Modern Construction Envelopes:

Modern Construction Envelopes Andrew Watts, 2019-05-20 Modern Construction Envelopes deals with the facade and roof as an integral part of the building allowing a holistic approach to the design of the building envelope and providing greater design freedom The book is aimed at readers who want to extend their knowledge of wall and roof construction beyond the information given in the Modern Construction Handbook using state of the art construction principles of modern facade and roof systems The third edition of this classic has been fully brought up to date it contains new examples in all chapters and presents the projects in revised new 3D drawings and in 27 AR applications that can be accessed free of charge via smartphone and tablet

Modern Construction Envelopes Andrew Watts, 2014-01-21 The second edition of Modern Construction Envelopes was originally based on the two books by Andrew Watts Modern Construction Roofs and Modern Construction Facades Both volumes were gathered into one single volume and consolidated in terms of content which permits the consideration of facades and roofs as envelopes Using current examples by renowned architects Watts presents the constructive and material related details This presentation is based on a text photos and standardized detail drawings as well as 3D representations of the components The new edition has 3D views that are easier to understand than the first edition with sharper images and more key explanations

Modern Construction Handbook Andrew Watts, 2022-11-21 New edition of the popular handbook The Modern Construction Handbook has become a classic of advanced construction literature not least due to its regular revisions and clear structure with chapters titled Material Wall Roof Structure Environment and Applications Tried and tested component details examples focusing on sustainability and energy consumption and an update on finite element analysis FEA and computational fluid dynamics CFD introduced in the last edition set new standards for this handbook which serves as a foundational textbook in many architecture courses As a primer Handbook to building design it is a starting point for the more advanced books Modern Construction Envelopes Modern Construction Case Studies Modern Environmental Design and Modern Structural Design by Andrew Watts Relevant details and examples for studies The most important aspects of building design covered in six chapters Project neutral drawings

Modern Construction Case Studies Andrew Watts, 2016-10-24 In the context of tight budgets complex geometries high energy efficiency and flexible user functions mean that the requirements for technical details and their execution in modern buildings are very exacting Modern Construction Case Studies presents planned under construction and completed innovative avant garde projects all designed by internationally recognized architectural practices such as Zaha Hadid BIG Jean Nouvel Gensler Lab Architecture Studio RMJM Architecture Nordic Office of Architecture and others The case studies are analyzed in a structured way under technical criteria using text photographs 3D illustrations and diagrams They provide inspiration for new approaches that also work for smaller scale projects

Building Envelopes Jenny Lovel, 2013-07-02 Few parts of a building work harder than its envelope also known as its facade The envelope is the part of the building most visible from the outside so it should be visually appealing but it can also have the biggest effect on the well being and safety of its occupants so the envelope should help heat and cool the building allow light into it and provide necessary structure Too often a building s envelope is more aesthetically striking than functional or vice versa A great building envelope though architecturally integrates all of its elements

Design and Construction of Bioclimatic Wooden Greenhouses, Volume 3 Gian Luca Brunetti, 2023-02-07 This book is the third of four dealing with bioclimatic design and construction by focusing on the most basic and polyvalent of modern environmental systems the bioclimatic greenhouse the Swiss army chainsaw of architecture More specifically this third volume focuses on how the envelope of bioclimatic wooden greenhouses may be designed and built In more general terms it helps us to consider how to design and build the transparent and opaque enclosures of bioclimatic low energy architecture with low environmental impact This multi volume book covers both free standing greenhouses that can naturally heat and cool themselves and lean to greenhouses that support the natural heating and cooling of buildings this includes both agricultural greenhouses and greenhouses suited to host people As a result it is a trans disciplinary work deriving its areas of concern from a broad range of study areas spanning from environmental to constructional to structural drawing the clarity of the approach from the fact that the topics are presented by a single author with a single voice and a designer s mindset To achieve this the book adopts a composite set of explanatory strategies and communication registers including extensive support by 3D construction drawings and examples and presents not only state of the art solutions but also experimental ones

Design and Construction of High-performance Homes Franca Trubiano, 2013 Both professionals and students are increasingly committed to achieving high performance metrics in the design construction and operation of residential buildings This book responds to this demand by offering a comprehensive guide which features architectural innovations in building skin technologies which make lighter more transparent buildings high performing energy free architectural design principles and advances in building integrated photovoltaics essential engineering principles controls and approaches to simulation for achieving net zero the advantages of integrated design in residential construction and the challenges and opportunities it engenders detailed case studies of innovative homes which have incorporated low energy design solutions new materials alternative building assemblies digital fabrication integrated engineering systems and operational controls Divided into four parts the book discusses the requisite AEC Architecture Engineering and Construction knowledge needed when building a high performance home It also communicates this information across four case studies which provide the reader with a thorough overview of all aspects to be considered in the design and construction of sustainable homes With contributions from experts in the field the book provides a well rounded and multi faceted approach This book is essential reading for students and professionals in design architecture engineering civil mechanical and electrical construction and energy management

Development of Thermal Envelope Design Guidelines for Federal Office Buildings Andrew K. Persily,1990 Office building envelopes are generally successful in meeting a range of structural aesthetic and thermal requirements However poor thermal envelope performance will occur when there are discontinuities in the envelope insulation and air barrier systems such as thermal bridges and air leakage sites These discontinuities result from designs that do not adequately account for heat air and moisture transmission with many thermal defects being associated with inappropriate or inadequate detailing of the connections of envelope components Despite the existence of these thermal envelope performance problems information is available to design and construct envelopes that do perform well In order to close the gap between available knowledge and current practice the Public Buildings Service of the General Services Administration has entered into an interagency agreement with the Center for Building Technology of the National Institute of Standards and Technology to develop thermal envelope design guidelines for federal office buildings The goal of this project is to transfer the knowledge on thermal envelope design and performance from the building research design and construction communities into a form that will be used by building design professionals This report describes the NIST GSA envelope design guidelines development at the end of the first year of effort on the project The effort to this point has consisted of a literature review of research results and technical information on thermal envelope performance and design an assessment of existing design guidelines as they relate to the thermal envelope and the development of a format and outline for the design guidelines

Construction of the Façade Systems Ingrid Paoletti,Massimiliano Natri,2023-12-04 The book explores the advanced façade systems according to the productive and constructive contents in a cognitive and operative form as a manual text to provide guidelines for researchers technicians and professionals It provides operational guidance for the technological design production planning and site executive coordination for the realization of façade systems The analysis deals with the main building elements and technical interfaces The study of the façade systems after explaining the anchoring structures and their connections to the load bearing elements investigates the criteria for the assembly between the framings In particular the book examines the technical interfaces of the main advanced envelope systems with respect to the functional constructive and applicative coordination procedures of the mullions and transoms framing of the structural sealant glazing façade system of the unit façade system of the suspended façade system and of the double skin façade system The technical and manual character of the book is also expressed through the analysis of the functional and application procedures of the gaskets with respect to the façade systems in order to prevent the transmission of air and water loads the analysis focuses on the connections between the framing and the enclosure elements of the envelope in accordance with the compensation of height differences in order to guarantee impermeability airtightness and insulation Then the book describes the assembly and interface conditions between elements of different composition and production within the fa ade systems the examination of the technical interfaces involves the development and application of sealants based on the loads exerted on the jointing devices in order to fulfill the requirements of sealing and tightness with respect to mechanical thermal and hygrometric water air and wind stresses Moreover the study of the envelope systems examines the methodologies directed toward fulfilling the requirements with respect to the actions caused by fire loads considering the contents related to both components and connections and fixing surfaces
