Security Insecurity And Migration In Europe Research In Migration And Ethnic Relations:

Security, Insecurity and Migration in Europe Gabriella Lazaridis, 2016-04-01 Having often been framed in terms of security concerns migration issues have simultaneously given rise to issues of insecurity on the one hand security of borders political societal and economic security insecurity in the host country on the other social legal and economic concerns about human security with regard to both EU citizens and migrants entering Europe In terms of state security migration is a core target of increasingly globally networked surveillance capabilities whilst with respect to human security it exposes the gap between the protections that migrants formally enjoy under international law and the realities they experience as they travel and work across different countries Drawing on the latest research from across the EU Security Insecurity and Migration explores the concerns of states with regard to migration and the need to protect the fundamental rights of migrants An interdisciplinary examination of the issues of security and insecurity raised by migration for states their citizens and migrants themselves this book will be of interest to scholars of politics sociology and geography researching migration race and ethnicity human and state security and EU politics and policy Security, Insecurity and Migration in Europe Gabriella Lazaridis, 2011

The European Union Returns Directive and its Compatibility with International Human Rights Law Izabella Majcher, 2019-11-26 The book undertakes a thorough human rights assessment of the EU Returns Directive The overarching human rights framework which circumscribes states prerogatives in the context of expulsion builds upon obligations derived from the principle of non refoulement the right to life respect for family and private life effective remedy basic social rights the prohibition of torture and ill treatment and protection against arbitrary detention and collective expulsion Based on this assessment Majcher explores several protection gaps in the EU return policy which may result in violations of migrants rights and highlights how the provisions of the Directive should be implemented in line with member states human rights obligations Informed by this assessment the book discusses amendments to the Directive proposed by the European Commission in September 2018 By examining the European Union EU Returns Directive in the light of international and European human rights law Izabella Majcher thoroughly explores and analyses the requirements the EU member states authorities must guarantee migrants in an irregular situation when they adopt and implement return decisions entry bans pre removal detention and removal Marie Laure Basilien Gainche Professor of public international law University Jean Moulin Lyon 3 Honorary member of the Institut universitaire de France

Irregular Migrant Domestic Workers in Europe Professor Anna Triandafyllidou, 2013-03-28 With specific attention to irregular migrant workers that is to say those without legal permits to stay in the countries in which they work this volume focuses on domestic work presenting studies from ten European countries including Belgium France Germany Greece Ireland Italy the Netherlands and Spain Offering a comparative analysis of irregular migrants engaged in all kinds of domestic work the authors explore questions relating to employment conditions health issues and the family lives of migrants The book examines the living and working conditions of irregular migrant domestic workers their relations with employers their access to basic rights such as sick leave sick pay and holiday pay as well as access to health services Close consideration is also given to the challenges for family life presented by workers status as irregular migrants with regard to their lives both in their countries of origin and with their employers Through analyses of the often blurred distinction between legality and illegality the notion of a career in domestic work and the policy responses of European nations to the growth of irregular migrant domestic work this volume offers various conceptual developments in the study of migration and domestic work As such it will appeal to sociologists political scientists geographers and anthropologists with interests in migration gender the family and domestic work

Media in Motion Elisabeth Eide, 2016-04-29 Owing to increased migration dating from the 1990s Nordic countries have gone through substantial cultural and social changes resulting in increased debate surrounding the politics of multiculturalism One of the central realms of the discussion around multiculturalism in the Nordic region concerns the media which is considered to be a vital factor in the construction of society's values as well as an essential tool in the integration process of migrants providing as it does a symbolic arena for learning about and becoming part of society This collection draws together the latest research from Denmark Finland Norway and Sweden to look at different aspects of the relationship between media and migration in the Nordic region Exploring the role played by the media in nation building and the power of the media in the definition of who belongs in society Media in Motion examines the practices of inclusion and exclusion that characterise mainstream media representations The book also examines the manner in which recent technological changes suggest the emergence of a transnational and cosmopolitan media landscape a space which blurs the boundaries of the national and transnational as well as between the public and the private with significant implications for the ways migrants may take and become part of society As such it will be of interest to those working in the fields of media race and ethnicity colonialism and postcolonial studies and migration

Migrants and Cities Margit Fauser, 2016-04-22 Migrants have organized at all times and in all cities and places The processes of their accommodation however differ with local authorities and other state institutions playing an important role in these processes Offering comprehensive empirical insights both from recent sites of immigration in Southern Europe as well as from places of more established immigration in the north this book examines the accommodation of migrant organizations in different cities and the factors that affect this process It thus sheds light on the manner in which the interplay of immigration regime national integration policy and local responses shape the differing patterns and trajectories observed in the formation and action of migrant organizations across Europe

Human Security and Migration in Europe's Southern Borders Susana Ferreira, 2018-12-13 This book examines the management of migratory flows in the Mediterranean within an international security perspective The intense migratory flows registered during the year 2015 and the tragedies in the Mediterranean Sea have tested the mechanisms of the Union's immigration and asylum policies and its ability to respond to humanitarian crises Moreover these flows of varying intensities and geographies represent a threat to the internal security of the EU and its member states By using Spain and Italy as case studies the author theorizes that the EU given its inability to adopt and implement a common policy to effectively manage migratory flows on its Southern border uses a deterrence strategy based on minimum common denominators

Irregular Migrant Domestic Workers in Europe Anna Triandafyllidou, 2016-05-06 With specific attention to irregular migrant workers that is to say those without legal permits to stay in the countries in which they work this volume focuses on domestic work presenting studies from ten European countries including Belgium France Germany Greece Ireland Italy the Netherlands and Spain Offering a comparative analysis of irregular migrants engaged in all kinds of domestic work the authors explore questions relating to employment conditions health issues and the family lives of migrants The book examines the living and working conditions of irregular migrant domestic workers their relations with employers their access to basic rights such as sick leave sick pay and holiday pay as well as access to health services Close consideration is also given to the challenges for family life presented by workers status as irregular migrants with regard to their lives both in their countries of origin and with their employers Through analyses of the often blurred distinction between legality and illegality the notion of a career in domestic work and the policy responses of European nations to the growth of irregular migrant domestic work this volume offers various conceptual developments in the study of migration and domestic work As such it will appeal to sociologists political scientists geographers and anthropologists with interests in migration gender the family and domestic work

Managing Ethnic Diversity After 9/11 Ariane Chebel d'Appollonia, Simon Reich, 2010 America's approach to terrorism has focused on traditional national security methods under the assumption that terrorism's roots are foreign and the solution to greater security lies in conventional practices Europe offers a different model with its response to internal terrorism relying on police procedures Managing Ethnic Diversity after 9 11 compares these two strategies and considers that both may have engendered greater radicalization and a greater chance of home grown terrorism Essays address how transatlantic countries including the United Kingdom the United States France Germany Spain Italy and the Netherlands have integrated ethnic minorities especially Arabs and Muslims since 9 11 Discussing the securitization of integration contributors argue that the neglect of civil integration has challenged the rights of these minorities and has made greater security more remote

Ethnic Diversity and Social Cohesion Merlin Schaeffer, 2016-05-23 Exploring the debate within social sciences on the consequences of ethnic diversity for social cohesion and the production of public goods this book draws on extensive survey data from Germany to engage with questions surrounding the relationship between ethnic diversity and issues such as welfare provision and the erosion of public trust and civic engagement in Europe It moves away from the question of whether there is in fact a universal correlation between ethnic diversity and social cohesion in order to focus on the reasons for which people's reciprocity and trust might be reduced in more ethnically diverse areas Drawing attention to the importance of people's perceptions of diversity in explaining levels of social cohesion Ethnic Diversity and Social Cohesion shows how specific types of perceived diversity can help explain the reasons for which ethnic diversity is associated with declines in social cohesion and the contexts and conditions in which this occurs. The book also outlines potential courses of action revealing the important roles of residential segregation, children and interethnic partners in overcoming barriers of language, values and cognitive bias. A rigorous, timely study of ethnic diversity and its relation to liberal democracy as a form of deliberative conflict that requires certain levels of trust, shared values and engagement. Ethnic Diversity and Social Cohesion will be of interest to policy makers, sociologists and political scientists working in the fields of race and migration, ethnic diversity and community cohesion.
