My Unsensational Education Crux The Georgia Series In Literary Nonfiction

John Griswold

My Unsentimental Education Crux The Georgia Series In Literary Nonfiction:

My Withered Legs and Other Essays Sandra Gail Lambert, 2024-03 My Withered Legs and Other Essays is a collection of personal essays by Sandra Gail Lambert that reflects upon her experience becoming a writer alongside discussions of disability queerness and aging A seventy year history of disability is threaded throughout these essays and intertwined with writing that celebrates lesbian love explores the slapstick moments of life and shares the obstacles and triumphs of becoming a writer later in life The essays chronicle times of interruption and then adaptation as the disability skill of always just figuring it out becomes tested with age and with illness Throughout the book Lambert engages with topics of ageism and ableism through storytelling rich with wit and contemplation From childhood Lambert believed as a disabled person she was ice floe material rife for abandonment and during the pandemic she ticks off the additional comorbidities age fatness cancer a heart attack that groups her with the expendable In the essay Gimp Humor she is threatened with a ticket for not coming to a full stop while strolling along in her wheelchair Underpinning the humor is an analysis of whiteness and the wariness that can be lodged or not in a body Other essays reimagine the meaning of Old Lady Dabbler recount kayaking among a hundred alligators and tell the romantic laden with power dynamics tale of two lesbians in their sixties who fall in love Another essay explores the family story truth embellished with fiction of Lambert's mother finding an unexploded bomb nestled in her parents bed This tale of the London Blitz delves into the increasingly common experience of emergence after a disaster and the necessity of becoming especially for marginalized communities our own first responders

Pandora's Garden Clinton Crockett Peters, 2018-05 Pandora's Garden profiles invasive or unwanted species in the natural world and examines how our treatment of these creatures sometimes parallels in surprising ways how we treat each other Part essay part nature writing part narrative nonfiction the chapters in Pandora's Garden are like the biospheres of the globe as the successive chapters unfold they blend together like ecotones creating a microcosm of the world in which we sustain nonhuman lives but also contain them There are many reasons particular flora and fauna may be unwanted from the physical to the psychological Sometimes they may possess inherent qualities that when revealed help us to interrogate human perception and our relationship to an unwanted other Pandora's Garden is primarily about creatures that humans don't get along with such as rattlesnakes and sharks but the chapters also take on a range of other subjects including stolen children in Australia the treatment of illegal immigrants in Texas and the disgust function of the human limbic system Peters interweaves these diverse subjects into a whole that mirrors the evolving and interrelated world whose surprises and oddities he delights in revealing

Happier Far Diane Mehta, 2025-03-15 In Happier Far Diane Mehta takes us on a funny and engrossing tour of the absurdities and dilemmas of becoming a writer and how family can sometimes help us and sometimes get in the way From a vibrant childhood in India to her youth in an unwelcoming New Jersey suburb from the confusions of marriage and divorce to life as a single parent she chronicles her search for a family history that can help explain who she is and what matters most to her now In concert halls art galleries parks cemeteries and hospitals Mehta follows her curiosity to imaginatively expand her immediate world With a voice that is propulsive and ironically and profoundly she takes stock She wrestles with a personal tragedy in a letter to a turtle and reveals the hallucinatory mania of migraines in her interactions with a dog walking service She meditates on memory with ghosts of the dead teaches herself to swim despite chronic pain connects with her mother by listening to Beethoven's late sonatas and examines family documents in an effort to pin down the story of her Indian Jain and Jewish American parents Mehta tries to meet the demands of love marriage divorce and parenting all while figuring out what it takes to express herself clearly An original and feisty storyteller Mehta shows us that if you are kicked out of the life you thought you were going to lead you can still rebuild it and become as Milton said in Paradise Lost happier far

My Corpse Inside Wes Jamison, 2025-10 A provocative and meticulously structured exploration of identity language and the body My Corpse Inside exposes the thin and increasingly blurry line between the physical and the digital between the living and the dead Wes Jamison contends with the complex and disturbing relationship of sexuality and violence through a torrent of virtual horrors shock sites hookup apps beheading videos and creepshots as well as through Jamison's own experiences of being surveilled and exploited online Inspired by Kiyoshi Kurosawa's master horror film Kairo which portrays ghosts overflowing into our reality through the internet this fragmented book length essay clarifies Julia Kristeva's infamously esoteric theory of abjection and subjectivity and updates it for today's constant virtuality My Corpse Inside is a disquieting work that asks readers to confront the violence fetish horror and loneliness inherent in our eternal connectivity

Learning from Thoreau Andrew Menard, 2018 Learning from Thoreau is an intimate intellectual walk with America's most edgy and original environmentalist The thrust of the book consists not in learning about Thoreau from an intermediary but as the title suggests in learning from Thoreau along with the author whose lifelong engagement with this genius of the natural world leads him to examine the process of learning from an admired model Using both images and text Andrew Menard offers a personal meditation on Thoreau's thought its originality and its influence on the modern environmental movement He places Thoreau in dialogue with contemporary artists and thinkers and associates him with a rich variety of places Walden Pond the Museum of Modern Art the Rockefeller State Park Preserve in upstate New York Mormon Mesa northeast of Las Vegas and the old town of Kongsberg Prussia Each place each experience each writer and each work of art provides a different line of approach The author also leads us through an expanding and deepening series of keywords that trigger fresh occasions to learn from Thoreau Concord Walden walking seeing nature wildness beauty The result is a deeply nuanced and informed portrait of Thoreau's inner and outer landscape

The Age of Clear Profit John Griswold, 2022-09-15 At age fifty when many hope to slow down and what's left as the poet Kobayashi Issa once wrote is clear profit John Griswold was starting over again in a position he had worked decades to achieve His family moved down the Mississippi Valley expecting to create a good life with new friends What they found instead was a society organized tightly by race church attendance and family name which in its corruption laissez faire corporatism gun love and environmental degradation foretold the heightened problems of the United States in an era of deepening political division Taking his cue from classical Asian poets such as Basho Griswold begins to journey to gain perspective and to find his own narrow road He travels around the rim of the Gulf of Mexico and to writers homes in Russia and New Mexico attends the protests at Standing Rock walks the Basho Trail in Japan and reports on the wholesale slaughter of a Texas rattlesnake roundup and the cruel weirdness of the Angola Prison Rodeo Over eight years Griswold bears witness pays homage and finds he is able to define and speak with gratitude about what is most important to him his children wholeheartedness and the act of trying In the gap between complexity and a little peace and quiet there is a way to profit anew A High Low Tide André Joseph Gallant,2018-09-15 Oysters are a narrative food in each shuck and slurp an eater tastes the place where the animal was raised But that s just the beginning Andr Joseph Gallant uses the bivalve as a jumping off point to tell the story of a changing southeastern coast the bounty within its waters and what the future may hold for the area and its fishers With A High Low Tide he places Georgia as well as the South in the national conversation about aquaculture addressing its potential as well as its challenges The Georgia oyster industry dominated in the field of oysters for canning until it was slowed by environmental and economic shifts To build it back and to make the Georgia oyster competitive on the national stage a bit of scientific cosmetic work must be done performed through aquaculture The business of oyster farming combines physical labor and science creating an atmosphere where disparate groups must work together to ensure its future Employing months of field research in coastal waters and countless hours interviewing scholars and fishermen Gallant documents both the hiccups and the successes that occur when university researchers work alongside blue collar laborers on a shared obsession The dawn of aquaculture in Georgia promises a sea change in the livelihoods of wild harvest shellfishermen should they choose to adapt to new methods Gallant documents how these traditional harvesters are affected by innovation and uncertain tides and asks how threatened they really are My Last Eight Thousand Days Lee Gutkind,2020-10-01 As founding editor of Creative Nonfiction and architect of the genre Lee Gutkind played a crucial role in establishing literary narrative nonfiction in the marketplace and in the academy A longstanding advocate of New Journalism he has reported on a wide range of issues robots and artificial intelligence mental illness organ transplants veterinarians and animals baseball motorcycle enthusiasts and explored them all with his unique voice and approach In My Last Eight Thousand Days Gutkind turns his notepad and tape recorder inward using his skills as an immersion journalist to perform a deep dive on himself Here he offers a memoir of his life as a journalist editor husband father and Pittsburgh native not only recounting his many triumphs but also exposing his missteps and challenges The overarching concern that frames these brave often confessional stories is his obsession and fascination with aging how aging provoked anxieties and unearthed long rooted tensions and how he came to accept even enjoy his mental and physical decline Gutkind documents the realities of aging with the characteristically blunt melancholic

wit and authenticity that drive the quiet force of all his work Southbound Anjali Enjeti, 2021-04-15 A move at age ten from a Detroit suburb to Chattanooga in 1984 thrusts Anjali Enjeti into what feels like a new world replete with Confederate flags Bible verses and whiteness It is here that she learns how to get her bearings as a mixed race brown girl in the Deep South and begins to understand how identity can inspire inform and shape a commitment to activism Her own evolution is a bumpy one and along the way Enjeti racially targeted as a child must wrestle with her own complicity in white supremacy and bigotry as an adult The twenty essays of her debut collection Southbound tackle white feminism at a national feminist organization the early years of the AIDS epidemic in the South voter suppression gun violence and the gun sense movement the whitewashing of southern literature the 1982 racialized killing of Vincent Chin social media's role in political accountability evangelical Christianity's marriage to extremism and the rise of nationalism worldwide In our current era of great political strife this timely collection by Enjeti a journalist and organizer paves the way for a path forward one where identity drives coalition building and social change Made Holy Emily Arnason Casey, 2019-09-01 In haunting prose that will follow you for days to come Made Holy tells the story of the American family Love loss and addiction entwine in this moving debut collection Emily Arnason Casey employs the lyric imagination to probe memory and the ever shifting lens of time as she seeks to make sense of the disease that haunts her maternal family tree and the alchemy of loss and longing The lakes of her childhood in Minnesota form the interior landscape of this book a kind of watery nostalgia for something just beyond her reach I know this feeling she writes We travel along the surface of time and then suddenly the layers give way and we are in another year another body another place Casey's willingness to honestly examine the past and present with contemplative lyricism offers fresh perspective and new understanding In electric moments that are utterly relatable she weaves a tale of love and commitment to the truth of her experience despite the incredible desire to keep alive a legacy of secrets Like the mullein plant she invokes in the final essay these essays form a kind of guardian to the lost
