Models Of The Eucharist Models Of The Eucharist:

Models of the Eucharist, Second Edition Irwin, Kevin W., 2020 In this book updated with the texts of the third edition of the Roman Missal Kevin Irwin reflects on the jewel in the crown of Catholicism the celebration of the Eucharist His book theological pastoral and contemporary is essentially concerned with issues about the Eucharist that face us today decades after the truly historic and unprecedented revisions that took after the Second Vatican Council Some of these concerns are the result of unforeseen developments about the Eucharist resulting from other factors for example the decline in numbers of clergy which has led in some places to Sunday celebrations without the Mass Other concerns arise from a lack of proper catechesis about the Mass and a keen desire to understand why and how the Eucharist is at the center of Catholic life In addition to being expressly theological this book is also expressly pastoral in that it is a reflection on the life lived by the church as it enacts the Eucharist and seeks to live out what the Eucharist celebrates The book is aimed at the audience of educated Catholics who seek a deeper appreciation of what the Eucharist is and who want to appropriate that understanding in the way they live their lives This book will be of particular interest to pastoral ministers both those present and those in training and the communities of faith whom they serve An Incarnational Model of the Eucharist James M.

Arcadi, 2018-05-31 The Eucharist is at the heart of Christian worship and at the heart of the Eucharist are the curious phrases This is my body and This is my blood James M Arcadi offers a constructive proposal for understanding Christ's presence in the Eucharist that draws on contemporary conceptual resources and is faithful to the history of interpretation He locates his proposal along a spectrum of Eucharistic theories Arcadi explores the motif of God's presence related to divine omnipresence and special presence in holy places which undergirds a biblical theological proposal concerning Christ's presence Utilizing recent work in speech act theory Arcadi probes the acts of consecration and renaming in their biblical and liturgical contexts A thorough examination of recent work in Christology leads to an action model of the Incarnation that borrows the notion of enabling externalism from philosophy of mind These threads undergird a model of Christ's presence in the Eucharist The Communion of Women Elizabeth E. Prevost, 2010-03-18 In the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries a number of British women left home to follow a call to the African mission field Women's involvement in Protestant foreign missions during this time grew out of organized efforts to professionalize women's social services to promote white women's distinct ability to emancipate heathen women and to consolidate the religious framework of the British Empire Motivated women could therefore pursue their vocation in a skilled independent capacity confident in the transformative power of the gospel and its institutional counterparts the Christian home school and clinic Yet women's missions did not transplant British paradigms easily onto African soil Instead missionary women encountered competing forms of culture and knowledge that caused them to approach evangelism as a series of negotiations and to rethink preconceived notions of race gender and religion The outcome was a feminized collaborative framework of Christianity which fostered new opportunities for solidarity and authority among British and African women So powerful were these individual encounters that they decentred collective representations of empire patriarchy progress and civilization Missionaries accordingly focused their attentions not only on the overseas mission field but on the British state and church as sites of regeneration emancipation and reform attempting to build a corporate body around women s Christian authority that would ameliorate the trauma of imperialism and war Elizabeth Prevost looks at missionaries as the products as well as the agents of the globalization of Christianity during a time of rapid change at the local regional and international level Anglican women in Madagascar Uganda and the British metropole form the basis for this story Using a rich and largely untapped base of archival and published sources and encompassing a wide scope of geographical social political and theological contexts Prevost brings together the fine grain and the broad strokes of the global interconnections of Christianity and feminism The Faith Lives of Women and Girls Nicola Slee,Fran Porter,Anne Phillips,2016-03-16 Identifying illuminating and enhancing understanding of key aspects of women and girls faith lives The Faith Lives of Women and Girls represents a significant body of original qualitative research from practitioners and researchers across the UK Contributors include new and upcoming researchers as well as more established feminist practical theologians Chapters provide perspectives on different ages and stages of faith across the life cycle from a range of different cultural and religious contexts Diverse spiritual practices beliefs and attachments are explored including a variety of experiences of liminality in women s faith lives A range of approaches ethnographic oral history action research interview studies case studies and documentary analysis combine to offer a deeper understanding of women s and girls faith lives As well as being of interest to researchers this book presents resources to enhance ministry to and with women and girls in a variety of settings Women Priests, Symbolic Violence, and Symbolic Resistance Sharon Jagger,2025-02-26 This book explores from a feminist sociological viewpoint the ways gender is constructed in the priesthood in the Church of England and the political emotional and spiritual resources generated by women priests in their resistance praxis against a discriminating structure Despite the increasing numbers of women being ordained the Church continues to structurally support and legitimise the view that the priesthood should be exclusively male and women priests still experience gender discrimination and or differentiation Drawing on Bourdieu s notion of symbolic violence the book aims to fill a gap in the research literature by showing how women priests do not necessarily misrecognise or collude in their domination but engage in hidden resistances and subversions Based on empirical research the study reveals that whilst there are barriers to protesting and complaining in conventional ways there are also significant resistances in how women priests perform their role The themes addressed are relevant for sociologists of religion and scholars of gender and women s studies as well as those with an interest in theology and Christian ministry The Eucharist in the West Edward J. Kilmartin,2015-09-22 In the light of its own history the Catholic theology of the Eucharist as it is generally understood today is revealed as a splinter tradition whose deficiencies call for fundamental reformulation The valid aspects of that theology for example the recovery of the role of the Holy Spirit in the new Roman Eucharistic Prayers must be identified and integrated with the faith and practice of the first theological millennium when the lex orandi was not so dominated by the lex credendi. In the third theological millennium more attention to the content and structure of the classical Eucharistic Prayers of both East and West will result in a Catholic systematic theology of eucharistic sacrifice that is not only truer to its biblical and patristic foundations but also of ecumenical import closer to some of the theological insights of the Protestant Reformers. These highlights of The Eucharist in the West illustrate the great value of this posthumous work. Conceptually complete but in only rough draft form at the time of Father Kilmartin's death it has been edited and prepared for publication by Robert J. Daly, S.J. Chapter one describes the characteristics of the eucharistic theology of the Western Latin Fathers. Chapter two identifies the more important orientations and developments of the Catholic tradition from early medieval Scholasticism up to the first part of the twelfth century. Chapter three singles out the special contribution of early Scholasticism to Latin eucharistic theology. Chapter four functions as a bridge from early Scholasticism to high Scholasticism by outlining the general approach to a synthetic theology of the Eucharist which was obtained at the beginning of the thirteenth century. Chapter five treats eucharistic theology from high Scholasticism to the Council of Trent. Chapter six summarizes the dogmatic teaching of the Council of Trent. This is followed in Chapter seven by a treatment of salient features of post Tridentine Eucharistic theology. Chapter eight includes an analysis of the practice and theology of Mass stipends. Chapter nine includes a detailed analysis of Aquinas's theology of the eucharistic sacrifice. Chapter ten offers an account of some recent contributions to the formulation of a theology of the eucharistic sacrifice which have contributed to the modern average Roman Catholic synthesis. Robert J. Daly, S.J. is a professor of theology at Boston College and former editor of Theological Studies. Edward J. Kilmartin, S.J. 1923-1994 professor for liturgical theology at the Pontifical Oriental Institute in Rome taught theology first at the Weston Jesuit School of Theology and later at Boston College. He served as director of the doctoral program in liturgical studies at the University of Notre Dame.

The Ministry of Women in the New Testament

Dorothy A. Lee, 2021-02-16 Respected scholar Dorothy Lee considers evidence from the New Testament and early church to show that women's ministry is confirmed by the biblical witness. Her comprehensive examination explores the roles women played in the Gospels and the Pauline corpus with a particular focus on passages that have been used in the past to limit women's ministry. She argues that women in the New Testament were not only valued as disciples but also given leadership roles which has implications for the contemporary church.

Women in Christianity in the Medieval Age Laura

Kalas, Roberta Magnani, 2024-12-10 This volume offers a comprehensive introduction to and investigation of the multivocality of women's experience in the Middle Ages. In medieval Europe women saw their role in the Christian Church and society progressively confined to conflicting models of femininity epitomised by the dichotomy of Eve/Mary. Classical views of gender predicated on misogynistic dichotomies which confined women to matter and the corruption of the flesh were consolidated in powerful male dominated clerical institutions and widely disseminated Towards the end of the Middle Ages however women's corporeality and somatic spirituality contributed to and influenced burgeoning modes of piety centred around the cult of the Virgin Mary and the veneration of the suffering body of Christ on the Cross This shift in devotional practices afforded women as bodily beings the space for an increased level of self expression self realisation and authority Ranging from philosophical and theological enquiry to education and art as well as medical sciences and popular beliefs the essays in this collection account for the complexities and richness of the conceptualisations and lived experiences of medieval Christian women The book will be especially relevant to students and scholars of religion and history with an interest in medieval studies and gender Whilst expounding the key strands of thinking in the field it engages with and contributes to some of the latest scholarly research

Reinterpreting the Eucharist Anne F. Elvey, Carol Hogan, Kim Power, Claire Renkin, 2014-10-14 The Eucharist continues to be central to contemporary Christian religious tradition and to be the focus for a wide range of assumptions and disputes Chief amongst these disputes is the role of women in the theology and the ritual of the Eucharist Reinterpreting the Eucharist brings together a diverse range of voices with each using their own marginalized experience to explore other ways indigenous culture medieval and contemporary art social history and environmental ethics of engaging with the Eucharist Presenting new forms of theological and ethical engagement the book responds to the challenge of reconsidering the meaning of the Eucharist today
