My Japanese Pow Diary Story:

My Japanese POW Diary Story Tillman J. Rutledge, 1997 Surviving a Japanese Internment Camp Rupert Wilkinson, 2013-12-03 During World War II the Japanese imprisoned more American civilians at Manila's Santo Tomas prison camp than anywhere else along with British and other nationalities Placing the camp's story in the wider history of the Pacific war this book tells how the camp went through a drastic change from good conditions in the early days to impending mass starvation before its dramatic rescue by U S Army flying columns Interned as a small boy with his mother and older sister the author shows the many ways in which the camp's internees handled imprisonment and their liberation afterwards Using a wealth of Santo Tomas memoirs and diaries plus interviews with other ex internees and veteran army liberators he reveals how children reinvented their own society while adults coped with crowded dormitories evaded sex restrictions smuggled in food and through a strong internee government dealt with their Japanese overlords The text explores the attitudes and behavior of Japanese officials ranging from sadistic cruelty to humane cooperation and asks philosophical questions about atrocity and moral responsibility Philippine-American Military History, 1902-1942 Richard B. Meixsel, 2015-10-02 Military obligations rested lightly upon the Filipino people for much of the period that America occupied the Philippines but Filipinos could enlist in the United States Army and Navy attend the service academies at West Point and Annapolis or join military organizations restricted to duty in the islands such as the Philippine Scouts Philippine Constabulary Philippine National Guard and the navy's insular force In the 1930s the Philippine government established its own armed forces Throughout much of this time the U S army also kept a substantial portion of its troop strength in the Philippines This annotated bibliography of nearly 700 titles highlights the extent and variety of the Philippine American military experience from the conquest of the islands by the United States in 1902 to the defeat of Philippine and American forces by the Japanese in 1942 The bibliography includes memoirs and biographies of Filipino and American officers and enlisted men from MacArthur to Ferdinand Marcos unit histories army post and navy base histories medals and insignia books and the most extensive list of prisoner of war memoirs yet published Annotations address controversies such as the widely disparate estimates of American deaths on the Bataan Death March and include previously unpublished information such as casualty figures for American and Philippine forces in 1941 1942 Prisoners of the Sumatra Railway Lizzie Oliver, 2017-12-14 Prisoners of the Sumatra Railway is the first book to detail the experiences of British former prisoners of war POWs who were forced to construct a railway across Sumatra during the Japanese occupation It is also the first study to be undertaken of the life writing of POWs held captive by the Japanese during the Second World War and the transgenerational responses in Britain to this period of captivity This book brings to light previously unpublished materials including Exceptionally rare and detailed diaries notebooks and letters from the railway Memoirs from Sumatra including detailed recollections and post war statements written by key personnel on the railway such as Medical Officers and interpreters Remarkable original artwork created by POWs on Sumatra Contemporaneous photographs taken inside the camps Employing theories of life writing memory and war representation including transgenerational transmission Lizzie Oliver focuses particularly on what these documents can tell us about how former POWs tried to share preserve and make sense of their experiences It is a wholly original study that is of great value to Second World War scholars and anyone interested in 20th century Southeast Asian history or war and memory

Frustrated Ambition Richard Bruce Meixsel, 2018-02-15 Vicente Lim 1888 1944 was once his country's best known soldier The first Filipino to graduate from West Point and a graduate of the U S Army War College Lim figured in every significant military development in the Philippines during his thirty years in uniform Frustrated Ambition is the first in depth biography of this forgotten figure whose career paralleled the early twentieth century history of the Philippine military As independence seemed increasingly likely for the Philippines in the 1930s Lim positioned himself to take a leading role in developing armed forces for a sovereign nation But as Lim maneuvered behind the scenes Manuel L Quezon soon to be the commonwealth president revealed that he had invited General Douglas MacArthur to serve as military adviser to the Philippines Frustrated Ambition corrects the conventional historical narrative of events thereafter one that emphasizes the failure of the nascent Philippine military under MacArthur and inflates the general's heroic role in the defense of Bataan and Corregidor Richard Bruce Meixsel restores Lim as the then recognized leader of the opposition to MacArthur's mission and shows how Lim took the Philippine Army in a more tenable direction as MacArthur's military system foundered World War II brought Lim to the fore While MacArthur directed his troops from Corregidor Lim commanded a division on Bataan that may have suffered more combat losses at the battle of Abucay than did all American units on Bataan during the entire campaign When the U S high command turned its efforts to evacuating the Philippine Islands Lim began to prepare for the ensuing underground struggle against the Japanese a fight that cost him his life By recounting Vicente Lim's career Frustrated Ambition illuminates forgotten episodes in Philippine history offers new perspectives on military affairs during the American occupation and recovers the story of Filipino soldiers whose service changed the course of their country's military history Fortitudine, 1991

Surviving the Death Railway Hilary Custance Green, 2016-08-31 The ordeals of the POWs put to slave labour by their Japanese masters on the Burma Railway have been well documented yet never cease to shock It is impossible not to be horrified and moved by their stoic courage in the face of inhuman brutality appalling hardship and ever present death While Barry Custance Baker was enduring his 1000 days of captivity his young wife Phyllis was attempting to correspond with him and the families of Barry's unit Fortunately these moving letters have been preserved and appear edited by their daughter Hilary in this book along with Barry's graphic memoir written after the War Surviving the Death Railway's combination of first hand account correspondence and comment provide a unique insight into the long nightmare experienced by those in the Far East and at home The result is a powerful and inspiring account of one of the most shameful chapters in the history of mankind which makes for compelling reading

Stranger in the House Julie Summers, 2009-07-06 It is as if I have been waiting for someone to ask me these questions for almost the whole of my life From 1945 more than four million British servicemen were demobbed and sent home after the most destructive war in history Damaged by fighting imprisonment or simply separation from their loved ones these men returned to a Britain that had changed in their absence In Stranger in the House Julie Summers tells the women's story interviewing over a hundred women who were on the receiving end of demobilisation the mothers wives sisters who had to deal with an injured emotionally damaged relative those who assumed their fiancés had died only to find them reappearing after they had married another woman who had illegitimate children following a wartime affair as well as those whose steadfast optimism was rewarded with a delightful reunion Many of the tales are moving some are desperately sad others are full of humour but all provide a fascinating account of how war altered ordinary women's lives forever The Journal of Military History ,2007-04 Military Law Review ,1986
