No Mama I Didn't Die My Life As A Stolen Baby:

The Complete Story: No Mama, I Didn't Die Devereaux Eyler, 2017-05-17 This is the complete story a new edition of No Mama I Didn't Die I am Devy Bruch born Nell Howell in Tennessee 1937 As an infant I was stolen from my mother Lena Mae Howell just eight hours after she gave birth I was then sold to a wealthy family through an illegal adoption by Georgia Tann and the Tennessee Children's Home Society Lena Mae was a very young woman at the time and was told she had given birth to a boy who had died during delivery My mother never saw me nor held me Many decades later she went to her grave still suspecting that her baby may have survived She had heard me cry She knew in her heart that I could be alive but she had nowhere to turn One cold December day just before Christmas a chauffeur driven limousine with a nurse and Georgia Tann delivered me to my new home The year was 1937 and I was a sickly five pound weakling six weeks of age I had been delivered to my adoptive parents totally sight unseen until that knock on the door Here is your baby The years between my illegal adoption and finding my true origins were many faceted as one climbing up a totem pole falling down and getting back up to the top over and over and over again At 71 years of age I learned the truth of my life I learned about my natural mother Lena Mae Howell and my natural father Gaston Gann I learned I had 2 sisters and a brother deceased and a real caring loving family Nothing in my life has affected me so deeply It has turned my life around I now realize that I spent many years craving a big family I always opened up my home to everyone and provided a warm cozy place for people to enjoy good food and drink This was my way of creating family I reached out to my confidants my friends and invited them into my heart but all in their own way drifted apart from me The feat of abandonment was present in my life but no more The Howells of Tennessee are my people my blood my family The love they have given me and the knowledge that we are one has brought me a joy and fulfillment I never imagined was possible There is no denying my roots the resemblance to them is unmistakable

No Mama, I Didn't Die Devereaux R. Bruch, 2010-11 Devy Bruch adopted in the late 1930s from the infamous Tennessee Children's Home Society has lived a life of both privilege and despair She searched for her biological family for the first seven decades of her life In 1937 as an infant she was stolen from her mother by the infamous Georgia Tann bundled up and sold to a wealthy couple from Pennsylvania In her youth Devy attended exclusive private schools spent weekends at the Naval Academy and experienced a debutante season befitting a fine upbringing Then as a young woman she was plunged into deep despair when her husband left her with four young children and no income She survived through her inner strength determination and spirituality At the age of seventy one Devy made the decision to investigate her adoption and found that she had a sister that destiny had denied her for decades She learned of the heinous truth of her origins that of a small sickly baby stolen from her birth mother and sold for profit during the depression Now life has brought her full circle to enjoy both her own family and the birth family she finally discovered late in life No Mama, I Didn't Die Devereaux Bruch, 2015-10-11 Adoption is an honorable act but it can be heart wrenching when the infant is surrendered under coercion or false pretenses For the adopted parents adoption creates instant parenthood for the birth parents it takes enormous courage and love to surrender a baby Birth mothers often suffer pangs of guilt and sadness as the years tick by They imagine how their relinquished child is faring This is the story of an adoption in the Deep South of a baby girl just under five pounds who was stolen from her mother eight hours after birth Prior to the Great Depression from 1925 and through to 1950 a woman named Georgia Tann operated the Tennessee Children s Home Society in Memphis She began her career by legitimately placing babies in adoptive home in Tennessee for a fee of 7 50 Quite soon however she realized she could ship babies on a night flight with a nurse to affluent families all over the country She cared only about their ability to pay not if they were suitable parents Her fees ranged from 1 500 to 2 000 per baby plus expenses During this period the average annual income in the United States was just 1 200 2 000 Georgia Tann s modus operandi was to shelter unwed pregnant girls to seek out babies of the poor and promise their families care and schooling While women were in the throes of childbirth and under sedation Georgia Tann would have them sign surrender papers These new mothers thought they were signing permission for her to care for the baby until they could do so themselves but they were later told their babies had died or were stillborn Georgia Tann was able to continue this criminal operation with the protection and help of city officials judges police etc to whom she gave kickbacks She accumulated great wealth but purporting herself as just average lunching daily from a paper bag at her desk During Georgia Tann s tenure she placed over 5 000 babies most illegally To the parents who chose to adopt me my heart is full of gratitude for the wonderful life I was given Lost Without My Children Lelia Alvarez,2010-03-19 A grieving mother wanting to share her real life experience about the mysterious and sudden deaths of her children Dealing with the mysterious death of her healthy three month old baby girl and trying to find out the cause has been a mystery for over twenty five years Waking up on morning to find that her baby girl is dead was such a tremendous harrowing experience to deal with and to have her children witness the death was unbearable After twelve years as a single mother she finds the man of her dreams having someone to stand by her side Her dream was to become a grandmother she was delighted with joy when her son became a father until her dream was shattered She gets a call in the middle of the night that her son has died Grief stricken with tragedy for the second time she cant understand why her wish was granted being blessed with a precious grandson at a price of losing her son After her sons death she is faced with so many legal problems hitting her all at once she is so distressed trying to survive without her son She becomes so angry and bitter fearing of losing her only child sinking into a deep depression and refusing to give in Grieving mother decides to write a book being the most hardest and emotional job shes ever had but she is determined to finish with a goal to share her experience with families that have lost their children There is nothing no one can say that will ease our pain only the ones that have experience this horrible ordeal can relate to our pain She will forever treasure the short time her children were in her life but will forever be lost without them Not a Blueprint; It's the Shoeprints That Matter Nina Norstrom,2016-04-07 Every journey leaves an imprint make yours count Allowing us to learn lessons let go of toxicity and gain insight relationship can play a powerful role in our lives They are formed with people alcohol animals battlefields diseases drugs environments and even our emotions Whether toxic or nontoxic relationships are an integral component of daily living Author Nina Norstrom lost her child to a disease but that wasn't the only toxic relationship she endured In this book she explores the effects that her relationships with grief pain trauma and forgiveness have had on her life This tale exposes a mother's struggle to escape her world of toxicity her journey out of the clutches of diseased relationships and the shoe prints the experiences have left on her family's history This story in its raw form projects a remarkable voice to the heroic fight courage and bravery gained when striking back to wipe out toxic relationships Its message reveals that life brings many challenges and that each challenge provides lessons to be learned This book is not intended to be a blueprint for dealing with diseased relationships It's about the shoe prints those symbols of life's journey that are left by our experiences Not a Blueprint It's the Shoe Prints that Matter is an insightful and inspiring personal story of one family's journey through toxic relationships The Literary World ,1894
