The Posthuman Condition Kasper Lippert-Rasmussen, Mads Rosendahl Thomsen, Jacob Wamberg, 2012-05-10 If biotechnology can be used to upgrade humans physically and mentally should it be used at all And if so to what extent How will biotechnology affect societal cohesion Can the development be controlled or is this a Pandora's box that should remain closed These are but a few of the perplex questions facing scientists as a result of the increasing ability of technology to change biology and in turn profoundly change human living conditions This development has created a new posthuman horizon that will influence contemporary life and politics in a number of ways The Posthuman Condition addresses the challenges of Imagining a society where the properties of humans have shifted radically Assessing the scope of deploying technologies that are already underway Basing decisions on an ethical foundation that does not entail a concept of human nature Ascertaining the types of political action that can and should be taken in the face of this situation The anthology brings together researchers from a wide range of disciplines biotechnology medicine ethics politics and aesthetics and among contributors are Francis Fukuyama Julian Savulescu Maxwell Mehlman John Harris and Chris Hables Gray

The Posthuman Condition in 21st Century Literature and Culture María Ferrández-Sanmiguel, Esther Muñoz-González, Carmen Laguarda-Bueno, 2025-06-18 More than a decade after its first definitions critical posthumanism has become consolidated as a key discourse for the understanding of our contemporary state of being within what has been called the paradigm of posthumanity but also crucially as an ideology and a praxis that guides our engagements with the world around us This double dimension characterizes the contributions to this volume They resort to critical posthumanism in its most recent developments as a set of tools for critical and cultural analysis of our posthuman times as posthumanist concerns manifest in our cultural products This volume studies the most recent evolutions in the field of critical posthumanism as represented in key novels and other screened popular cultural products produced in the first and second decades of the twenty first century Resorting to the analytical tools provided by critical posthumanist theory in cross disciplinary dialogue with other fields such as transhumanism feminist gender and queer theory vulnerability studies new materialism critical animal studies and environmental theory the scholars whose work this volume showcases bear witness to how literature and popular culture have been influenced and impressed by posthumanism Chapters 1 5 7 8 and 12 are available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4 0 International License via Springerlink

The Debilitating Duo Roche Coleman,2023-10-02 Is it possible to violate God's moral law without experiencing guilt and shame Can a person silence their conscience from the strange emotions that emerge when one sins An examination of the original design of humanity in the imago Dei suggests one cannot sin and avoid the debilitating duo Humanity is created to live within the moral structure established by God Therefore a violation of the divine laws which is sin leads to guilt and shame The strange emotions were innate sensation imparted to humanity to stop rebellion against the moral laws and to compel an offender to acknowledge the offense through the confession of sin Unconfessed sin debilitates the physical and mental functions of a person created in the image of God Guilt and shame are the strange emotions that serve as mental guardians for an individual as well as for the society in general The duo was given as silent deterrents to immoral behaviors
