

Gospel: John 6:41-51 The Bread of Life Discourse Proper

41 The Jews then murmured at him, because he said, "I am the bread which came down from heaven." 42 They said, "Is not this Jesus, the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? How does he now say, 'I have come down from heaven?'" 43 Jesus answered them, "Do not murmur among yourselves. 44 No one can come to me unless the Father who sent me draws him; and I will raise him up at the last day. 45 It is written in the prophets, 'And they shall all be taught by God.' Every one who has heard and learned from the Father comes to me. 46 Not that any one has seen the Father except him who is from God; he has seen the Father. 47 Truly, truly, I say to you, he who believes has eternal life. 48 I am the bread of life. 49 Your fathers ate the manna in the wilderness, and they died. 50 This is the bread which comes down from heaven, that a man may eat of it and not die. 51 I am the living bread which came down from heaven; if any one eats of this bread, he will live for ever; and the bread which I shall give for the life of the world is my flesh."

As a reminder, we should always read the gospel through it's entirety, meaning in its full context. And so, for us to understand better the full message of the gospel, we need to read it in its context. And so, if you read through John 6 in its entirety, what you will see is that there are two parts to Jesus' "Bread of Life" discourse, broken down as follows:

The first part begins in John 6:35 when Jesus says, "I am the bread of life. He who comes to me shall not hunger; he who believes in me shall never thirst." In that first part of the Bread of Life discourse, which starts in verse 35 and then goes all the way down to verse 47, Jesus uses the manna from heaven as a metaphor for his own divinity — as a symbol, a kind of a sign of the fact that just like the manna was heavenly in origin, so too Jesus is heavenly in origin. He, as the Bread of Life has come down from heaven.

In other words, He has become incarnate; He is the God who has become man. So, the first part of the discourse is really focusing on Jesus' divinity, and you can see also emphasis on the word "faith" or "believe" — πιστεῖν in Greek. So, before Jesus gets into talking about the sacrament of the Eucharist or eating his flesh, the first thing He says is, "I want you to believe that I have come down from heaven."

They murmured on these words of Jesus, just as their ancestors murmured to Moses in the wilderness. Many did not believe Jesus. They complained. They asked how could He have come down from Heaven when they knew that His father was Joseph and His mother was Mary. Many did not believe because they were not listening to what Jesus was revealing to them. They had worldly minds that were darkened, seeking to challenge every word that Jesus spoke rather than listening. Through the hardening of their hearts, they were not spiritually disposed, this preventing them from perceiving the truth.

It is the same today. There are some who do not hear any of the teachings of the Holy Catholic Church because they are not listening. They are placing all their energies towards challenging every word, every authority, every doctrine, etc... rather than
