Rethinking Corporatization And Public Services In The Global South:

Rethinking Corporatization and Public Services in the Global South David A. McDonald, 2014-04-10 After three decades of privatization and anti state rhetoric government ownership and public management are back in vogue This book explores this rapidly growing trend towards corporatization public enterprises owned and operated by the state with varying degrees of autonomy If sometimes driven by neoliberal agendas there exist examples of corporatization that could herald a brighter future for equity oriented public services Drawing on original case studies from Asia Africa and Latin America this book critically examines the histories structures ideologies and social impacts of corporatization in the water and electricity sectors interrogating the extent to which it can move beyond commercial goals to deliver progressive public services The first collection of its kind Rethinking Corporatization and Public Services in the Global South offers rich empirical insight and theoretical depth into what has become one of the most important public policy shifts for essential services in the global South

Corporatizing Canada Jamie Brownlee, Chris Hurl, Kevin Walby, 2018-05-15 Meanings of Public and the Future of Public Services David A. McDonald, 2022-09-09 Critically assessing meanings of the term public this book situates the emergence and expansion of public services within market based forms of production and consumption It highlights the potential for making public services more progressive within market societies but underscores their ongoing capture by private interests and emphasises the inherent limits of reform within a bourgeois public sphere The author explores opportunities for more expansive forms of non marketized public services examining emerging debates on the theory and practice of equitable participatory and sustainable forms of publicness that go beyond mere ownership The book then asks how we can build a robust international pro public movement that juggles universal needs with local context With a focus on essential public services such as water electricity and health the text is global in its scope and written for a broad audience It will be useful for those interested in social and public policy public services and public administration political theory economic geography social movements sustainability and development Making Public in a Privatized World

David A. McDonald, 2016-02-15 How do we provide effective public services in a deeply neoliberal world In the wake of the widespread failure of privatisation efforts societies in the global south are increasingly seeking progressive ways of recreating the public sector With contributors ranging from cutting edge scholars to activists working in health water and energy provision and with case studies covering a broad spectrum of localities and actors Making Public in a Privatized World uncovers the radically different ways in which public services are being reshaped from the grassroots up From communities holding the state accountable for public health in rural Guatemala to waste pickers in India and decentralized solar electricity initiatives in Africa the essays in this collection offer probing insights into the complex ways in which people are building genuine alternatives to privatization while also illustrating the challenges which communities face in creating public services which are not subordinated to the logic of the market or to the monolithic state entities of the past The

Routledge Handbook of State-Owned Enterprises Luc Bernier, Massimo Florio, Philippe Bance, 2020-05-27 State owned enterprises make up roughly 10 percent of the world economy yet they are woefully understudied This handbook offers the first synthesis of the topic since the 1980s and offers a comprehensive reference for a generation The authors provide a detailed explanation of the theory that underpins the expansion of state owned enterprises in the 21st century Each chapter delivers an overview of current knowledge as well as identifying issues and relevant debates for future research The authors explain how state owned enterprises are used in both developed and developing countries and offer an insight into complex and fascinating organizations such as the German municipal conglomerates or the multinational companies owned by states New modes of governance and regulation have been invented to make sure they act in the public interest This handbook brings together a wealth of international scholars offering multiple theoretical perspectives to help shape a brave new world It will be of interest to teachers and students of Economics Public Administration and Business academics established researchers and PhD students seeking rigorous literature reviews on specific aspects of SOEs as well as practitioners and decision makers in international organizations

Public Banks and Public Water in the Global South Thomas Marois, David A. McDonald, Susan Spronk, 2024-12-05 This volume presents the first systematic review of public bank lending in the water sector in the Global South Many public banks have an explicit mandate to finance public water management yet despite a resurgence of interest in public banks and the role they can play in sustainable development their role in funding water management has been largely ignored Drawing on case studies from Asia Africa and Latin America this book measures the scale and nature of interaction between public banks and public water operators for the provision of safe drinking water and sanitation It identifies challenges and opportunities for deeper engagement between public banks and public water operators in the Global South and highlights promising practices showcasing how these might be transferred to different regions and different sectors Each case study is based on in depth interviews with public banks that have funded public water operators and public water operators that have borrowed from public banks including Banco Popular in Costa Rica the Development Bank of the Philippines the National Bank for Agricultural and Rural Development in India and the TIB Development Bank in Tanzania Overall this book provides a critical analysis of the potential of public banks to address global water security issues This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of water resource management water and health sanitation and sustainable development It will also be of interest to professionals and policymakers working with public and development banks in the supply of safe water and sanitation for all The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

Privatization in Turkey Ahmet Zaifer,2022-06-27 In Privatization in Turkey Power Bloc Capital

Accumulation and State Ahmet Zafer offers a rare look on privatization in Turkey that involves all three historical periods of Turkish privatization process 1980s and 1990s 2000s and 2010s and covers different forms of privatization from divestiture to public private partnership Benefiting from theoretically informed qualitative research spanning nearly a decade that has involved several interviews with key informant groups extensive review of newspaper articles and detailed analysis of annual reports of businesses Ahmet Zafer convincingly proves that the acceleration of privatization in Turkey has not only provided advantages to so called favourable capital groups and the government elites but also consolidated the position of Capital in General at the expense of labouring popular classes and the natural environment of the entire country Corporatization

and the Right to Water in Colombia Marcela López, 2022-05-11 This book explores how conflicts around access to water shape cities citizenship and infrastructures by tracing how water is commodified and controlled by the Public Enterprises of Medellín EPM one of the most successful publicly owned utility companies in the global South Why are water inequalities dramatically increasing in Medellín a city that is located in an area of bountiful water resources and owns a successful established utility company This book explains this paradoxical situation by weaving together two central threads The first is a critical historical analysis of the political economic and ecological conditions that enabled the city's utility company to grow and expand internationally and the second is a rich account of the everyday practices and struggles of residents in low income areas to secure access to water and demand citizenship rights The EPM is a case of global significance as the company continues to expand its commercial operations in the Latin American services market by taking over the utilities in Panama El Salvador and Guatemala Mexico and Chile Although its successful international expansion has been a source of pride and admiration for many Colombians the implementation of market oriented operating principles in all activities of the utility company raises important and complex questions about its public character and responsibility in the provision of basic services which has much wider implications given how it is poised to be a model for other for profit municipal service operations in other Latin American countries This book advances the empirical knowledge of corporatized utilities with a globally significant case as well as providing new theoretical insights with which to understand the limits challenges and opportunities faced by public utility companies to provide affordable and equal access to water in cities This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of water resource management corporatization privatisation and commodification of natural resources urban studies citizenship and human rights environmental sociology and Latin American studies
