Revelation 2009 A Commentary New Testament Library

William P. Brown

Revelation 2009 A Commentary New Testament Library:

Priesthood and Temple in John's Apocalypse Timothy B. Tse, 2024-12-12 Timothy B Tse argues that while John uses language drawn from the Hebrew Bible's descriptions of YHWH's dwelling place, scholarship has overlooked the importance of his spatial transformation of that language. Tse thus uses theories relating to Relevance Resistance Theory, Critical Space Theory, and Conceptual Metaphor to demonstrate that a significant part of John's apocalyptic strategy of resistance is to represent his vision to his audience spatially so that they can experience a divinely ordained alternative to the world in which they live. Tse first demonstrates John's attempts to relegate his audience's experience of space to his own revelation. John's description of the visionary world creates the metaphors: the earth is a Sanctuary and the Saints are its priests. Tse argues that under this view, life on earth must be evaluated according to the concerns of the Sanctuary, which by definition requires the removal of everything impure, and the Saints, namely all Christians in both the historic and visionary worlds, must take priestly responsibility for the earth. John therefore portrays the Saints joining in the removal of all impurity upon the earth by fighting as priests in God and the Lamb's war against Satan, Babylon, and all her impurities. Tse concludes that overall, John means to realign the church's experience of space so that they understand themselves as priests of the Sanctuary and live according to that reality.

On the Writing of New Testament Commentaries Stanley E. Porter, Eckhard J. Schnabel, 2012-09-28 The essays in On the Writing of New Testament Commentaries discuss historical, hermeneutical, methodological, literary, and theological questions that shape the writing of commentaries on the books of the New Testament. While these essays honor Grant R. Osborne, they also represent the first sustained effort to systematically address commentary writing in the field of New Testament studies.

Christ, Shepherd of the Nations Jon Morales, 2017-12-28 Does John's Apocalypse envision destruction or salvation for the nations of the world? Scholarly views on this issue range from extreme total destruction to extreme universal salvation. Jon Morales maintains that the question must be reframed to highlight not only the destiny of the nations but also their dilemma within the drama of world history. Using narrative methodology, Morales asks four key questions concerning the nations: What is John's story of the nations? How does he tell this story? What is John's message to the nations? And what is his message to the church concerning the nations? Literary characters cannot be understood in the abstract but must be rather discovered sequentially in the development of an entire narrative. The nations in Revelation are no exception. Understanding that previous studies have neglected to situate the nations within Revelation's larger plot or in interaction with other narrative characters, Morales concludes that John's purpose is to show that the nations belong to God. John achieves his purpose in part by deploying a novel metaphor virtually unexplored until now: Christ, shepherd of the nations.

Biblical Humor and Performance Peter S. Perry, 2023-08-21 What is so humorous about the Bible? Quite a bit, especially if experienced with others. Nine biblical scholars explore their experiences of reading and hearing passages from the Bible and discovering humor that becomes clearer in performance. Each writer found clues in their chosen biblical text that suggested biblical authors expected an audience to respond with laughter. Performers have a powerful role in either bringing out or tamping down humor in the Bible. One audience may be more disposed to respond to humor than another. And each contributor found that experiencing humor changed the interpretation of the biblical passage. From Genesis to Revelation, this study uncovers the Bible's potential for humor. Diverse and Creative Voices Dieumeme Noelliste, Sung Wook Chung, 2015-04-20. As the twentieth century passed its midpoint and was rushing toward its end, a growing number of Majority World theologians came to realize that they could in fact do theology in their own contexts for the benefit of their own people. Thus from the 1960s onward, theologians in the global South have embarked on a form of theological construction that has sometimes been described as contextual reflection or contextualized theology. This volume is motivated by the conviction that these efforts have resulted in theological work that is also beneficial for Christians in other parts of the world. The editors have invited Majority World theologians to share their reflections on several themes of Christian faith from their own sociohistorical perspectives but with an unswerving commitment to the authority of Scripture. It is hoped that these fresh reflections will help Christians in the West engage and benefit from the perspectives of fellow believers in the global South. Rediscovering the Spiritual Disciplines for Today's Ministry Leadership: A Journey of Proactive Spiritual Formation for Leaders Dr. Steve A. Maglio, 2021-10-29. Military chaplains are highly trained professionals with multiple graduate degrees and varying civilian pastoral experience. They enter the chaplaincy after a rigorous selection process and military courses which all must verify their calling to military ministry. Throughout a chaplain's career, he or she will attend many continuing education seminars, civilian education graduate programs, and conferences all provided by the military. However, chaplains are challenged with the rigorous multitasked environment of this ministry. Multiple deployments into combat have negatively impacted the personal lives of those seeking to care for the souls of the soldier. This book encourages the importance of spiritual resiliency in the lives of leaders, both military and civilian. Leaders who regularly practice spiritual disciplines will be less likely to suffer personal and professional failure or burnout. Second, the leader's practice of spiritual disciplines is essential to fostering positive modeling and mentoring for young chaplains and those wishing to serve. Third, practicing historic Christian spiritual disciplines will benefit those who strive to lead congregations and especially military installations in the free exercise of their faith. What Has Jerusalem to Do with Beijing? K. K. Yeo, 2018-08-24. The rise of China as a superpower and of Chinese Christians as vital members of the global church mean that world Christianity would be a dynamic transformation and bountiful blessing to the world by engaging with Chinese biblical interpretations among global theologies. This book, a twentieth anniversary revised and expanded edition, includes studies that range from exploration of the philosophical structure of Eastern culture to present-day sociopolitical realities in Malaysia and China, all in support of cross-cultural methods of reading the Bible culturally and reading the cultures biblically. The Proskynesis of Jesus in the New Testament Ray M.

Lozano,2019-10-17 This book investigates the use of the Greek term proskuneo with Jesus as the object in the New Testament writings Ray M Lozano unpicks this interesting term and examines its capacity to express various degrees of reverence directed toward a superior from a respectful greeting of an elder to homage paid to a king to cultic worship paid to a god Lozano then looks at the term in reference to Jesus in the New Testament writings and carefully considers whether Jesus is portrayed as receiving such reverence in a relatively weak sense as a merely human figure or in a relatively strong sense as a divine figure Lozano highlights how scholars are divided over this issue and provides a fresh thorough examination of the New Testament material Mark Matthew Luke Acts John Hebrews and Revelation and in so doing shows that each of these New Testament writings in their own unique ways presents Jesus as a divine figure uniquely and closely linked to the God of Israel in making him an object of proskuneo

Sacred Sense William P. Brown,2015 All too often Scripture is read only to find answers to life's perplexing questions to prove a theological point or to formulate doctrine But William Brown argues that if read properly what the Bible does most fundamentally is arouse a sacred sense of life transforming wonder In this book Brown helps readers develop an orientation toward the biblical text that embraces wonder He explores reading strategies and offers fresh readings of seventeen Old and New Testament passages identifying what he finds most central and evocative in the unfolding biblical drama The Bible invites its readers to linger in wide eyed wonder Brown says and his Sacred Sense shows readers how to do just that

Worship and Power Sarah Kathleen Johnson,Andrew Wymer,2023-03-22 Christian worship emerges from and speaks back into human relationships that are necessarily shaped by power and authority Free Churches structure and negotiate power in relation to worship in ways that reflect the decentralization local diversity and personal agency that characterize many aspects of Free Church theology and practice This volume models how dialogue among scholars and practitioners of Free Church worship as well as dialogue with the wider church can be mutually enriching as Christians strive together to worship in ways that are faithful and just
