Gender-Intentional Breeding Case Studies Hale Tufan, Vivian Polar , Jacqueline Ashby, 2025-09-16 Plant breeding is experiencing a high level of novelty and innovation at a global scale reshaping its technical possibilities goals and intended impact A critical aspect of this change involves improving the usefulness of new varieties delivered by public sector breeding to specific customer groups to achieve faster more inclusive adoption and equitable benefit sharing in low income developing agriculture The problem addressed by this Collection is that the goal of more inclusive adoption requires breeding to improve its relevance to rural women by implementing gender intentional breeding In the past breeding programs often overlooked the specific preferences roles and responsibilities of women in agriculture although women can be key contributors to farming and livestock management As a result new crop varieties or livestock breeds were not always aligned with women s specific needs such as ease of cultivation processing or storage Poor alignment with users preferences and needs not only hinders the adoption of new varieties but limits their possibilities to benefit from these innovations Holt Chemistry
