Residential Tourism Deconstructing Paradise Tourism And Cultural Change:

Touring Pacific Cultures Kalissa Alexeyeff, John Taylor, 2016-12-15 Tourism is vital to the economies of most Pacific nations and as such is an important site for the meaningful production of shared and disputed cultural values and practices. This is especially the case when tourism intersects with other important arenas for cultural production both directly and indirectly. Touring Pacific Cultures captures the central importance of tourism to the visual material and performed cultures of the Pacific region. In this volume we propose to explore new directions in understanding how culture is defined, produced, experienced and sustained through tourism related practices across that region. We ask how is cultural value, ownership, performance and commodification negotiated and experienced in actual lived practice as it moves with people across the Pacific. This collection is a welcome addition to tourism studies or perhaps we should say post or para tourism. The essays bring out many facets and experiences too quickly bundled under a single label and focused exclusively on destinations visited by outsiders. Tourism, we see here, actively involves many different populations, societies and economies, a range of local, global, regional engagements that can be both destructive and creative. Western outsiders aren't the only ones on the move. Unequal power, neo-colonial exploitation and capitalist commodification are very much part of the picture. But so are desire, adventure, pleasure, cultural reinvention and economic development. The effect overall is an attitude of alert, critical ambivalence with respect to a proliferating historical phenomenon. A bumpy and rewarding ride. James Clifford, Professor Emeritus, University of California Santa Cruz Resisting Paradise Angelique V. Nixon, 2015-09-25 Winner of the Caribbean Studies Association's 2016 Barbara T. Christian Award for Best Book in the Humanities. Tourists flock to the Caribbean for its beaches and spend more than just blankets and dollars. Indeed, tourism has overly affected the culture there. Resisting Paradise explores the import of both tourism and diaspora in shaping Caribbean identity. It examines Caribbean writers and others who confront the region's overdependence on the tourist industry and the many ways that tourism continues the legacy of colonialism. Angelique V. Nixon interrogates the relationship between culture and sex within the production of paradise and investigates the ways in which Caribbean writers, artists and activists respond to and powerfully resist this production. Forms of resistance include critiquing exploitation, challenging dominant historical narratives, exposing tourism's influence on cultural and sexual identity in the Caribbean and its diaspora, and offering alternative models of tourism and travel. Resisting Paradise places emphasis on the Caribbean people and its diasporic subjects as travelers and as cultural workers contributing to alternate and defiant understandings of tourism in the region. Through a unique multidisciplinary approach to comparative literary analysis, interviews and participant observation, Nixon analyzes the ways Caribbean cultural producers are taking control of representation. While focused mainly on the Anglophone Caribbean, the study covers a range of territories including Antigua, the Bahamas, Grenada, Haiti, Jamaica, as well as Trinidad and Tobago to deliver a potent critique.

Making Peoples left off taking the story of the New Zealanders from the 1880s to the end of the twentieth century It begins with the search for Better Britain and ends by analyzing the modern Maori resurgence the new Pakeha consciousness and the implications of a reinterpreted past for New Zealand s future Along the way the book deals with subjects ranging from sport and sex to childhood and popular culture Critics hailed Making Peoples as brilliant and the most ambitious book yet written on New Zealand s past Paradise Reforged its successor adopts a similarly incisive original sweep across the New Zealand historical landscape in confronting the myths of the past That some of its themes are uncomfortably close to the present makes the result all the more fascinating

Domestic Disturbances Irene Mata,2014-11-15 The issue of immigration is one of the most hotly debated topics in the national arena with everyone from right wing pundits like Sarah Palin to alternative rockers like Zack de la Rocha offering their opinion The traditional immigrant narrative that gained popularity in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries continues to be used today in describing the process of the Americanization of immigrants Yet rather than acting as an accurate representation of immigrant experiences this common narrative of the American Dream attempts to ideologically contain those experiences within a story line that promotes the idea of achieving success through hard work and perseverance In Domestic Disturbances Irene Mata dispels the myth of the shining city on the hill and reveals the central truth of hidden exploitation that underlies the great majority of Chicana Latina immigrant stories Influenced by the works of Latina cultural producers and the growing interdisciplinary field of scholarship on gender immigration and labor Domestic Disturbances suggests a new framework for looking at these immigrant and migrant stories not as a continuation of a literary tradition but instead as a specific Latina genealogy of immigrant narratives that more closely engage with the contemporary conditions of immigration Through examination of multiple genres including film theatre and art as well as current civil rights movements such as the mobilization around the DREAM Act Mata illustrates the prevalence of the immigrant narrative in popular culture and the oppositional possibilities of alternative stories
