Literary Mapping in the Digital Age David Cooper, Christopher Donaldson, Patricia Murrieta-Flores, 2016-05-20 Drawing on the expertise of leading researchers from around the globe this pioneering collection of essays explores how geospatial technologies are revolutionizing the discipline of literary studies The book offers the first intensive examination of digital literary cartography a field whose recent and rapid development has yet to be coherently analysed This collection not only provides an authoritative account of the current state of the field but also informs a new generation of digital humanities scholars about the critical and creative potentials of digital literary mapping The book showcases the work of exemplary literary mapping projects and provides the reader with an overview of the tools techniques and methods those projects employ

Spatial Anthropology Les Roberts, 2018-06-20 Spatial Anthropology draws together a number of interrelated strands of research focused on landscape place and cultural memory in the north west of England At the core of the book lies an engagement with the methodological opportunities offered by new interdisciplinary frameworks of research and practice that have emerged in the wake of a putative spatial turn in arts and humanities scholarship in recent years The spatial methods explored in the book represent a consolidation of site specific interventions enacted in landscapes located in the north west and beyond Utilising digital tools and geospatial technologies alongside ethnographic performative and autoethnographic modes of spatio cultural analysis spatial anthropology is presented as a geographically immersive and critically reflexive set of practices designed to explore the embodied and increasingly multi faceted spatialities of place mobility and memory From the radically placeless environment of a motorway traffic island to the affective archipelago of former cinema sites or the songlines and micro geographies of musical memory Spatial Anthropology offers a rich tapestry of landscapes practices and spatial stories that speaks to both the particularities of place and locality as well as the more delocalised topographies of regional national and global mobility

Willa Cather at the Modernist Crux Ann Moseley, John Joseph Murphy, Robert Thacker, 2017 Approaches to Human Geography Stuart C. Aitken, Gill Valentine, 2014-12-01 The book covers some of the traditionally most obtuse and difficult to grasp philosophical ideas that have influenced geographers geography The fact that these are presented in an inclusive and accessible manner is a key strength Many students have commented that the chapters they have read have encouraged them to read more in this field which is fantastic from a lecturer's perspective Richard White Sheffield Hallam University A new edition of the classic Approaches text for students organised in three sections which overviews and explains the history and philosophy of Human Geographies in all its applications by those who practise it Section One Philosophies Positivist Geography Humanism Feminist Geographies Marxisms Structuration Theory Human Animal Realism Postmodern Geographies Poststructuralist Theories Actor Network Theory Postcolonialism Geohumanities Technologies Section Two People Institutions and Cultures Places and Contexts Memories and Desires Understanding Place Personal and Political Becoming a Geographer Movement and Encounter Spaces and Flows Places as Thoughts Section Three Practices Mapping and Geovisualization Quantification Evidence and Positivism Geographic Information Systems Humanism Activism Feminist Geographies Poststructuralist Theories Psychoanalysis Environmental Inquiry Contested Geographies and Culture Wars Fully updated throughout and with eight brand new chapters this is the core text for modules on history theory and practice in Human Geography Countryside Connections Catherine Hagan Hennessy, Robin Means, Vanessa Burholt, 2014-04-29 Older people in the countryside are vastly under researched compared to those in urban areas This innovative volume the first project based book in the New Dynamics of Ageing series offers a unique interdisciplinary perspective on this issue focusing on older people's role as assets in rural civic society It demonstrates how the use of diverse methods from across disciplines aims to increase public engagement with this research The authors examine the ways in which rural elders are connected to community and place the contributions they make to family and neighbours and the organisations and groups to which they belong Highly topical issues around later life explored through these perspectives include older people's financial security leisure access to services transport and mobility civic engagement and digital inclusion all considered within the rural context in an era of fiscal austerity In doing so this book challenges problem based views of ageing rural populations through considering barriers and facilitators to older people's inclusion and opportunities for community participation in rural settings Countryside Connections is a valuable text for students researchers and practitioners with interests in rural ageing civic engagement and interdisciplinary methods theory and practice Ecospatiality Lowell Wyse, 2021-07-15 John Steinbeck's Salinas Valley Richard Wright's Chicago Leslie Marmon Silko's New Mexico Readers often have strong connections with literary places like these And some works of literature can even change our understanding of the world we live in But can place also change our view of literature Site Reading advances a place based approach to literature reading classic texts through the twin lenses of geographical awareness and environmental thought This book highlights recent developments in ecocriticism and geocriticism to argue for a theory of ecospatiality with nature space and story as the three elements of place Site Reading reconsiders well known works of twentieth century American prose and shows how social and environmental issues always overlap Travel writer William Least Heat Moon whose work embodies the ecospatial perspective portrays his experiences with place on the local regional and continental scales Classic novels by Silko Willa Cather and Ana Castillo usually discussed in isolation converge in a way that maps diverse cultural perspectives and environmental threats onto the shared geography of Central New Mexico A reading of Steinbeck's Salinas Valley Watershed texts investigates the impacts of literary tourism in Steinbeck Country before drilling down into Steinbeck's portrayals of spatial development and environmental history And an innovative analysis of Native Son shows how Richard Wright uses cartographic details to decry the spatial racial politics of South Side Chicago in the 1930s In this book Lowell Wyse shows how place provides the grounds for both human experience and critical practice By bringing together concepts like literary cartography deep mapping and bioregionalism in an ecospatial approach Site Reading not only maps new terrain between ecocriticism and geocriticism but also shows why place matters in the world and in the text
