All Available Light Judy Polumbaum, 2021-06-18 As a young journalist during the Red Scare of the early 1950s Ted Polumbaum defied Congressional inquisitors and suffered the usual consequences he was fired blacklisted and trailed by the FBI Yet he survived with his integrity intact to build a new career as an intrepid photojournalist covering some of the most critical struggles of the latter half of the 20th century In this biography written two decades after his death his daughter introduces this quirky accomplished politically engaged family man of the Greatest Generation who was both of and ahead of his times Polumbaum's fortitude humor and optimism emerge animated by the conscience of principled dissidence and social activism His photography with its unpretentious portrayals of the famous the infamous and the unsung heroes of humanity around the world reflects his courage in the face of mass hysteria and his lifelong commitment to social justice The Insurmountable Darkness of Love Douglas E. Christie, 2022 This book is a reflection on the meaning of spiritual darkness especially those difficult places in human experience where meaning seems to elude us where we are emptied out and are compelled to dig deeper into who we truly are Douglas E Christie takes up this facet of experience in ordinary human experience but also in relation to the Christian contemplative and mystical traditions where such experience is often understood to be both painful and transformative allowing the mind and heart to open in love

Walter Cohen argues that the history of European literature and each of its standard periods can be illuminated by comparative consideration of the different literary languages within Europe and by the ties of European literature to world literature World literature is marked by recurrent systematic features outcomes of the way that language and literature are at once the products of major change and its agents Cohen tracks these features from ancient times to the present distinguishing five main overlapping stages Within that framework he shows that European literatures ongoing internal and external relationships are most visible at the level of form rather than of thematic statement or mimetic representation European literature emerges from world literature before the birth of Europe during antiquity whose Classical languages are the heirs to the complex heritage of Afro Eurasia This legacy is later transmitted by Latin to the various vernaculars The uniqueness of the process lies in the gradual displacement of the learned language by the vernacular long dominated by Romance literatures That development subsequently informs the second crucial differentiating dimension of European literature the multicontinental expansion of its languages and characteristic genres especially the novel beginning in the Renaissance This expansion ultimately results in the reintegration of European literature into world literature and thus in the creation of today's global literary system. The distinctiveness of European literature is to be found in these interrelated trajectories.
