1. The first step is to identify the problem or question that needs to be answered. This involves understanding the context and the specific requirements of the task.
2. Next, it is important to gather relevant information and data. This can be done through research, consultation with experts, or by analyzing existing data sets.
3. Once the information is gathered, the next step is to analyze it. This involves identifying patterns, trends, and relationships that can help in understanding the problem.
4. After analysis, the next step is to develop a solution or plan. This involves identifying the most effective approach to solve the problem and outlining the steps to be taken.
5. Finally, the solution is implemented and the results are evaluated. This involves monitoring the progress of the implementation and making adjustments as needed to ensure the solution is effective.

The following table shows the results of the regression analysis for the dependent variable "Perceived Stress" (Y-axis) and the independent variables "Age", "Gender", "Education", "Income", "Marital Status", "Health Status", "Social Support", "Coping Strategies", and "Workload" (X-axis). The table includes the regression coefficients (B), standard errors (SE), t-statistics, and p-values for each variable.
