Our Kind Of People A Continents Challenge A Countrys Hope:

The Routledge Companion to Global Comparative Literature Zhang Longxi, Omid Azadibougar, 2025-04-29 The Routledge Companion to Global Comparative Literature is a collection of papers by influential scholars who are engaged in comparative literary studies and addresses a central and highly important question about the discipline if Eurocentrism has been integral to comparative literature and if the world we live in is undergoing radical changes then how can or should the discipline change to overcome this problem of the discipline as well as of literary history to accommodate non Western traditions Addressing this significant matter and taking different approaches in response to the state of the discipline the papers in this volume offer diverse ways of overcoming Eurocentrism the role of institutions and the changes they need to undergo possible ways of practicing a truly global comparative literature the history of the discipline outside Europe premodern histories of ideas and the non European origins of modernity translation orientalism and area studies publishing and literary circulation and modern technologies and their impact on literary dissemination and the discipline This collection assesses comparative literature at a timely historical moment and will broaden the field by addressing the students and scholars of comparative literary studies all over the world with significant hints for more inclusive histories of world literature

Pandemic Genres Neville Wallace Hoad, 2025 As HIV AIDS emerged as a public health crisis of significant proportions across much of sub Saharan Africa it became the subject of local and international interest prurient benevolent and interventionist Meanwhile the experience of Africans living with HIV AIDS became an object of aesthetic representation in multiple genres by Africans themselves These cultural representations engaged public discourse the public policy pronouncements of officials of postcolonial states an emerging global NGO speak and journalism In Pandemic Genres Neville Hoad investigates how cultural production novels poems films around the pandemic supplemented public discourse From Botswana Kenya and South Africa he shows that the long historical imaginaries of race empire and sex underwrote all attempts to bring the pandemic into public representation Attention to genres that stage themselves as imaginary particularly on the terrain of feeling may forecast possibilities for new figurations

Global Healing Karen Laura Thornber, 2020-03-02 Read an interview with Karen Thornber In Global Healing Literature Advocacy Care Karen Laura Thornber analyzes how narratives from diverse communities globally engage with a broad variety of diseases and other serious health conditions and advocate for empathic compassionate and respectful care that facilitates healing and enables wellbeing The three parts of this book discuss writings from Africa the Americas Asia Europe the Middle East and Oceania that implore societies to shatter the devastating social stigmas which prevent billions from accessing effective care to increase the availability of quality person focused healthcare and to prioritize partnerships that facilitate healing and enable wellbeing for both patients and loved ones Thornber's Global Healing remaps the contours of comparative literature world literature the medical humanities and the health humanities Watch a video interview with Thornber by the Mahindra Humanities Center part of their conversations on Covid 19 Read an interview with Thornber on Brill's Humanities Matter blog Africans on the Move Fassil Demissie, 2016-03-17 The 20th century witnessed the large scale displacement and dispersal of populations across the world because of major political upheavals among them the two European wars decolonization and the Cold War These major events were followed by globalization which accelerated free trade and the mobility of capital new technologies of communication and the movement of people commodities ideas and cultures across the world This book explores the complexity of African migration and diaspora the discourse of diaspora engagement and new models of citizenship and transnationalism in the context of these issues This book was originally published as a special issue of African and Black Diaspora An International Journal Vital Conversations Dennis Rosen, 2014-09-23 Engaging provides patients tools they can use to improve dialogue with their doctors and ultimately improve their ultimate medical outcomes The Times of Israel The health care system in the United States is by far the most expensive in the world yet its outcomes are decidedly mediocre in comparison with those of other countries Poor communication between doctors and patients Dennis Rosen argues is at the heart of this disparity a pervasive problem that damages the well being of the patient and the integrity of the health care system and society Drawing upon research in biomedicine sociology and anthropology and integrating personal stories from his medical practice in three different countries and as a patient Rosen shows how important good communication between physicians and patients is to high quality and less expensive care Without it treatment adherence and preventive services decline and the rates of medical complications hospital readmissions and unnecessary testing and procedures rise Rosen illustrates the consequences of these problems from both the caregiver and patient perspectives and explores the socioeconomic and cultural factors that cause important information to be literally lost in translation He concludes with a prescriptive chapter aimed at building the cultural competencies and communication skills necessary for higher quality less expensive care making it more satisfying for all involved An excellent source of ideas on how to enhance treatment Joseph Shrand Instructor of Psychiatry at Harvard Medical School Dr Rosen delivers much of his advice through anecdotes that take readers on a journey through a career filled with both positive and negative instances of doctor patient communication Health Affairs Health, Healing and Illness in African History Rebekah Lee, 2021-02-11 In this book Rebekah Lee offers a critical introduction to the diverse history of health healing and illness in sub Saharan Africa from the 1800s to the present day Its focus is not simply on disease but rather on how illness and health were understood and managed by healthcare providers African patients their families and communities Through a sustained interdisciplinary approach Lee brings to the foreground a cast of actors institutions and ideas that both profoundly and intimately shaped African health experiences and outcomes This book guides the reader through a wide range of historical source material and highlights the theoretical and methodological innovations which have enriched this scholarship Part One delivers a concise historical overview of African health and illness from the long pre colonial past through the colonial period and into the present day providing an understanding of broad patterns of major disease challenges experiences of illness and local and global health interventions and their persistence or transformation across time Part Two adopts a case study approach focusing on specific health challenges in Africa HIV AIDS mental illness tropical disease and occupational disease and their unfolding across time and space Health Healing and Illness in African History is the first wide ranging survey of this key topic in African history and the history of health and medicine and the ideal introduction for students

Cold War Country Joseph M. Thompson, 2024-03-22 Country music maintains a special decades long relationship to American military life but these ties didn't just happen This readable history reveals how country music's Nashville based business leaders on Music Row created partnerships with the Pentagon to sell their audiences on military service while selling the music to servicemembers Beginning in the 1950s the military flooded armed forces airwaves with the music hosted tour dates at bases around the world and drew on artists from Johnny Cash to Lee Greenwood to support recruitment programs Over the last half of the twentieth century the close connections between the Defense Department and Music Row gave an economic boost to the white dominated sounds of country while marginalizing Black artists and fueling divisions over the meaning of patriotism This story is filled with familiar stars like Roy Acuff Elvis Presley and George Strait as well as lesser known figures industry executives who worked the halls of Congress country artists who dissented from the stereotypically patriotic trappings of the genre and more Joseph M Thompson argues convincingly that the relationship between Music Row and the Pentagon helped shape not only the evolution of popular music but also race relations partisanship and images of the United States abroad The Department of State Bulletin, 1953
