Myths And Symbols In Pagan Europe Early Scandinavian And Celtic Religions:

Myths and Symbols in Pagan Europe H. R. Ellis Davidson, 1988-06-01 Most people know of Valhalla the World Tree and the gods of Norse mythology or the strange hunts and voyages of the ancient Irish tales Yet few people realise the significance of the similarities and contrasts between the religions of the pre Christian people of north western Europe The Celts and Germans and Scandinavians had much in common in their religious practices and beliefs and this is the first serious attempt that has been made to compare them There are striking resemblances in their ideas about battle goddesses and protective spirits holy places sacrificial rituals divination and ideas about the Other World and Myths and Symbols in Pagan Europe poses questions like do such parallels go back to early times or are they owing to late Viking contact Hilda Ellis Davidson has worked for many years on pre Christian Scandinavian and Germanic religion and now compares them with the Celts from the background of previous studies using evidence from archaeology iconography later literature and folklore in a search for basic patterns which will add to our knowledge of the early peoples in Europe Aimed at teachers and libraries but also accessible to students of history religion and Celtic Norse and German languages and cultures Myths and Symbols in Pagan Europe Thor Templar, 2001-07-01 Mysticism, Myth and Celtic Identity Marion Gibson, Shelley Trower, Garry Tregidga, 2013 Mysticism Myth and Celtic Identity explores how the mythical and mystical past informs national imaginations Building on notions of invented tradition and myths of the nation it looks at the power of narrative and fiction to shape identity with particular reference to the British and Celtic contexts The authors consider how aspects of the past are reinterpreted or reimagined in a variety of ways to give coherence to desired national groupings or groups aspiring to nationhood and its defence The coverage is unusually broad in its historical sweep dealing with work from prehistory to the contemporary with a particular emphasis on the period from the eighteenth century to the present The subject matter includes notions of ancient deities Druids Celticity the archaeological remains of pagan religions traditional folk tales racial and religious myths and ethnic politics and the different types of returns and hauntings that can recycle these ideas in culture Innovative and interdisciplinary the scholarship in Mysticism Myth and Celtic Identity is mainly literary but also geographical and historical and draws on religious studies politics and the social sciences Thus the collection offers a stimulatingly broad number of new viewpoints on a matter of great topical relevance national identity and the politicization of its myths A Brief Guide to Celtic Myths and Legends Martyn Whittock, 2013-10-03 A very readable guide which fills the gap between academic analysis and less critical retellings of the myths and legends Martyn Whittock provides an accessible overview while also assessing the current state of research regarding the origins and significance of the myths Since all records of the myths first occur in the early medieval period the focus is on the survival of pre Christian mythology and the interactions of the early Christian writers with these myths A wide ranging and enthralling introduction to Celtic mythology from the Irish gods before gods the Fomorians to the children of Llyr the sea deity from the hunter warrior Fionn

mac Cumhaill whose exploits are chronicled in the Fenian Cycle to C Chulainn the Hound of Ulster and from the Welsh heroes of the Mabinogion to Arthur King of Britain though the mythical Welsh version who predates the medieval legends

The Handbook of Religions in Ancient Europe Lisbeth Bredholt Christensen, Olav Hammer, David Warburton, 2014-09-11 The Handbook of Religions in Ancient Europe surveys the major religious currents of Europe before Christianity the first continental religion with hegemonic ambition wiped out most local religions The evidence whether archaeological or written is notoriously difficult to interpret and the variety of religions documented by the sources and the range of languages used are bewildering The Handbook brings together leading authorities on pre Christian religious history to provide a state of the art survey The first section of the book covers the Prehistoric period from the Paleolithic to the Bronze Age The second section covers the period since writing systems began Ranging across the Mediterranean and Northern Celtic and Slavic Europe the essays assess the archaeological and textual evidence Dispersed archaeological remains and biased outside sources constitute our main sources of information so the complex task of interpreting these traces is explained for each case The Handbook also aims to highlight the plurality of religion in ancient Europe the many ways in which it is expressed notably in discourse action organization and material culture how it is produced and maintained by different people with different interests how communities always connect with or disassociate from adjunct communities and how their beliefs and rituals are shaped by these relationships The Handbook will be invaluable to anyone interested in ancient History and also to scholars and students of Religion Anthropology Archaeology and Classical Studies Imagining the Celtic Past in Modern Fantasy Dimitra Fimi, Alistair J. P. Sims, 2023-02-23 Focusing on representations of Celtic motifs and traditions in post 1980s adult fantasy literature this book illuminates how the historical the mythological and the folkloric have served as inspiration for the fantastic in modern and popular culture of the western world Bringing together both highly acclaimed works with those that have received less critical attention including French and Gaelic fantasy literature Imagining the Celtic Past in Modern Fantasy explores such texts as Susanna Clarke's Jonathan Strange Mr Norrell Alan Garner's Weirdestone trilogy the Irish fantasies of Jodi McIsaac David Gemmell's Rigante novels Patricia Kennealy Morrison's Keltiad books as well as An Sgoil Dhubh by Iain F MacLeòid and the Vertigen and Frontier series by L. A. Silhol Lively and covering new ground the collection examines topics such as fairy magic Celtic inspired worldbuilding heroic patterns classical ethnography and genre tropes alongside analyses of the Celtic Tarot in speculative fiction and Celtic appropriation in fan culture Introducing a nuanced understanding of the Celtic past as it has been informed by recent debates in Celtic studies this wide ranging and provocative book shows how modern fantasy is indebted to medieval Celtic language texts folkloric traditions as well as classical sources The Mythic Forest, the Green Man and the Spirit of Nature Gary R. Varner, 2006 Mankind has given a recognizable face to the awesome and impalpable forces of nature in the image of the Green Man and the nature spirits that this book explores The ways in which different societies and different craftsmen have depicted these spirits display the wide creative range of the human imagination but the persistence of the theme suggests that in all their many facets these spirits represent a deep primordial sense that humans have shared since civilization began For the very origin and message of these images have remained the same even if somewhat altered over time Traditional customs from around the world from the rites that celebrate spring and egg on the forces of fertility to folk health remedies and the use of talismans to ward off illness and other evils show some surprising similarities and hint at the shared origins of human culture Even though the original significance of many customs has been lost or diluted they still hold an appeal and many towns even today are re introducing seasonal fairs to recreate the link between man and nature Varner presents examples ancient and new from Europe and Asia East Coast and West and identifies in particular the different guises of the Green Man who has figured in architecture since before the advent of Christianity and still makes his appearance today peering out from behind his leaves on California banks and New York brownstone houses
