Mobilizing Transnational Gender Politics In Post Genocide Rwanda Gender In A Globallocal World:

Mobilizing Transnational Gender Politics in Post-Genocide Rwanda Rirhandu Mageza-Barthel,2016-03-03 Mageza Barthel provides a context sensitive analysis of how Rwanda s women s movement used the United Nations UN gender norms in its efforts to insert gender specific demands in the post genocide period The overall goal of these women and their supporters has been to further gender equality and equity in Rwanda This study details which political processes could be engendered It further illustrates why certain gender norms were adopted and adapted whereas others were not The study addresses issues of global governance in gender politics through such international frameworks as CEDAW the Beijing Declaration and Platform for Action as well as Resolution 1325 These instruments have been brought forth by a transnational women s movement to benefit women and women s rights across the globe It shows how these gender norms were introduced adapted and contested locally at a crucial time of the transformation process underway Concerned with the interplay of domestic and international politics it also alludes to the unique circumstances in Rwanda that have led to unprecedented levels of women s political representation Which tools have been the most significant in women s mobilisation and how these relate to precedents set within international relations is of interest to a wide community of scholars and policy makers alike Mobilizing Transnational Gender Politics in Post-Genocide Rwanda Dr Rirhandu Mageza-Barthel,2015-08-28

Mageza Barthel addresses issues of global governance in gender politics through such international frameworks as CEDAW the Beijing Declaration and Platform for Action as well as Resolution 1325 These instruments have been brought forth by a transnational women s movement to benefit women and women s rights across the globe This book shows how these gender norms were introduced adapted and contested locally at a crucial time of the transformation process underway Concerned with the interplay of domestic and international politics it also alludes to the unique circumstances in Rwanda that have led to unprecedented levels of women s political representation Women, Gender Equality, and Post-Conflict

Transformation Joyce P. Kaufman,Kristen P. Williams,2016-10-04 The end of formal hostilities in any given conflict provides an opportunity to transform society in order to secure a stable peace This book builds on the existing feminist international relations literature as well as lessons of past cases that reinforce the importance of including women in the post conflict transition process and are important to our general understanding of gender relations in the conflict and post conflict periods Post conflict transformation processes including disarmament demobilization and reintegration DDR programs transitional justice mechanisms reconciliation measures and legal and political reforms which emerge after the formal hostilities end demonstrate that war and peace impact and are impacted by women and men differently By drawing on a strong theoretical framework and a number of cases this volume provides important insight into questions pertaining to the end of conflict and the challenges inherent in the post conflict transition period that are relevant to students and practitioners alike

Researching War Annick T. R. Wibben,2016-05-12 Researching War provides a unique overview of varied feminist contributions to the study of war through case studies from around the world Written by well respected scholars each chapter explicitly showcases the role of feminist methodological ethical and political commitments in the research process Designed to be useful for teaching also the book provides insight into feminist research practices for students and scholars wanting to further their understanding what it means to study war and other issues from a feminist perspective To this end every author follows a four part structure in the presentation of their case study outlining a research puzzle explaining the chosen approach describing the findings and finally offering a reflection on the feminist commitments that guided the research This book Provides a multi disciplinary perspective on war by drawing on disciplines such as anthropology history literature peace research postcolonial theory queer studies security studies and women s studies Showcases a multiplicity of experiences with war and violence emphasizing everyday experiences of war and violence with accounts from around the world Challenges stereotypical accounts of women violence and war by pointing to contradictions and unexpected continuities as well as unexpected findings made possible by adopting a feminist perspective Teases out linkages between various forms of political violence against women but increasingly also by women Discusses theoretical and methodological innovation in feminist research on war This book will be essential reading for advanced students and scholars of Security Studies Gender and Conflict Women and War Feminist International Relations and Research Methods Rethinking Silence, Voice and Agency in Contested Gendered Terrains Jane L. Parpart, Swati Parashar, 2019-01-15 Global and local contestations are not only gendered they also raise important questions about agency and its practice and location in the twenty first century Silence and voice are being increasingly debated as sites of agency within feminist research on conflict and insecurity Drawing on a wide range of feminist approaches this volume examines the various ways that silence and voice have been contested in feminist research and their impact on how agency is understood and performed particularly in situations of conflict and insecurity The collection makes an important and timely contribution to interdisciplinary feminist theorizing of silence voice and agency in global politics Interrogating the intellectual landscape of existing debates about agency silence and voice in an increasingly unequal and conflict ridden world the contributors to this volume challenge the dominant narratives of agency based on voice or speech alone as a necessary precondition for understanding or negotiating agency or empowerment Many of the authors have engaged in field research in both the Global South and North and bring in depth and diverse gendered case studies to their analysis focusing on the increasing importance of examining silence as well as voice for understanding gender and agency in an increasingly embattled and complicated world This book will contribute to and deepen existing discussions of agency silence and voice in development culture and gender studies political economy postcolonial and de colonial scholarship as well as in the field of International Relations Class, Gender and Migration María Eugenia D'Aubeterre Buznego, Alison Elizabeth Lee, María Leticia Rivermar Pérez, 2020-06-07 Using a gender sensitive political economy approach this book analyzes the emergence of new migration patterns between Central Mexico and the East Coast of the United States in the last decades of the twentieth century and return migration during and after the global economic crisis of 2007 Based on ethnographic research carried out over a decade details of the lives of women and men from two rural communities reveal how neoliberal economic restructuring led to the deterioration of livelihoods starting in the 1980s Similar restructuring processes in the United States opened up opportunities for Mexican workers to labor in US industries that relied heavily on undocumented workers to sustain their profits and grow When the Great Recession hit in the context of increasingly restrictive immigration policies some immigrants were more likely to return to Mexico than others This longitudinal study demonstrates how the interconnections among class and gender are key to understanding who stayed and who returned to Mexico during and after the global economic crisis Through these case studies the authors comment more widely on how neoliberalism has affected the livelihoods and aspirations of the working classes This book will be of key interest to scholars students and practitioners in migration studies gender studies politics and more broadly to international relations anthropology development studies and human geography

Gender Transitions Along Borders Marlene Solis, 2016-04-28 In recent decades women living in border cities have taken on new roles and have become one of the most vulnerable population groups experiencing the effects of the economic crisis of the early 21st century and the consequent increase in social inequality and violence This situation is particularly evident for the northern borderlands of Mexico and Morocco The geopolitical position of these regions is defined by their strong existing asymmetry with their neighbouring countries the United States in the case of Mexico and the Mediterranean European countries in the case of Morocco This book contributes to the understanding of current changes in the workplace in family in sexuality and sexual violence within the setting of the borderlands through various studies addressing the manner in which these transformations are interpreted and experienced by women in everyday life and in their individual and collective agency

Gender and Island Communities Firouz Gaini, Helene Pristed Nielsen, 2020-03-20 This book takes an explicitly feminist approach to studying gender and social inequalities in island settings while deliberating on islandness as part of the intersectional analysis Though there is a wealth of recent literature on islands and island studies most of this literature focuses on islands as objects of study rather than as contexts for exploring gender relations and local gendered developments Taking Karides Island feminism as a starting point and drawing from the wider literature on island studies as well as gender and place this book bridges this gap by exploring gender gender relations affect and politics in various island settings spanning a great variety of global locations from the Faroe Islands and Greenland in the north to Tasmania in south Insights on recent developments and gendered contestations in these locations provide rich food for thought on the intricate links between gender and place in a local global world This text will be of key interest to students and scholars of gender and feminist studies cultural studies Island studies anthropology and more broadly to sociology geography diversity and social justice studies global democracy and international relations

Gender, Violence and Politics in the Democratic Republic of Congo Dr Jane

Freedman,2015-11-28 Despite the high profile media reporting on sexual violence in the DRC and the widely publicized responses of the international community there is still very little real analysis of the real situation of women in the country This book provides such detailed analysis of gender relations in the DRC and goes beyond the usual explanations of sexual violence as a product of conflict to examine the complex and socially constructed gender norms and roles which underlie incidences of violence The book benefits from a comprehensive account of men s and women s roles in conflict violence peace building and reconstruction and evaluates the impacts of national and international political responses Rwanda After Genocide Caroline Williamson Sinalo,2018-10-04 In the 1994 Rwanda genocide around 1 million people were brutally murdered in just thirteen weeks This book offers an in depth study of posttraumatic growth in the testimonies of the men and women who survived highlighting the ways in which they were able to build a new and often enhanced way of life In so doing Caroline Williamson Sinalo advocates a new reading of trauma one that recognises not just the negative but also the positive responses to traumatic experiences Through an analysis of testimonies recorded in Kinyarwanda by the Genocide Archive of Rwanda the book focuses particularly on the relationship between posttraumatic growth and gender and examines it within the wider frames of colonialism and traditional cultural practices Offering a striking alternative to dominant paradigms on trauma the book reveals that notwithstanding the countless tales of horror pain and loss in Rwanda there are also stories of strength recovery and growth
