Nine Billion Names Of God:

The Nine Billion Names of God Arthur Charles Clarke, 1967 Many of the stories in this collection have appeared previously in various publications The Nine Billion Names of God Arthur Charles Clarke, 1988 Looking Awry Slavoj Žižek, 1992-09-08 Slavoj Žižek a leading intellectual in the new social movements that are sweeping Eastern Europe provides a virtuoso reading of Jacques Lacan Žižek inverts current pedagogical strategies to explain the difficult philosophical underpinnings of the French theoretician and practitioner who revolutionized our view of psychoanalysis He approaches Lacan through the motifs and works of contemporary popular culture from Hitchcock's Vertigo to Stephen King's Pet Sematary from McCullough's An Indecent Obsession to Romero's Return of the Living Dead a strategy of looking awry that recalls the exhilarating and vital experience of Lacan Žižek discovers fundamental Lacanian categories the triad Imaginary Symbolic Real the object small a the opposition of drive and desire the split subject at work in horror fiction in detective thrillers in romances in the mass media's perception of ecological crisis and above all in Alfred Hitchcock's films The playfulness of Žižek's text however is entirely different from that associated with the deconstructive approach made famous by Derrida By clarifying what Lacan is saying as well as what he is not saying Žižek is uniquely able to distinguish Lacan from the poststructuralists who so often claim him The Nine Billion Names of God and Other Stories, 1951-1956 Arthur C. Clarke, 1974-06-01 This volume is of special interest included are a wide range of classic stories including the title story Jupiter Five The Deep Range Second Dawn and the earliest of the splendidly comic narratives told by Harry Purvis for the benefit of the denizens of the White Hart Nine Billion Names of God ; the Best Short Stories ... Arthur Charles Clarke, Arthur C Clarke has long been considered the greatest science fiction writer of all time He was an international treasure in many other ways including the fact that a 1945 article by him led to the invention of satellite technology Books by Clarke both fiction and nonfiction have sold more than one hundred million copies worldwide He died in 2008 The Unfolding Mystery of the Divine Name Michael P. Knowles, 2012-08-24 When Moses asked God to show him his glory the Lord passed before him and proclaimed his name And from that name cascaded a promise of grace and love compassion and faithfulness forgiveness and slowness to anger The story is told in Exodus 34:5-7 but the resonant name reverberates through the corridors of Scripture Michael Knowles teases out the rich dimensions and implications of this name by listening carefully to Exodus 34 and its biblical echoes He particularly tunes his ear to the spiritual meditations of later sages In tracing the unfolding mystery of the divine name throughout the span of Israel's story he finds it startlingly resolved in the God of Sinai becoming present in our midst The manifold name of God has long captivated those who trace their spiritual ancestry to Abraham whether they are Jewish Christian or Muslim This book brings this spiritual quest into dialogue with Scripture and tradition and invites us to experience this God of the eternal name The Perfect Crime Jean Baudrillard, 2020-05-05 In his new book perhaps the most cogent expression of his mature thought Jean Baudrillard turns detective in order to investigate a crime which he hopes may yet be solved the murder of reality To solve the crime would be to unravel the social and technological processes by which reality has quite simply vanished under the deadly glare of media real time But Baudrillard is not merely intending to lament the disappearance of the real an occurrence he recently described as the most important event of modern history nor even to meditate upon the paradoxes of reality and illusion truth and its masks The Perfect Crime is also the work of a great moraliste a penetrating examination of vital aspects of the social political and cultural life of the advanced democracies in the very late twentieth century Where critics like McLuhan once exposed the alienating consequences of the medium Baudrillard lays bare the depredatory effects of an oppressive transparency on our social lives of a relentless positivity on our critical faculties and of a withering high definition on our very sense of reality The Nine Billion Names of God Arthur Charles Clarke, 1987 A selection of what he considers to be his best short stories is presented by this leading science fiction writer All the Names of the Lord Valentina Izmirlieva, 2008-09-15 Christians face a conundrum when it comes to naming God for if God is unnamable as theologians maintain he can also be called by every name His proper name is thus an open ended all encompassing list a mystery the Church embraces in its rhetoric but which many Christians have found difficult to accept To explore this conflict Valentina Izmirlieva examines two lists of God's names one from The Divine Names the classic treatise by Pseudo Dionysius and the other from The 72 Names of the Lord an amulet whose history binds together Kabbalah and Christianity Jews and Slavs Palestine Provence and the Balkans This unexpected juxtaposition of a theological treatise and a magical amulet allows Izmirlieva to reveal lists rhetorical potential to create order and to function as both tools of knowledge and of power Despite the two different visions of order represented by each list Izmirlieva finds that their uses in Christian practice point to a complementary relationship between the existential need for God's protection and the metaphysical desire to submit to his infinite majesty a compelling claim sure to provoke discussion among scholars in many fields The Sixth Science Fiction MEGAPACK® Johnston McCulley, Arthur C.
