Retailing Environments in Developing Countries John Dawson, Allan M Findlay, Ronan Paddison, 2005-07-08

Containing a broad cross section of case studies this volume explores some of the factors which explain the variety of retail structures and modes of consumer behaviour that characterise retailing in developing countries Retailing: The evolution and development of retailing A. M. Findlay, Leigh Sparks, 2002 Remaking Management Chris Smith, Brendan

McSweeney, Robert Fitzgerald, 2008-05-08 Debates about the consequences for work practices posed by the rapidly growing transnationalisation of business have become increasingly central to management studies sociology political science geography and other disciplines Remaking Management brings together a range of international contributors from different sub disciplines in management to examine current theories of change or continuity of work practices in the context of fashionable claims about unstoppable globalisation or unmoveable national business systems It provides theoretical and empirical challenges to both of these explanations Rejecting an overemphasis on inevitable convergence or enduring divergence the book reveals a mix of international national and organisational level influences on workplace practice This is a rich and wide ranging resource for graduate students and academics concerned with how organisations are responding to an increasingly complex commercial environment Aspects of the Marketing Environment in Developing Countries

Alice Patricia Van der Reis, 1993 History of Korean Modern Retailing Jong-Hyun Yi, 2015-09-29 In History of Korean Modern Retailing Jong Hyun Yi shows how the Korean retail industry has developed since the 1970s focusing on the relationship among government consumers and retail companies especially the department store While generally it is said that underdevelopment of the Korean retail industry in the 1970s was attributed to economic immaturity he argues it was artificially formed by strong consumption repression by the government He also examines how consumption repression contributed to economic growth Such initial condition in developmental period is a crucial factor to explain other distinctions like explosive growth and remarkably short heyday of the department store afterward With this Jong Hyun Yi traces the correlation between economic growth and stratification of the consumption since the 1970s He proves that equality or inequality of consumption is a more influential factor for economic growth than that of income International Retailing

Nicholas Alexander, Anne Marie Doherty, 2009 International Retailing reflects contemporary research and current practice focusing on what is happening in the field who is making it happen why it is happening in the way it is and how it is happening Structured around four parts this textbook guides students through the internationalization process considering international markets and how retail companies operate within them It concludes by exploring future trends and challenges of the international retail marketplace The text is packed with a wealth of international examples and familiar case studies clearly showing how the theory translated into practice BOOK JACKET Retailing: Comparative and international
