From Kites to Cold War Tyler W Morton, 2019-10-15 From Kites to Cold War tells the story of the evolution of manned airborne reconnaissance Long a desire of military commanders the ability to see the terrain ahead and gain foreknowledge of enemy intent was realized when Chinese airmen mounted kites to surveil their surroundings Kite technology was slow to spread and by the late nineteenth century European nations had developed the balloon and airship to conduct this mission By 1918 it was obvious that the airplane had become the reconnaissance platform of the future Used successfully by many nations during the Great War aircraft technology and capability experienced its most rapid evolutionary period during World War II Entering the war with just basic airborne imagery capabilities by V E and V J days air power pioneers greatly improved imagery collection and developed sophisticated airborne signals intelligence collection capabilities The United States and other nations put these capabilities to use as the Cold War immediately followed Flying near the periphery of and sometimes directly over the Soviet Union airborne reconnaissance provided the intelligence necessary to stay one step ahead of the Soviets throughout the Cold War

Oswald Boelcke R.G. Head, 2016-08-05 This biography of the pioneering WWI flying ace who mentored the Red Baron is fascinating it captures combat aviation at its inception MiG Sweep The Magazine of Aviation Warriors With a total of forty victories Oswald Boelcke was Germany's first ace in World War I and a century later he remains a towering figure in the history of air warfare renowned for his character inspirational leadership organizational genius development of air to air tactics and impact on aerial doctrine Paving the way for modern air forces across the world with his pioneering strategies Boelcke had a dramatic effect on his contemporaries The famed Red Baron's mentor instructor squadron commander and friend he exerted a tremendous influence upon the German air force He was one of the first pilots to be awarded the famous Pour le Mérite commonly recognized as the Blue Max All of this was achieved after overcoming medical obstacles in childhood and later life with willpower and determination Boelcke even gained the admiration of his enemies After his tragic death in a midair collision Britain's Royal Flying Corps dropped a wreath on his funeral and several of his captured foes sent another wreath from their German prison camp His name and legacy live on as seen in the Luftwaffe's designation of the Tactical Air Force Wing 31 Boelcke This definitive biography reveals his importance as a fighter pilot who set the standard in military aviation FE 2b/d vs Albatros Scouts

James F. Miller, 2014-01-20 In the spring of 1916 the deployment of the RFC's FE 2 with its rotary engine pusher configuration affording excellent visibility for its pilot and observer and removing the need for synchronized machine guns helped wrest aerial dominance from Imperial Germany's Fokker Eindecker monoplanes and then contributed to retaining it throughout the Somme battles of that fateful summer However by autumn German reorganization saw the birth of the Jagdstaffeln specialised fighter squadrons and the arrival of the new Albatros D scout a sleek inline engined machine built for speed and twin gun firepower Thus for the remainder of 1916 and well into the next year an epic struggle for aerial superiority raged above the horrors of the Somme and Passchendaele battlefields pitting the FE 2 against the better armed and faster Albatros scouts that were focused on attacking and destroying their two seater opponents In the end the Germans would regain air superiority and hold it into the following summer with the employment of their new Jagdgeschwader larger fighter groupings but the FE 2 remained a tenacious foe that inflicted many casualties some of whom were Germany's best aces including The Red Baron
