Documenting Spain: Artists, Exhibition Culture, and the Modern Nation, 1929-1939, The news media have given us potent demonstrations of the ambiguity of ostensibly truthful representations of public events Jordana Mendelson uses this ambiguity as a framework for the study of Spanish visual culture from 1929 to 1939 a decade marked on the one hand by dictatorship civil war and Franco's rise to power and on the other by a surge in the production of documentaries of various types from films and photographs to international exhibitions Mendelson begins with an examination of El Pueblo Espaol a model Spanish village featured at the 1929 International Exposition in Barcelona She then discusses Buuel's and Dal's documentary films relating them not only to French Surrealism but also to issues of rural tradition in the formation of regional and national identities Her highly original book concludes with a discussion of the 1937 Spanish Pavilion where Picasso's famed painting of the Fascist bombing of a Basque town Guernica was exhibited along with monumental photomurals by Josep Renau Based upon years of archival research Mendelson's book opens a new perspective on the cultural politics of a turbulent era in modern Spain It explores the little known yet rich intersection between avant garde artists and government institutions It shows as well the surprising extent to which Spanish modernity was fashioned through dialogue between the seemingly opposed fields of urban and rural fine art and mass culture

Cult Films Allan Havis, 2021-01-15 Cult Films Taboo and Transgression looks at nine decades of cult films history within American culture By highlighting three films per decade including a brief summary of the decade's identity and sensibility the book investigates the quality ironies and spirit of cult film evolution The twenty seven films selected for this study are analyzed for story content and in their respective transgressions regarding social aesthetic and political codes Characteristic of this book is the notion that many exciting genres make up cult films including horror sci fi fantasy film noir and black comedy Further the book reaches out to several foreign film directors over the decades in order to view cult films as an intentional art form Political and ideological controversies are covered arresting back story details that lend perspective on a film fill out the analysis and the historic framework for many film titles The book by emphasizing the condensed survey over decades and by choosing outstanding titles differs from other general studies on cult films
