The diagram illustrates a 3x1x1 cube constructed from smaller unit cubes. It shows three identical blue rectangular blocks, each representing a 1x1x1 unit cube, stacked vertically. Below these blocks is a 3x3x3 grid of smaller cubes. The top row of three cubes in this grid is highlighted in light blue, representing the top face of the 3x1x1 cube.

The diagram illustrates three identical blue rectangular blocks arranged horizontally. Below each block is a horizontal line, and below these lines is a single horizontal line spanning the width of the three blocks.

The diagram shows three parallel plate capacitors connected in series. Each capacitor consists of a blue top plate and a white bottom plate. The bottom plates are connected in a series loop, and the top plates are connected to a 12V source.

Next Generation Genres Jessica Singer Early, 2022-11-29 Students need updated writing genres and a real reason to write. Evolutions in technology and connectivity have brought about significant changes in the ways writing is produced and shared. Yet despite monumental shifts in the practice of writing, how we teach writing has remained largely static. What we need is a new set of genres for writing instruction—genres that will speak to students who are already immersed in rich and multifaceted literacy practices through social media, gaming, and new technologies. Jessica S. Early's Next Generation Genres provides an alternative framework for a secondary writing curriculum that places a central emphasis on helping students gain the experience they need to write with confidence in academic and civic life. If your students glaze over when they face a standard essay assignment, perhaps it's time to let them try writing an infographic or a podcast.

Visual Literacy in the K-12 Social Studies Classroom Matt Hensley, Stewart Waters, William B. Russell, 2023-09-01 Visual Literacy in the K-12 Social Studies Classroom is an engaging resource that unites pedagogical theory and practical strategies, empowering teachers to foster critical thinking and cultural awareness among students through the interpretation and creation of visual content. Packed with a variety of visual tools, resources, teacher-tested lesson plans, and more, this book showcases the power of leveraging visual literacy to craft authentic and meaningful social studies learning experiences that resonate with learners of all ages.

Teaching the Video Production Class David Howard, Amy Hunter, 2014-01-13 This guidebook is a must-have resource for anyone teaching a television production class or running a morning news show at the elementary, middle, or high school level. Teaching a television production class is a real challenge, especially when working with the typical budget and time limitations of most elementary, middle, or high school curricula. Beyond the technical aspects of teaching this subject, what is the best way to keep students engaged and challenged while teaching them skills that will help make them college- and career-ready? Spanning lesson plans, video production activities, assessment, and more, this book supplies a comprehensive step-by-step guide to teaching a television production class using whatever equipment is readily available. It focuses on the critical aspects of how to teach television production and organize lessons rather than the quickly evolving details of what equipment or editing software to use. The authors also provide lessons on creating and executing a daily newscast, show how to evaluate that show, and collect school-wide data for further evaluation and improvement, and how to archive and mount these productions on the school website.

Principles of Advertising Monle Lee, Carla Johnson, 2005 The authors present an integrated marketing approach to contemporary advertising. This new edition has been substantially updated to take account of the changes in the advertising industry that have marked the advent of the 21st century.
