposed policies and legislation that fail to address those issues In this way Critical Race Theory and the scholars who draw on CRT view our work as an important check and balance in the effort toward racial equality
