Midrash And Theory Ancient Jewish Exegesis And Contempory Literary Studies Rethinking Theory:

Midrash and Theory David Stern,1996 In Midrash and Theory David Stern presents an approach to midrashic literature through the prism of contemporary theory As midrash the literature of classical Jewish Scriptural interpretation has become the focus of new interest in contemporary literary circles it has been invoked as a precursor of post structuralist theory and criticism At the same time the midrashic imagination has undergone a revival in the larger Jewish community and shown itself capable of exercising a powerful influence and hold on a new type of contemporary Jewish writing Stern examines this resurgence of fascination with ancient Jewish interpretation from the persepctive of the cultural relevance of midrash and its connection to its original historical and literary contexts

The Matriarchs in Genesis Rabbah Katie J. Woolstenhulme,2020-12-10 Katie J Woolstenhulme considers the pertinent questions Who were the matriarchs and what did the rabbis think about them Whilst scholarship on the role of women in the Bible and Rabbinic Judaism has increased the authoritative group of women known as the matriarchs has been neglected This volume consequently focuses on the role and status of the biblical matriarchs in Genesis Rabbah the fifth century CE rabbinic commentary on Genesis Woolstenhulme begins by discussing the nature of midrash and introducing Genesis Rabbah before exploring the term the matriarchs and its development through early exegetical literature culminating in the emergence of two definitions of the term in Genesis Rabbah the matriarchs as the legitimate wives of Israel's patriarchs and the matriarchs as a reference to Jacob's four wives who bore Israel's tribal ancestors She then moves to discuss the matriarchal cycle in Genesis Rabbah with its three stages of barrenness motherhood and succession Finally Woolstenhulme considers Genesis Rabbah's portrayal of the matriarchs as representatives of the female sex exploring positive and negative rabbinic attitudes towards women with a focus on piety prayer praise beauty and sexuality and the matriarchs exemplification of stereotypical negative female traits This volume concludes that for the ancient rabbis the matriarchs were the historical mothers of Israel bearing covenant sons but also the present mothers of Israel continuing to influence Jewish identity

Religious Studies and Rabbis Elizabeth Alexander, Beth Berkowitz, 2017-09-08 Religious Studies and Rabbis have overlapping yet distinct interests subject matter and methods Religious Studies is committed to the study of religion writ large It develops theories and methods intended to apply across religious traditions Rabbis by contrast is dedicated to a defined set of texts produced by the rabbinic movement of late antiquity Religious Studies and Rabbis represents the first sustained effort to create a conversation between these two academic fields In one trajectory of argument the book shows what is gained when each field sees how the other engages the same questions When did the concept of religion arise How should a scholar's normative commitments interact with their scholarship The book argues that if scholars from Religious Studies and Rabbis do not realize they are addressing the same problems they will not benefit from each other's solutions A second line of argument brings research methods theoretical claims and data associated with one field into contact with those of the other When Religious Studies categories such as ritual or the sacred are applied to data from Rabbis and conversely when text reading strategies distinctive to Rabbis are employed for texts from other traditions both Religious Studies and Rabbis enlarge their scope The chapters range across such themes as ritual failure rabbinic conceptions of scripture ethics food time and everyday life problems of definition and normativity in the study of religion J Z Smith s writings and the preaching of the African American Christian evangelical social justice activist John Perkins With chapters written by world class theorists of Religious Studies and prominent text scholars of Rabbis the book provides a unique opportunity to expand the conceptual reach and scholarly audience of both Religious Studies and Jewish Studies

The Jewish Law Annual Volume 19 Berachyahu Lifshitz, Hanina Ben-Menahem, 2013-07-04 Volume 19 of The Jewish Law Annual is a festschrift in honor of Professor Neil S Hecht It contains thirteen articles ten in English and three in Hebrew Several articles are jurisprudential in nature focusing on analysis of halakhic institutions and concepts Elisha Ancselovits discusses the concept of the prosbol asking whether it is correct to construe it as a legal fiction as several scholars have asserted He takes issue with this characterization of the prosbol and with other scholarly readings of Tannaitic law in general The concepts of dignity and shame are addressed in two very different articles one by Nahum Rakover and the other by Hanina Ben Menahem The former discusses halakhic sources pertaining to the dignity inherent in human existence and the importance of nurturing it The latter presents a fascinating survey of actual legal practices that contravened this halakhic norm Attestations of these practices are adduced not only from halakhic and semi halakhic documents but also from literary historical and ethnographic sources Three articles tackle topical issues of considerable contemporary interest Bernard S Jackson comments on legal issues relating to the concept of conversion arising from the story of the biblical heroine Ruth and compares that concept to the notion of conversion invoked by a recent English court decision on eligibility for admission to denominational schools An article by Dov I Frimer explores the much agonized over question of halakhic remedies for the wife whose husband refuses to grant her a get bill of divorce precluding her remarriage Frimer s focus is the feasibility of inducing the husband to grant the get through monetary pressure specifically by awarding the chained wife compensatory tort damages Tort remedies are also discussed in the third topical article by Ronnie Warburg on negligent misrepresentation by investment advisors Two papers focus on theory of law Shai Wozner explores the decision rules conduct rules dichotomy in the Jewish law context clarifying how analysis of which category a given law falls under enhances our understanding of the law s intent Daniel Sinclair explores the doctrine of normative transparency in the writings of Maimonides the Hatam Sofer and R Abraham Isaac Kook demonstrating that although transparency was universally endorsed as an ideal some rabbinical authorities were willing to forego transparency where maintenance of the halakhic system itself was imperiled An article by Alfredo M Rabello reviews the primary and secondary literature on end of life issues and contextualizes the much discussed talmudic passage bAvoda Zara 18a And an article by Chaim Saiman offers a critical survey of the main approaches to conceptualizing and teaching Jewish law in American universities it also makes suggestions for new and perhaps more illuminating pedagogic direction In the Hebrew section an intriguing article by Berachyahu Lifshitz presents a comparison of Persian and talmudic law on the status of promises and the role of the divine in their enforcement Yuval Sinai discusses the halakhic law of evidence particularly the well known two witnesses requirement and departures from it The volume closes with a historical article by Elimelech Westreich on the official rabbinical court in nineteenth century Jerusalem It focuses on the rabbinical figures who served on the court the communities for whom it adjudicated and its role in the broader geopolitical and sociocultural context

Border Lines Daniel Boyarin, 2010-11-24 The historical separation between Judaism and Christianity is often figured as a clearly defined break of a single entity into two separate religions Following this model there would have been one religion known as Judaism before the birth of Christ which then took on a hybrid identity Even before its subsequent division certain beliefs and practices of this composite would have been identifiable as Christian or Jewish In Border Lines however Daniel Boyarin makes a striking case for a very different way of thinking about the historical development that is the partition of Judaeo Christianity There were no characteristics or features that could be described as uniquely Jewish or Christian in late antiquity Boyarin argues Rather Jesus following Jews and Jews who did not follow Jesus lived on a cultural map in which beliefs such as that in a second divine being and practices such as keeping kosher or maintaining the Sabbath were widely and variably distributed The ultimate distinctions between Judaism and Christianity were imposed from above by border makers heresiologists anxious to construct a discrete identity for Christianity By defining some beliefs and practices as Christian and others as Jewish or heretical they moved ideas behaviors and people to one side or another of an artificial border and Boyarin significantly contends invented the very notion of religion
