The Philosophy of Motion Pictures Noël Carroll, 2007-12-26 Philosophy of Motion Pictures is a first of its kind, bottom-up introduction to this burgeoning field of study. Topics include film as art, medium specificity, defining motion pictures, representation, editing, narrative, emotion, and evaluation. Clearly written and supported with a wealth of examples, it explores characterizations of key elements of motion pictures: the shot, the sequence, the erotetic narrative, and its modes of affective address The Palgrave Handbook of the Philosophy of Film and Motion Pictures Noël Carroll, Laura T. Di Summa, Shawn Loht, 2019-10-30 This handbook brings together essays in the philosophy of film and motion pictures from authorities across the spectrum It boasts contributions from philosophers and film theorists alike with many essays employing pluralist approaches to this interdisciplinary subject Core areas treated include film ontology film structure psychology authorship narrative and viewer emotion Emerging areas of interest including virtual reality video games and nonfictional and autobiographical film also have dedicated chapters Other areas of focus include the film medium s intersection with contemporary social issues film s kinship to other art forms and the influence of historically seminal schools of thought in the philosophy of film Of emphasis in many of the essays is the relationship and overlap of analytic and continental perspectives in this subject Philosophy and Film Christina Rawls, Diana Neiva, Steven S. Gouveia, 2019-04-25 This volume collects twenty original essays on the philosophy of film It uniquely brings together scholars working across a range of philosophical traditions and academic disciplines to broaden and advance debates on film and philosophy The book includes contributions from a number of prominent philosophers of film including Noël Carroll Chris Falzon Deborah Knight Paisley Livingston Robert Sinnerbrink Malcolm Turvey and Thomas Wartenberg While the topics explored by the contributors are diverse there are a number of thematic threads that connect them Overall the book seeks to bridge analytic and continental approaches to philosophy of film in fruitful ways Moving to the individual essays the first two sections offer novel takes on the philosophical value and the nature of film The next section focuses on the film as philosophy debate Section IV covers cinematic experience while Section V includes interpretations of individual films that touch on questions of artificial intelligence race and film and cinema s biopolitical potential Finally the last section proposes new avenues for future research on the moving image beyond film This book will appeal to a broad range of scholars working in film studies theory and philosophy The Philosophy of War Films David LaRocca, 2015-01-06 Wars have played a momentous role in shaping the course of human history The ever present specter of conflict has made it an enduring topic of interest in popular culture and many movies from Hollywood blockbusters to independent films have sought to show the complexities and horrors of war on screen In The Philosophy of War Films David LaRocca compiles a series of essays by prominent scholars that examine the impact of representing war in film and the influence that cinematic images of battle have on human consciousness belief and action The contributors explore a variety of topics including the aesthetics of war as portrayed on screen the effect war has on personal identity and the ethical problems presented by war Drawing upon analyses of iconic and critically acclaimed war films such as Saving Private Ryan 1998 The Thin Red Line 1998 Rescue Dawn 2006 Restrepo 2010 and Zero Dark Thirty 2012 this volume s examination of the genre creates new ways of thinking about the philosophy of war A fascinating look at the manner in which combat and its aftermath are depicted cinematically The Philosophy of War Films is a timely and engaging read for any philosopher filmmaker reader or viewer who desires a deeper understanding of war and its representation in popular culture Cinema, Philosophy, Bergman Paisley Livingston, 2009-07-02 The increasingly popular idea that cinematic fictions can do philosophy raises some difficult questions Who is actually doing the philosophizing Is it the philosophical commentator who reads general arguments or theories into the stories conveyed by a film Could it be the film maker or a group of collaborating film makers who raise and try to answer philosophical questions with a film Is there something about the experience of films that is especially suited to the stimulation of worthwhile philosophical reflections In the first part of this book Paisley Livingston surveys positions and arguments surrounding the cinema's philosophical value He raises criticisms of bold theses in this area and defends a moderate view of film's possible contributions to philosophy In the second part of the book he defends an intentionalist approach that focuses on the film makers philosophical background assumptions sources and aims Livingston outlines intentionalist interpretative principles as well as an account of authorship in cinema The third part of the book exemplifies this intentionalist approach with reference to the work of Ingmar Bergman Livingston explores the connection between Bergman's work and the Swedish director's primary philosophical source a treatise in philosophical psychology authored by the Finnish philosopher Eino Kaila Bergman proclaimed that reading this book was a tremendous philosophical experience for him and that he built on this ground With reference to materials in the newly created Ingmar Bergman archive Livingston shows how Bergman took up Kaila's topics in his cinematic explorations of motivated irrationality inauthenticity and the problem of self knowledge Darren Aronofsky's Films and the Fragility of Hope Jadranka Skorin-Kapov, 2015-11-19 Darren Aronofsky's Films and the Fragility of Hope offers the first sustained analysis of the current oeuvre of the film director screenwriter and producer Darren Aronofsky Including Pi 1998 Requiem for a Dream 2000 The Fountain 2006 The Wrestler 2008 Black Swan 2010 and Noah 2014 Aronofsky's filmography is discussed with respect to his style and the themes of his films making astute connections with the work of other directors other movies and works of art and connecting his films with other disciplines such as math philosophy psychology and art history Jadranka Skorin Kapov deploys her background in philosophy and math to analyze an American filmmaker with an individual voice working on both independent productions and big budget Hollywood films Aronofsky is revealed to be a philosopher's director considering the themes of life and death addiction and obsession sacrifice and the fragility of hope Skorin Kapov discusses his ability to visually present challenging intersections between art and philosophy Concluding with a transcript of a conversation between the author and Aronofsky himself Darren Aronofsky's Films and the Fragility of Hope is a much needed study on this American auteur Homo Ludens as a Comic Character in Selected American Films Artur Skweres, 2016-10-25 This book reveals the hitherto critically disregarded ludic elements in popular American comedy films building on and expanding the theories developed by Johan Huizinga in his classic study Homo Ludens 1938 and Roger Caillois in Les jeux et les hommes 1958 To address the lack of attention paid to the play principle in film comedy studies this book focuses exclusively on the elements typical of play that can be found in movies It introduces two new categories describing play neiros and pragma which allow analysis of how play in comedies is influenced by the relations between the player and non players The text is supplemented by the use of the author's drawings which because of their analytical and selective nature are used as a tool for visual study The play principle has a long tradition in American humor and the films examined here were chosen for their popularity and wide appeal often acting as vehicles for Hollywood stars e g Chevy Chase Dan Aykroyd Bill Murray Steve Martin Eddie Murphy Goldie Hawn Mike Myers Jackie Chan or Chris Tucker The actors status allowed the filmmakers to construct situations in which the protagonists distanced themselves from the fictional situation It is argued that the playful detachment from reality typifying many of the fictional characters portrayed by actors with star status is characteristic of the play principle in film Another major consideration is the hotly debated notion of the accomplishment of goals in playful activities and the book strongly supports the position that in narratives play can but does not have to yield important results The introduction of the categories of neiros and pragma in play serves to highlight the complex relation between playfulness and practicality in the films discussed Building on a comprehensive analysis of the ludic elements in selected popular American comedies the book makes an important contribution to film studies providing a unique perspective through its focus on the concept of homo ludens as a comic hero
