Read Oryx And Crake Online:

Violence and Dystopia Daniel Cojocaru,2015-09-18 Violence and Dystopia is a critical examination of imitative desire scapegoating and sacrifice in selected contemporary Western dystopian narratives through the lens of Ren Girard's mimetic theory The first chapter offers an overview of the history of Western utopia dystopia with a special emphasis on the problem of conflictive mimesis and scapegoating violence and a critical introduction to Girard's theory The second chapter is devoted to J G Ballard's seminal novel Crash 1973 Chuck Palahniuk's Fight Club 1996 and Rant 2007 and Brad Anderson's film The Machinist 2004 It is argued that the car crash functions as a metaphor for conflictive mimetic desire and leads to a quasi sacrificial crisis as defined by Girard for archaic religion The third chapter focuses on the psychogeographical writings of Iain Sinclair and Peter Ackroyd Walking the streets of London the pedestrian represents the excluded underside of the world of Ballardian speed The walking subject is portrayed in terms of the expelled victim of Girardian theory The fourth chapter considers violent crowds as portrayed by Ballard's late fiction the writings of Stewart Home and David Peace's GB84 2004 In accordance with Girard's hypothesis the discussed narratives reveal the failure of scapegoat expulsion to restore peace to the potentially self destructive violent crowds The fifth chapter examines the post apocalyptic environments resulting from failed scapegoat expulsion and mimetic conflict out of control as portrayed in Sinclair's Radon Daughters 1994 Margaret Atwood's The Handmaid's Tale 1985 and Oryx and Crake 2003 and Will Self's The Book of Dave 2006 Reading, Learning, Teaching Margaret Atwood Paul Lee Thomas,2007 Literature that confronts our students assumptions about the world and about text is the lifeblood of English classes in American high schools and colleges Margaret Atwood offers works in a wide variety of genres that fulfill that need This volume introduces readers students and teachers to the life and works of Atwood while also suggesting a variety of ways in which her works can become valuable additions to classroom experiences with literature and writing Furthermore this volume confronts how and why we teach English through Atwood's writing Future Humans in Fiction and Film Louisa MacKay Demerjian,Karen F. Genres in the Internet Janet Giltrow,Dieter Stein,2009 This volume brings together for the first time pragmatic rhetorical and literary perspectives on genre mapping theoretical frontiers and initiating a long overdue conversation amongst these methodologies The diverse approaches represented in this volume meet on common ground staked by Internet communication an arena challenging to traditional ideas of genre which assume a conventional stability at odds with the unceasing innovations of online discourse Drawing on and developing new ideas of genre the research reported in this volume shows on the contrary that genre study is a powerful means of testing commonplaces about the Internet world and in turn that the Internet is a fertile field for theorising genre

Dynamic Processes and Reading Novels Irene O'Leary,2025-05-12 This book is about the dynamic processes that generate novel reading It takes the view that the world is composed of dynamic processes and introduces a process dynamics approach to articulate this stance This fresh perspective draws on literary studies process philosophy and neuroscience to argue that dynamic literary and microcognitive processes constantly reconfigure the conditions that they co create during reading Analyses of The PowerBook by Jeanette Winterson The Curious Incident of the Dog in the Night time by Mark Haddon and Oryx and Crake by Margaret Atwood consider style narration allusion and creativity in interaction with diverse microcognitive processes involved in reading The analyses are strengthened by taking live action into account illuminating changes that many critical perspectives miss or standardise and avoiding reliance on illusory ideal readers and readings In proposing a process approach to dynamics and its analysis this book paves the way for new research across disciplines

The Ex-Human Michael Bérubé,2024-05-28 Facing threats like climate change and nuclear warfare science fiction authors have conjured apocalyptic scenarios of human extinction Can such gloomy fates help us make sense of our contemporary crises How important is the survival of our species if we wind up battling for an Earth that has become an uninhabitable hellscape What other possible futures do narratives of the end of humanity allow us to imagine Michael B rub explores the surprising insights of classic and contemporary works of SF that depict civilizational collapse and contemplate the fate of Homo sapiens In a lively conversational style he considers novels by writers including Ursula K Le Guin Margaret Atwood Liu Cixin Philip K Dick and Octavia Butler as well as films that feature hostile artificial intelligence such as 2001 A Space Odyssey Blade Runner and the Terminator and Matrix franchises B rub argues that these works portray a future in which we have become able to see ourselves from the vantage point of something other than the human Though framed by the possibility of human extinction they are driven by a vision of the ex human a desire to imagine that another species is possible For all science fiction readers worried about the fate of humanity The Ex Human is an entertaining yet sobering account of how key novels and films envision the world without us
