Our Greatest Challenge Aboriginal Children And Human Rights:

Our Greatest Challenge Hannah McGlade, 2012 Hannah McGlade's book bravely addresses the complex and fraught issue of Aboriginal child abuse. She argues that Aboriginal child sexual assault has been formed within the entrenched societal forces of racism, colonisation and patriarchy yet cast in the Australian public domain as an Aboriginal problem with controversial government responses critiqued as racist and paternalistic. McGlade highlights that non-Aboriginal society has yet to acknowledge the traumatic impacts of the sexual assault on Aboriginal children which was part and parcel of the European project of civilisation. She provides detailed analysis of the legal systems response. While child sexual assault is a criminal offence, the Aboriginal experience of the law is tainted. Despite reforms to the law, the courtroom experience is based on re-victimisation and trauma which prevents the fundamental principle of equality before the law. McGlade believes that we should be guided by Indigenous human rights concepts and international Indigenous responses in addressing the problem. In doing so, she believes that we can help to stem the harm to future generations.

Indigenous Children's Right to Participate in Law and Policy Development Holly Doel-Mackaway, 2021-09-28 This book presents a model for reforming and developing Indigenous related legislation and policy not only in Australia but also in other jurisdictions. The model provides guidance about how to seek, listen to and respond to the voices of Indigenous children and young people. The participation of Indigenous children and young people when carried out in a culturally and age appropriate way and based on free prior and informed consent is an invaluable resource capable of empowering children and young people and informing Indigenous related legislation and policy. This project contributes to the emerging field of robust ethically sound participatory research with Indigenous children and young people and proposes ways in which Australian and international legislators and policymakers can implement the principle of children's participation by involving Aboriginal children and young people in the development of law and policy pertaining to their lives. This book provides accounts from Aboriginal children and young people detailing their views on how they can be involved in law and policy development in the future. It shows the latest state of knowledge on the topic and will be of interest to researchers, academics, policymakers, legislators and students in the fields of human rights, law, children's rights, participation rights, Indigenous peoples' law and family, child and social welfare law.

Plight and Fate of Children During and Following Genocide Samuel Totten, 2018-04-17 Plight and Fate of Children During and Following Genocide examines why and how children were mistreated during genocides in the twentieth and twenty-first centuries. Among the cases examined are the Australian Aboriginals, the Armenian genocide, the Holocaust, the Mayans in Guatemala, the 1994 Rwanda genocide and the genocide in Darfur. Two additional chapters examine the issues of sexual and gender-based violence against children and the phenomenon of child soldiers. Following an introduction by Samuel Totten, the essays include: Australia's Aboriginal Children: Hell is for Children; Children: The Most Vulnerable Victims of the Armenian Genocide; Children and the Holocaust; The Fate of Mentally and Physically Disabled Children in Nazi Germany; The Plight and

Fate of Children vis a vis the Guatemalan Genocide The Plight of Children During and Following the 1994 Rwandan Genocide Darfur Genocide Sexual and Gender Based Violence against Children during Genocide and Child Soldiers Contributors include Colin Tatz Henry C Theriault Asya Darbinyan Rubina Perroomian Jeffrey Blutinger Amanda Grzyb Elisa von Joeden Forgey Sara Demir Hannibal Travis and Samuel Totten The editor and several of the contributors have personally investigated and witnessed the aftermath of genocidal campaigns

Routledge International Handbook of Children's Rights Studies Wouter Vandenhoe, Ellen Desmet, Didier Reynaert, Sara Lembrechts, 2015-03-24 Since the adoption of the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child 1989 children's rights have assumed a central position in a wide variety of disciplines and policies This handbook offers an engaging overview of the contemporary research landscape for those people in the theory and practice of children's rights The volume offers a multidisciplinary approach to children's rights as well as key thematic issues in children's rights at the intersection of global and local concerns The main approaches and topics within the volume are Law social work and the sociology of childhood and anthropology Geography childhood studies gender studies and citizenship studies Participation education and health Juvenile justice and alternative care Violence against children and female genital mutilation Child labour working children and child poverty Migration indigenous children and resource exploitation The specially commissioned chapters have been written by renowned scholars and researchers and come together to provide a critical and invaluable guide to the challenges and dilemmas currently facing children's rights

Child Witnesses in Twentieth Century Australian Courtrooms Robyn Blewer, 2021-04-15 This book considers the law policy and procedure for child witnesses in Australian criminal courts across the twentieth century It uses the stories and experiences of over 200 children in many cases using their own words from press reports to highlight how the relevant law was or was not applied throughout this period The law was sympathetic to the plight of child witnesses and exhibited a significant degree of pragmatism to receive the evidence of children but was equally fearful of innocent men being wrongly convicted The book highlights the impact safeguards like corroboration and closed court rules had on the outcome of many cases and the extent to which fear of children of lies or the truth and of reform influenced the criminal justice process Over a century of children giving evidence in court it is clear that the more things changed the more they stayed the same

Decolonising Indigenous Child Welfare Terri Libesman, 2013-12-04 During the past decade a remarkable transference of responsibility to Indigenous children's organisation has taken place in many parts of Australia Canada the USA and New Zealand It has been influenced by Indigenous peoples human rights advocacy at national and international levels by claims to self determination and by the globalisation of Indigenous children's organisations Thus far this reform has taken place with little attention from academic and non Indigenous communities now Decolonising Indigenous Child Welfare Comparative Perspectives considers these developments and evaluating law reform with respect to Indigenous child welfare asks whether the pluralisation of responses to their welfare and well being within a cross cultural post colonial context can improve the lives of Indigenous children The legislative frameworks for the delivery of child welfare services to Indigenous children are assessed in terms of the degree of self determination which they afford Indigenous communities The book draws upon interdisciplinary research and the author s experience collaborating with the peak Australian Indigenous children s organisation for over a decade to provide a thorough examination of this international issue Dr Terri Libesman is a Senior Lecturer in the Law Faculty at the University of Technology Sydney She has collaborated researched and published for over a decade with the peak Australian Indigenous children s organisation See What You Made Me Do Jess Hill,2020-10-01

Every year in England and Wales alone one in twenty adults suffer domestic abuse two thirds of them women Every week two men kill a woman they were intimate with And still we ask the wrong question Why didn t she leave Instead we should ask Why did he do it Investigative journalist Jess Hill puts perpetrators and the systems that enable them in the spotlight Her radical reframing of domestic abuse takes us beyond the home to explore how power culture and gender intersect to both produce and normalise abuse She boldly confronts uncomfortable questions about how and why society creates abusers but can t seem to protect their victims and shows how we can end this dark cycle of fear and control See What You Made Me Do is a profound and bold confrontation of this urgent crisis and its deep roots It will challenge everything you thought you knew about domestic abuse Human Rights and Social Work Jim Ife,Karen Soldatić,Linda Briskman,2022-07-12 Human Rights and Social Work Towards Rights Based Practice helps students and practitioners understand how human rights concepts underpin the social work profession and inform their practice This book examines the three generations of human rights and the systems of oppression that prevent citizens from participating in society as equals It explores a range of topics from ethics and ethical social work practice to deductive and inductive approaches to human rights and global and local human rights discourses The language processes structures and theories of social work that are fundamental to the profession are also discussed This edition features case studies exploring current events movements and human rights crises including the Black Lives Matter movement the Northern Territory Emergency Response and homelessness among LGBTIQ young people This edition is accompanied by online resources for both students and instructors Human Rights and Social Work is an indispensable guide for social work students and practitioners Bureaucratic Occupation Julie Lahn,Elizabeth Strakosch,Patrick Sullivan,2024-12-31 This volume explores Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples interactions with public sector bureaucracies The authors featured here consider how bureaucracy relates to colonialism race and sovereignty in a post neoliberal world They also consider the diverse ways in which Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people working within and across these sectors negotiate and engage with bureaucratic structures Some contributors offer critiques of bureaucratic hierarchies and others provide insights into the complexity of bureaucratic culture drawing attention to the complex strategies of Indigenous people who aim to make bureaucracy work for themselves and their communities The volume overall provides a nuanced and substantive analysis of the relation of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples to the contemporary administrative state and an innovative perspective from which to examine Indigenous settler relations For those concerned with Indigenous policymaking this volume puts forward a new approach that focuses on policy relationships rather than processes or outcomes We Sing Songs for Life Julie Morsillo, 2025-08-28 Life can be hard with extra challenges for those who live in poverty who live in places with no safe haven and who face injustice This handbook provides some insights into practical ways to support those in need offering kindness and compassion whilst advocating for their human rights both in local communities and international communities that are in particular need In addition it gives ways to support the local environment whilst thinking globally so people can preserve a healthy planet for their children and grandchildren Sing songs together working in harmony to support others in need by valuing the lives of all peoples and the life of their common home earth
